I.—The Scope of Domestic Science.

By EDITH G. CHARLTON, In Charge of Domestic Economy, Iowa State College.

Copyright, 1910, by American Press Association.

THE purpose of this series of articles will be an attempt to show the direct relation between domestic science and ordinary affairs in the life of either men or women. Too many people have conceived the idea that domestic science chiefly concerns those people who have more time for theorizing than for actual work. These think the subject deals largely with air castles of the Bellamy style of architecture and contains little real help for present day homemakers. There are some who still hold the opinion that such is the meaning and scope of domestic science, but their number is rapidly decreasing on account of the introduction of the study of scientific homemaking into public schools, high schools and colleges. To be an aid to housekeepers who cannot take advantage of these courses of study as prescribed in schools and colleges is the aim of this series of talks.

One of the chief purposes of domestic science is to teach men and women how to live rightly, how to use material things in such a way as to get the highest good, the best results, from them. The science concerns men quite as much as women, and it means much more than the commonly accepted idea that it has most to do with cooking and eating and washing dishes. These things are of course included in the study and, I assure you, that even these exceedingly common affairs of life are deserving of a higher place in the wonderful process of living than is usually accorded them.

Life is a serious business, and nothing which pertains to it is either a joke or a trifle. Therefore anything which helps to give even the common-

HERE AND THERE.

New Features of the Spring Corset, Fichus Modiah. The newest corsets preserve or mold the natural figure lines—the low, unconfined bust; the curveless waist, with the diaphragm slightly full; the perfect, curveless and slender hip line. All of the new corsets are more flexible. Transparent fichus are worn over the prettiness of young shoulders, and their value in the toilet of madam is great. There are many pretty bordered materials this spring, but none is better adapted to young girls' use than mar-

THE JUICY SAUSAGE. In these days, when almost every family has one of the little meat or vegetable choppers, it is possible to turn out your own sausage meat and to enjoy at moderate price a quality such as can only be bought in the best shops at the highest price. To make sausage meat some of the less expensive cuts of pork will do just as well as the higher priced ones. Fat and lean must be mixed in about the proportion of one part of fat to two or three of lean.

The seasoning of sausage is largely a matter of taste. Some persons like onion juice, others prefer sage, and some folks like it with no seasoning but salt and pepper.

An Old Fashioned Recipe.—Use six pounds of lean fresh pork and three pounds of fat. Take twelve teaspoonfuls of powdered sage, six teaspoonfuls of black pepper, six teaspoonfuls of salt, two teaspoonfuls of powdered cloves, two teaspoonfuls of powdered mace, one grated nutmeg. Mix the spices together and then add to the pork. Run the meat and spices together through the chopper, mixing them so that the sausage will be well seasoned. For keeping pack the meat in a stone jar and run over it a crust of melted lard or wax. When ready to cook form the sausage meat into small cakes and fry in their own fat.

By having or quartering the quantity of the ingredients you can make a smaller amount of sausage meat. Some Sausage Dainties. Baked Sausage.—Boil and mash a half dozen good sized potatoes. Season with salt and pepper. Spread in a baking dish and make up about a pound of sausage meat into cakes. Lay the cakes on top of the potatoes in the dish and place in a hot oven. Turn the sausages so that both sides may be well browned. Serve in the dish, garnishing the top with celery leaves or sprigs of parsley.

LAND LAWS PROPOSED

Eugene Socialists Approve Revolutionary Measure. Eugene.—Admitting that the plan is revolutionary, and furthermore admitting that chances are against its adoption at this time, J. W. S. Scott, of this city, has secured the indorsement of the Eugene socialist local to a project to initiate a law giving the state the power to seize unoccupied or rented lands and sell the same to any who may wish to use the lands.

A resolution outlining the plan has been sent to the socialist headquarters in Portland and will be sent to other locals over the state. If it is approved by these, steps will be taken to draft a bill and have the question placed on the ballot for November.

Man Falls Far to Death. The Dalles.—Falling from the Oregon Trunk railroad bridge at Celilo to the rocks below, a distance of 60 feet, Le Roy Wisner met a horrible death. RIVER RIGHTS STUDIED

Deschutes Problems Taken Up By State Engineers. Bend.—Work to obtain adjudication of the water rights of the Deschutes river has been begun by State Engineer Lewis, according to George T. Cochran, superintendent of water district No. 2, who was here making arrangements for the work, which is acknowledged to be a task that may require several years' labor.

R. G. Wygant, an assistant state engineer, is in Prineville collecting data from the county records, preparatory to commencing the work of map making and surveying the river. This surveying probably will commence within a few weeks, and is to include a thorough mapping of the entire Deschutes river from Crane Prairie, at its headwaters, to the Columbia, a distance of over 200 miles.

No Weddings in 40 Days. Hood River.—For 40 days not a marriage license has been issued in Hood River county and all records for continued inactivity in this respect have been broken here. County Clerk Hanson has not issued a marriage license since February 5.

Newport Man Drowned. Newport.—K. D. Woodford, of this place, was drowned in the Big Elk River about six miles above Elk City, while engaged in rafting logs to Elk City mill. The body has not yet been recovered.

Plank Gets $3750. Eugene.—The jury in the case of W. S. Plank vs. W. P. Morse, wherein Plank sued Morse for $10,000 for alleged alienation of his wife's affections, returned a verdict in favor of the plaintiff for $3750.

ESCAPED CONVICTS KILLED BY OFFICERS

Fierce Battle Ends Hunt for Jailbreakers Who Murdered Penitentiary Officials.

Omaha, Neb.—Two of the convicts, John Dowd and John Taylor, alias "Shorty" Gray, who escaped last Thursday from the state penitentiary at Lincoln, and Roy Blunt, an innocent victim of the murderous attempt to secure liberty, are dead as the result of an exciting battle between the convicts and officers.

Charles Morley, the third member of the trio which escaped from the state prison, after killing three officials of that institution, saved his life by surrendering after a running battle over two and a half miles of country. The three convicts were within striking distance of the goal which they hoped might secure their safety when the final desperate struggle for liberty occurred. They had covered the stretch from Lincoln to within ten miles of the Omaha limits, where they had expected to receive the protection of friends.

The telephone operator at Gretna, about 15 miles south of here, gave notice of the presence in that vicinity of the desperate men. This message brought out several posses. Chief Briggs, of South Omaha, and his deputy, John C. Trouton, were leaders in the party which finally vanquished the three convicts.

Wappenstein to Serve.

Olympia, Wash.—The supreme court affirmed the conviction of Chas. W. Wappenstein, ex-Chief of Police of Seattle, on a charge of accepting a bribe. Wappenstein was sentenced to serve from three to ten years at hard labor at Walla Walla state prison.
