GRAMMAR SCHOOL LOSES ANOTHER

Locals Team Falls Easy Prey to Shaver School Team.

Outclassed in every department of the game, the Lents team of the Grammar School League lost to the Shaver club this week by a score of 16 to 4. Although the locals have been training vigorously and consistently for the game, they were no match for their opponents.

This is the second game lost by the Lents team in the final series of the Grammar School League, and unless the team is greatly strengthened they will stand no chance of finishing in first place.

LENTS PLAYS W. H. TEAM SUNDAY

Lents' league team of the A. W. League will try conclusions with the club representing the Western Hardware Co. next Sunday afternoon. Smarting from the defeat of last Sunday at the hands of the Crescents, the locals are determined to avenge the defeat by gaining a decisive victory in the coming game, and the sporting editor predicts that they will do it.

INSTALL SAWMILL AT BULL RUN

A new sawmill is being installed at Bull Run by P. F. Tappendorf. The plant was moved in last week and is installed at a point near the scene of the new dam being constructed by the P. R. L. & P. Co. The new mill will furnish lumber for the dam and will be in active operations for the next six months. It is estimated that 2,000,000 feet of lumber will be used in the construction of the dam.

Bull Run is now a busy point and the extensive improvements being made there make it one of the busiest in Eastern Multnomah county.

CRESENTS WIN CLOSE CONTEST

Lents Gets Small End of 3 to 0 Score—Twirling Remarkable.

The few fans who journeyed to the ball park Sunday afternoon were treated to a battle royal between the Lents team and the Crescents of the A. W. League. Although the locals lost the contest by a 3 to 0 score and dropped their first game during the season, they played a game that was well worth witnessing and their defeat was not disgraceful.

The contest from beginning to end was a pitchers' battle between Cregg, of the Crescents and Mat. Boland, of the locals. Boland had the better of the argument and established the remarkable record of 20 strikeouts. In addition he allowed only three safe hits. That he lost the game seems unreasonable, but was due to the inability of his teammates to hit the ball when hits meant runs. Cregg, who occupied the mound for the visitors, twirled an effective game and was master of the situation at all times. He allowed only six safe hits and whiffed 12 of the opposing batters. Cregg was decidedly effective in pinches.

In the first inning neither side scored. In their half of the second the Crescents scored the only runs of the game. T. Burke hit safely; Crosby went to the bench via strikeout route; Galvin reached first error, advancing Burke to second; Nelson let his anatomy connect with one, filling the bases; Lind drove one to right field and Johnson, to whom the ball was relayed, threw wild to catcher Boland, allowing both Burke and Crosby to score. Cregg fanned and McKenney hit safe, scoring Nelson. Boland whiffed Barr, ending the inning. Had it not been for Johnson's wild heave only one score would have been recorded.

From that chapter until the ninth there was nothing doing in the score line. Both teams tightened up and played championship ball, giving the fans a taste of the national game as played by the big leagues. In the third, Lents had an opportunity to score, when Clark reached first on an error and Wm. Boland followed with a safe hit, but Clark was caught at third. Oattie then drove out a safe one, but all hopes for a run died when Mat. Boland and Johnson whiffed the ozone three successive times, retiring the side. The locals had another excellent opportunity for a score in the seventh, but inability to hit by Oattie and Johnson spoiled the chance. Clark reached first on a dead ball and was forced out at second, Boland going to first. Matt Boland hit a safe one. Bill going to second and thence to third on a wild pitch. Mat Boland purloined second and here Lents had a man on third and one on second with only one out, when Oattie and Johnson fanned.

After the second inning only three Crescent runners ever reached the first station. Boland fanned nine men in succession in the fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth innings, and in the ninth he sent three batters to the bench through their inability to connect.

Both teams have been leading the league and neither had lost a game, this being the first contest between the two during the season, and from all appearances there will be several bang-up good games between the two before the pennant is landed. The Crescent team is composed of several youngsters, some of whom are barely in their teens, but they had the ginger and give their battery good support. They are a gentlemanly set of young fellows and their next appearance on the local diamond will be greeted with a good attendance.

Aside from the second inning the locals played their usual good game, but after being thrown in the rear seemed unable to connect at opportune times. Boland deserved to win his game, for it is doubtful if a better exhibition of twirling has been witnessed on the Lents diamond. The double umpire system was used, and while there was some dissension during the game, everything considered the umpiring was fair to both sides.
