CHERRYVILLE

As fair as the flowers of May. These bright balmy days are finer than silk. A bonfire party was enjoyed by pretty much the whole neighborhood at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Pugh last Saturday night. The public sale at J. T. Friel Sr. last Tuesday drew a large crowd and every thing brought a big price, especially the cattle which were higher than a cat's back. What's the matter with the stock business in Oregon anyway, when some cattle around here 3 and 4 years old have never been fed a mouthful but lived and have become fat and sleek on the range, not costing their owners a penny and will now bring all kinds of money.

One of the opportunities here is the manufacturing of these Alder trees into spoons and furniture. Light, and easily worked and not subject to checking, it makes beautiful furniture and can easily be steamed and varnished to resemble black walnut and other high priced timber. It can be obtained at next to nothing. The vine maple with its beautiful pea-green color makes the strongest and most beautiful rustic furniture imaginable and for wagon tongues, everters, whiffletrees, neck yokes, fork handle, spokes it can not be beat.

"Pioneer" lands hard on "ye scribe" on his boost for Dr. Lane as U. S. Senator. The writer intended to say that he was of the same heroic nature as that earlier Lane who, at Champoeg in 1843, when a vote seemed to indicate that a majority were for becoming a part of Great Britain, when the voice of Lane called all present who were in favor of becoming a part of the United States to step across a line marked by Lane. When a large majority stepped across the line and Oregon was saved by the nimble wit and ready resourcefulness of Lane just as the present Lane will save the Oregon of to-day from the greedy land grabbers and bloody thirsty grafters and brutal corporations that are holding it in check and retarding its growth and development into one of the greatest and grandest countries on earth.

The writer has an offer to go back East and get on the "firry line" for Champ Clark in an old established and thoroughly equipped newspaper office but the idea of leaving Oregon in the glorious good old summer time with its matchless blue skies, unrivalled scenery and delightful weather is especially repugnant. However the smoke of the terrific battle impending is in sight and no true American ought to be idle or silent.

The Demons Of The Swamp

are mosquitos. As they sting they put deadly malaria germs in the blood. Then follow the icy chills and the fires of fever. The appetite flies and the strength fails; also malaria often paves the way for deadly typhoid. But Electric Bitters kill and cast out the malaria germs from the blood; give you a fine appetite and renew your strength. "After long suffering," wrote Wm. Fretwell, of Lucama, N. C., "three bottles drove all the malaria from my system, and I've had good health ever since." Best for all stomach, liver and kidney ills. 50 cts. at all dealers.
