COLUMBIA HEIGHTS

The residents of The Heights and near by neighborhood turned out in full force last Saturday night to inspect the new barn of Mr. James Ross, and it was duly initiated. A large gathering of merry dancers did their best to see the barn floor smooth before they left. The hostess, Mrs. James Ross, served a dainty lunch at midnight to all. The barn was built by Mr. Axtell of Fairview, at a large figure and is modern in every way.

Miss Grace Ferguson and little sister, of St Johns, were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Kneviern.

Mrs. White, of Los Angeles, and Mrs. Owen, of Seattle, were visiting at James Ross last week.

Mrs. W. Hicks was in the city last Monday.

Miss Ferguson has been engaged to teach the school at Egypt, for the coming term.

Mr. Henry Shoults, of Latourelle Falls, was trying his new auto on The Heights last week.

Mr. Taylor spent Saturday and Sunday at his ranch here.

Mr. James Pounder is busy excavating for his new concrete residence which he aims to have completed before this Fall.

Mrs. Sarah Kingcaid, who has been ill for a long time, was removed to the coast a short time ago, but the change failed to help her and she died last Friday. She has been a resident of Springdale for a good many years, and is the mother of Arthur Kingcaid of that place.

PLEASANT HOME.

Miss Ida Miller has returned home from a visit of several weeks in Southern Oregon.

Mrs. Swindler, of Portland, visited her sister-in-law, Mrs. Breeden, the last of the week.

Rev. Black, of Portland, preached at the Baptist church at Cottrell Sunday morning and evening.

A valuable mare belonging to Chas. Hunter fell into a thirty-foot well last Friday morning and it took some work to get her out. But get her out they did and she seems not much the worse.

Grandma Carpenter and Mrs. Lake visited Geo. Carpenter's Saturday. Grandma C. returned home with them.

The old butchers, the Andrews Bros., have charge of the meat shop again.

The well drilling company go next to drill a well for Mr. Cowles, three or four miles north from Pleasant Home.

Mrs. B. L. Northup and children expect to leave soon for Hoquiam, Wash.

Miss Zelma Coss, of Portland, visited friends here last week.

Geo. Calvin spent the week with his brother Roy. They took a trip up to Bull Run for an outing.

LUSTED

Walter Lusted visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. Lusted over Sunday this week.

Harris Hamilton, Irvin Neibaner and his sister, Lena attended the surprise party at Mrs. A. J. Stone's, near Anderson station, last Saturday evening and report an enjoyable time.

W. Davis was a Sandy visitor one day last week.

Grain will be ready to cut quite a bit earlier this year in these parts.

Alfred Whitenedes, of Portland, returned home after a three weeks' visit with his uncle, Ed. Hamilton and family.

ROCKWOOD

At about half past five on Friday morning July 6, the store of D. B. Holland burned. The fire started in some unknown way and gained so rapidly that it was impossible to save the building although some of the goods and most of the household furniture was saved. The building, which belonged to Jno. Richmond, was insured for $500, and the goods for $1,000.

George Cutler is having his house repainted.

The Rockwood school house will be repainted in the near future and the desks and woodwork will receive a new coat of varnish.

Mrs. Willard is suffering from an attack of inflammatory rheumatism.

The Macbees gave a dance in their hall last Saturday night. It was well attended and thoroughly enjoyed.

CHERRYVILLE

No hot waves or sun-strokes in Oregon. Cool nights and pure mountain air produce good health.

The Mountain climbers returned home Saturday delighted with their trip. They made the climb on Friday when every thing was favorable. They were under the safe conduct of "Lige" Coleman, one of the best guides in the state.

Mr. Partella, of Portland, "Sundayed" at the summer home of Rev. Dr. Boyd. This gentleman is one of the prominent business men of Portland. He is a "Canny" Scotchman and has been a resident of Portland for 20 years, coming there from the land of "Scenes." He says he made an excellent choice for a home as he believes Portland is at the head of all places for a home and has a great future before it.

Chinook salmon are now running in fine shape and there is a fine lot of them penned up at the hatchery for spawning purposes.

Mr. and Mrs. Kleeman, who have a summer home near Sandy, were up at Mr. Trumans last week on the south side of the Sandy beyond the Brightwood and were delighted with the view. Mr. Kleeman is a prominent architect of Portland and says there is no more desirable place in the mountains for a summer home than Mr. Truman's nor one that commands a finer view of the mountain. T. J. Hanpine, Inspector of the Pipe Line and C. J. Kruse, Secretary of the Portland Water Works, were also recent visitors at the home of Mr. Truman.

Mr. Wirz, a business man at Sandy, occupied the pulpit at the church here last Sunday and talked to an appreciative audience. This gentleman has some progressive ideas and don't believe "We should attempt the future's portals with past's blood-rusted keys" in the words of James Russell Lowell, a Unitarian and a man of commanding intellect as was also Whittier, Longfellow and Franklin.

Samuel Miles, of this place, lately returned from a trip to the coast. He went by the way of Salem thence to Independence, Arlie and Kings Valley and the Siletz county. He went the entire distance on horseback and says—in his opinion—the Siletz county is the best part of the state.

The ice cream social at the home of the writer last Wednesday night for the benefit of the church was well attended and was an unqualified success. The first quality Fruit Jar Rubbers—4 dozen for 25 cents at McNeil Bros. Also DelMonte tomatoes at 10 cents per can.

Bombay's Animal Hospital.

In faroff Bombay is probably the largest and most elaborate hospital for animals in the world. It has both its inpatients and its outpatients, and it ministers to animals of all kinds as carefully as human beings are administered to in the hospitals of the west. Over 2,000 animals are taken into the hospital each year, and well on to 1,000 are treated as outpatients. In all there are some forty buildings, large and small, connected with the hospital, and the architectural structure and the appointments of some of them are indeed superior to those of many of our regular hospitals. This splendid hospital for animals was founded by a native Indian, a Parsi merchant, Sir Dinshaw Manockjee Pet. Not only domestic animals of every kind are treated and cared for in it, but the animals of the jungle and the wild birds which are found wounded or suffering from any cause are taken to it and nursed back to health and then set free again.—Every Living Creature.

He Understood.

Paul Louis Courier, when bitterly assailed by a French professor, quietly remarked: "I fancy he must be vexed. He calls me Jacobin, rebel, plagiarist, thief, poisoner, forger, leper, madman, impostor, calumniator, libeler, a horrible, filthy, grimacing ragspicker. I gather what he wants to say. He means that he and I are not of the same opinion, and this is his only way of putting it."

Great In His Line.

Robert Barr once showed a portrait of Mark Twain to a silk merchant of Lyons. "Tell me who that is," Mr. Barr said. The merchant gazed at the portrait and answered, "I should say he was a statesman." "Supposing you wrong in that, what would be your next guess?" asked Mr. Barr. "If he is not a maker of history he is perhaps a writer of it—a great historian, probably. Of course it is impossible for me to guess accurately except by accident, but I use the adjective 'great' because I am convinced this man is great in his line, whatever it is. If he makes silk he makes the best." Mr. Barr told the French merchant who the portrait represented and said, "You have summed him up in your last sentence."—London News.

Try an Electric Milk Shake at Lambert & Thompson's.

Flying Men Fall
Victims to stomach, liver and kidney troubles just like other people, with like results in loss of appetite, backache, nervousness, headache, and tired, listless, run-down feeling. But there's no need to feel like that as T. D. Peebles, Henry, Tenn., proved. "Six bottles of Electric Bitters" he writes, "did more to give me new strength and good appetite than all other stomach remedies I used." So they help everybody. Its folly to suffer when this great remedy will help you from the first dose. Try it. Only 50 cents at All Dealers.
