ARLETA WOODMEN WIN
AT OREGON STATE FAIR

All roads led to Salem Tuesday. Why? Because it was W. O. W. day. Arleta Camp No. 805 now has the crack team, they having scored highest in competitive drill at the State exposition Tuesday Sept. 3. When the Arleta team was asked to escort Head Consul Boak into the grounds, they did not dream they would capture the prize. Arleta Camp is one of the smallest camps in this district, but what it lacks in size, it makes up in enthusiasm, and then something is doing. Six teams competing in the following order: Webfoot, Multnomah, Portland, Prospect, Oregon City and Arleta. Great credit is due to Capt. Jordon for the work he has bestowed on the drilling. The W. O. W. Special was enjoyed by 500 Woodmen and their families. The drum corps of Arleta camp. Neighbors Jerro and Fred Beldin furnished music, and made a hit with everybody. Besides the drill prize Neighbor Bell captured a fine watch fob with the emblem of the Order, for being the tallest Woodman.—Mt. Scott News.
