

ATTENTION COMRADES.

The Department Commander and Staff will visit Reuben Wilson Post on Thursday the 7th of Nov. at 1:30 p. m. at the Grange Hall. It is the wish of the Commander that all Post members be present at that time and a cordial invitation is extended to Shilo Circle to join with us as this is on the day of our regular meeting. I would ask the members of the Post to meet at the hall at 12:30 p. m. sharp that we may get through with our work and have a union meeting with the circle to entertain our distinguished guests. Would be pleased to have every Circle lady and every Post member to resolve themselves into a committee to furnish refreshments.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one reliable cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address F. J. CHERRYVILLE

Just before the battle! Vote early but not often. We've had "squaw" winter now comes Indian summer.

Snow fell within one mile of Cherryville last week.

Charles Johnson, a retired merchant of Indiana, will winter at the Boyd ranch. He is recuperating and will receive great benefit from the pure mountain air and pure mountain water.

The postoffice has been reestablished at Cherryville with the writer as postmaster. The office will be held at Friel's store and later on—as soon as possible—a building will be erected, a short distance east on the automobile road, which will be convenient to all of the patrons. This office ought never to have been discontinued as the business is steadily gaining at this point with a bright future ahead of it.

Cherryville Commercial club held a meeting last Saturday night with a good attendance. Mr. Rhodes presided with Mrs. John Friel as secretary pro tem. Among other business a vote of thanks was extended to Senator Bourne and Representative Hawley for their efforts in getting the postoffice re-established.

In looking over the field and the probable result of the election it seems to be a fore-gone conclusion that Wilson will be elected President. With the solid South he needs but a comparatively few northern states to be elected. Teddy will secure a handsome vote and it is not altogether impossible, but not probable, that he might be elected. Taft, the Portland Journal declares, will not get three states, which will be about all.

Vote for Millage Bill Number 320 X Yes

It provides six-tenths of a mill tax for support of Agricultural College and University of Oregon, giving them permanent support and taking them out of politics. It also provides one Board of Regents, thus solving the problems of cooperation, consolidation, division of courses and economy of management.

It does not increase the average rate of taxation.

It repeals the $500,000 University appropriation bill.

The Bill is endorsed by Governor West: "This Bill is in the interest of good business and should pass."

By L. R. Alderman, State Superintendent Public Instruction: "Experience in other states shows millage bill principle to be correct."

By Will H. Daly, President, Oregon State Federation of Labor: "No argument can successfully combat the benefit to the state that will follow the adoption of the millage tax plan."

Endorsed by Portland Tax Payers League.

Bill prepared by committee of Governor's Commission, Boards of Regents, and administrative officers of the two institutions.

Magnificent Keatsaur. One of the greatest natural wonders in the world is the falls of Keatsaur in British Guiana. The river flows which the river flows, below the falls is quite impassable, and probably no one has ever reached the bottom of the fall. The fall is 741 feet high, more than four times the height of Niagara, more than three times the height of Bunker Hill monument, 290 feet higher than the Washington monument and 300 feet higher than St. Peter's dome. A smooth but rapid river, nearly 400 feet wide, flows quietly to the brink and turns quietly downward. In its fall it breaks into soft white mist and reaches the bottom in a chaos of seething clouds. There is a gentle roar. Only now and then, from the hidden caverns at the bottom, a deep, thunderous growl arises that gives some hint of the forces contending there.—National Geographic Magazine.

A Feathered Beauty.

The quetzal of Guatemala is considered the most beautiful bird in the world. Its plumage vies with the rainbow and shines with a metallic luster. Until within the last few years it was unknown to science, mainly owing to the fact that it is a hermit among the feathered creatures, delighting in the silence of high altitudes. It dwells on mountain heights above 7,000 feet in elevation. The quetzal was the royal bird of the Aztecs, and its plumes were used to decorate the headdresses and cloaks of the kings of that land. Its breast is a brilliant scarlet, while its green tail attains a length of three feet. It is about the size of the common pigeon. It nests in holes in rotten trees, which it enlarges with its bill, so as to make a roomy and comfortable residence. The young are hatched totally devoid of feathers.

A Case of Poetic Justice.

The following is a case of poetic justice as meted out in France: A Parisian architect was sitting in his office when he heard a knock at the door. As he wished to be alone he took no notice of the knock, but went on with his work. A few moments later he heard a key moving in the lock. Not doubting that his visitor was a robber, the architect armed himself with a revolver and quietly hid behind some curtains. Presently the thief entered and proceeded to rifle the place. Then suddenly he started and grew pale. In a mirror he had seen a revolver leveled at his head from behind the curtains. "Open the window," ordered the architect, "and shout 'Police!'"

The burglar had no alternative but to obey and so summoned the officer by whom he was to be arrested.—Green Bag.

The Best Light At The Lowest Cost

ELECTRIC LIGHT is the most suitable for homes, offices, shops and other places needing light. Electricity can be used in any quantity, large or small, thereby furnishing any required amount of light. Furthermore, electric lamps can be located in any place, thus affording any desired distribution of light.

No other lamps possess these qualifications, therefore it is not surprising that electric lamps are rapidly replacing all others in modern establishments.
