He has testimonials from patients all over the northwest as to the fine results he obtained with the use of these nature remedies. GOOD FOR COLD AND COUGHS.
Mr. W. H. STRANGE, 37th Elmwood Avenue, Chicago, Ill., writes: "A little boy next door had croup. I gave the mother Sloan's Liniment to try. She gave him three drops on sugar before going to bed, and he got up without the croup in the morning."

Make Little of Life's Ills.

To be poor is not always pleasant but worse things than that happen at sea. Small shoes are apt to pinch but not if you have a small foot; if we have little means it will be no shame, but being discontented with it is.—Charles H. Spurgeon.

Unfortunate English.

The general impression that the Englishman's life is rather prosy is supported by the statement of a Londoner who visited at Clay Center. He said he never had tasted fried chicken or strawberry shortcake, the two being unknown to the culinary art in his country.—Kansas City Star.

Red Cross Ball Blue gives double value for your money, goes twice as far as any other. Ask your grocer.

Apology.

Conjuror—"Now, sir, you admit that the card you have just taken out of the handkerchief is the queen of clubs, yet the card you chose and securely tied there—namely, the ace of spades—I now produce from this hat." Tigid Volunteer—"So sorry—my mistake."—Punch.

The Current Craze.

"A great many old plays are being fitted out with alleged melodies and sent out as operettas." "That's right. But they're going too far. I know of one actress who is going to star in a musical version of the multiplication table."

Somewhat Contradictory.

In America, says the Louisville Courier-Journal, a school teacher works, upon the average, for about half as much as a bricklayer, and has to tell the boys that education is a necessity if they would get on in life.

Philanthropic Penology.

"What is that open-air structure you have inclosed with mosquito netting?" "That," replied Farmer Cortnessel, "is our village jail." "But you want iron bars for a jail?" "Not here. Anybody we put in there will be so thankful to get away from the mosquitoes that he wouldn't think of leaving."

All Have a Duty.

Every man or woman is one of mankind's dear possessions; to his or her just brain, and kind heart and active hands, mankind intrusts some of its hopes for the future.—Robert Louis Stevenson

For the Hair

Are you so fortunate as to be well satisfied with your hair? Is it long enough, thick enough, rich enough? And your hair does not fall out? Well, well, that is good. But you may know of some not so fortunate. Then just tell them about Ayer's Hair Vigor. They will surely thank you after using it, if not before. Remember, it does not color the hair. Show the list of ingredients to your doctor. Let him decide their value. He knows.

GUARDING ROYALTY AT NIGHT

Elaborate Precautions That Are Taken to Insure the Safety of European Crowned Heads.

Every night the palace at which King George is sleeping is patrolled by night watchmen, who pass along the corridors, throughout the night, inspecting doors and windows. These watchmen wear carpet slippers to deaden the sounds of their footsteps, and are specially trained to know exactly what to do in case of fire. In addition to the night patrol, there is always a sentry on duty outside the chamber in which the king sleeps.

King Alfonso of Spain is guarded at night by specially selected soldiers, who take charge of the keys of all the doors each night. These men pledge themselves that the doors shall not be unlocked until daylight, and no one is allowed to enter or leave the palace until the night is over. The guards sleep outside the royal bedchamber, so that no one may enter during the night.

King Albert of Belgium is another carefully-guarded monarch whom no one may disturb once night has set in. Soldiers patrol the corridors of the king's palace, and his special valet locks himself in the king's antechamber, which no other person is allowed to enter. The valet is forbidden to open either door until morning under penalty of death.

The czar of Russia, the closest guarded of any monarch, is protected at night by several companies of soldiers, including Englishmen, members of the secret police, and a body of Cossacks. The various companies work independently of one another.

The sultan of Turkey is nightly watched over by a very large number of soldiers and councillors, who remain within the neighborhood of his bedroom until morning. The sultan changes his sleeping apartment of tenor than any other monarch. He has the choice of two-score bedchambers, and he visits many of these in turn throughout the year.

His holiness the pope is guarded by an attendant who is able to watch the welfare of his master through a spy-hole in the wall of his bedchamber, so that the pope is always under observation.

He's a Wonder to His Wife.

A Missouri lady is trying an experiment. Her husband is a brilliant man, but loquacious. Realizing his shortcomings, the wife is feeding him on fish. Three or four times a week she prepares fish in some delectable way. He is showing some uneasiness and has a marked predilection for water, but being innocent of his wife's motive, continues to eat the dishes set before him.

To her pastor, the wife recently confided:

"You see," soberly, "John is a very remarkable man, but he wastes too much time sermonizing when he should be thinking. He talks altogether too much. To counteract this, I am feeding him fish. During the last two months I have served him with seventeen different varieties of fish cooked in forty-seven different ways."

"Why fish?" asked the pastor, greatly interested.

"Because," replied the wife, "fish is food for thought."

"I see," said the reverend gentleman, "but have you noticed any marked change?"

The wife's face grew sad. "Do you know, Mr. Jones, that husband of mine is such a chatterbox that I do believe he could eat the whale that swallowed Jonah and never lose a syllable!"—Woman's World.

Electricity Used as Food.

Professor Bergonie of Paris has advanced the theory that electricity can be made to take the place of food in sustaining life. His idea is that the essential purpose of food is to supply the body with internal warmth. He claims to have proved that low tension, high frequency currents of electricity can be passed through a man in such a manner as to produce the required energy warmth of maintained life. The great thing to guard against is the production of a temperature high enough to be fatal. According to Professor Bergonie, electric "food" is much superior to vegetables and meat, inasmuch as it imposes no work on the digestive organs, the food being directly absorbed by the nerves. Thus is avoided, the savant asserts, the ordinary fatiguing, wearying process of intestinal combustion which is so exhausting to invalids or to patients in a weakened state. "One dose of electric 'food,'" we are told, "will do a man as much good as three solid meals of ordinary food. More than that, electric food actually increases the patient's weight."

Guesthouses in Asia.

The guesthouse is a real institution in Asia Minor. It is sometimes owned by an individual, but is usually the common property of the village. To this guesthouse, like the travelers' bungalow in India, every traveler has a right, but as all have the same rights, one may have more company than he desires. However, the head man of the village usually arrange matters for the foreign traveler, and the native guest will often courteously make way for him. In the guesthouse is one large room, in one part of which our horse munch their hay, with the drivers lying beside them, while in the other part we spread our rugs and set up our beds and unlumber our cooking apparatus. Some guesthouses have two rooms connected by a wide opening, without a door, in one of which the animals and animal drivers sleep and in the other the pampered guests from abroad.—National Magazine.

Time Saved.

In a large family, where there are many children, much loss of time and annoyance is saved if, before putting stockings into the wash each week, each person will tack the two stockings of each pair at the heels, says Suburban Life. There is no trouble in trying to mate them afterward, as each person may use a different colored thread.

No Good Thing is Ever Lost.

Remember that truth, the most important and encouraging of all truths. Your life may not seem worth while, the sacrifices that you make for others may not seem worth while. But no good thing is ever lost. And he who does his duty contributes forever to the sum total of that which is good in the universe.

Real Test.

There is something finer than to do right against inclination, and that is to have an inclination to do right. There is something nobler than reluctant obedience, and that is joyful obedience. The rank of virtue is not measured by its disagreeableness, but by its sweetness to the heart that loves it. The real test of character is joy. For what you rejoice in, that you love. And what you love, that you are like.—Henry van Dyke.

Quite Another Thing.

"What makes you so sleepy today, old man?" "I was up at 4 this morning!" "Come off! You never got up at 4 in your life." "I didn't say I got up; I said I was up."—Boston Evening Transcript.

Accentuating Plant Characters.

It has been found that under red light (light through red glass) plants become more robust than in any other. They also become more pronounced in their chief characters—the leafy plant becomes more leafy, all shades of green become more pronounced, the sensitive plant more sensitive and all in every way become highly specialized.

Watch Built in a Pearl.

A tiny watch, which has been made inside a pearl as large as a big pea, has just been constructed by Galopin & Co. of Geneva, fifteen months being spent on the work. The empty pearl weighed forty-five grains and is diameter is less than an inch. This pearl watch can be worn on a ring or as a pendant and cost $6,000.

Home rhapsody.

Probably nineteen-twentieths of the happiness you will ever have, you will get at home. The independence that comes to a man when his work is over, and the feeling that he has run out of the storm into the quiet harbor of home, where he can rest in peace and with his family, is something real.

Poetry at the Bottom of the Mug.

"He will work," said a Tottenham (Eng.) constable of a defendant, "if he knows there is a pint of beer at the end of the job." This must have been very much the sort of thing Tennyson had in mind when he wrote "Follow the Glean."

Sore Shoulders and Necks.

Sore shoulders and necks in horses are, as a rule, due to an improper fit in collar or harness. Occasionally uneven surface or hard lumpy areas in the fitting may be the cause, or improper care of the horse in early spring before the skin and underlying tissues have become hardened to the collar pressure.

First United States Stocking Factory.

The first United States stocking factory was set up at Cohoes, New York, in 1832. The machine for knitting was the invention of Lee, an Englishman, who took out a patent in 1589. The Lee machine was introduced in the Colonies during the Revolution, but a sharp Yankee improved on it, and set up the first factory at Cohoes.
