CHERRYVILLE

The snow to the depth of six and eight inches fell last week.

The mail drivers had a serious time last week in getting through on account of the snow fatter up the mountains, and Dr. Short of Greaham who was called to see a sick child of Lige Coalman's at Government Camp had to take to skis at the Rhododendron hotel.

The Ski club of Portland will come out on Saturday of this week and climb Mt. Hood and take to their skis on the back track. They want to break all records.

John Buckholz, who lives at the Salmon river bridge has been appointed road supervisor of this district by the county court. The active work on the road in this district will be under the charge of Fred Beechler who is probably better qualified for this kind of a job—by reason of experience—than any other man in the county.

The cattle belonging to E. W. Harris came home for the first time last Saturday and were all as fat as butter. Mr. Harris says as soon as the snow goes off a little more they will pull out for the range and perhaps only come home once a month or such a matter for salt.

F. O. Wyman of this place killed a couple of shoats last week that dressed 150 lbs. apiece that had never been fed anything but carrots and artichokes.

Hogs can be turned on a patch of ferns, live on the roots and completely eradicate them and get fat on carrots and artichokes in the fall and winter. This kind of a proposition will beat hanging around towns and living from hand to mouth or boozing at beer joints.

A wild cat was shot near here one day last week by Pete Stone and although it was but half grown and badly wounded it kept three dogs pretty busy to kill it.

The Commercial Club will give an entertainment here on Saturday Feb. 1 on which occasion the drama entitled "An Obstinate Family" will be presented to be followed by a screaming original farce "When the Cars Come to Cherryville."

J. F. Freil took the first prize at the masquerade ball given at Sandy last Saturday night as the most comical masker present.

Mr. and Mrs. Hussock, of Portland, were at the hotel over Sunday. Mrs. Hussock is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Freil.

Easter comes on March 23d. this year. The earliest it has been in 90 years.

COLUMBIA HEIGHTS

Mr. S. Keerkeys and his sister, Mrs. Parker, of Latourelle Falls, left for their old home in England last Saturday, where they were called on account of death in their family. They will be gone for several months and while Mrs. Parker is absent her little baby is cared for by Mrs. A. Tricky, here at the Heights.

The Farmers' Equity held a very interesting meeting last Monday evening. During the evening Mr. T. Lasley and

S. M. Davids both of Harlibert, and C. J. Littlepage joined the society.

Mr. C. Latourelle and J. Ross has just gone on a trapping and hunting expedition down the Columbia and expect to be gone a couple of months.

Mrs. A. Woodward returned from Portland on Friday and reports that her daughter Alice, who is confined to the hospital with pneumonia is now improving nicely.

W. Deaver is sick with the grip but at this writing is some better.

Mr. J. Deaver, Sr., was in the metropolis last week for a couple of days.

Mrs. Shullenheimer, of Kelso, has taken position on the ranch here, owned by Mr. J. Taylor. Mr. Shullenheimer owns some fine dairy cows.

Mr. T. Bram and G. Paven were dinner guests on Sunday at Columbia View farm.

Mr. P. Andersen, wife and little son, Lawrence, were in the city Sunday and Monday.

KELSO

Miss Gladys Crenshaw, of Greaham, spent Sunday with her sister, Mrs. J. Stafford, who is sick.

evening at the school house will be: "Resolved that extravagance contributes moxety to the present high cost of living." F. W. Canning will lead the affirmative and J. H. Revenue the negative. There will also be a literary program.

PLEASANT VALLEY

Lester Richey who is attending high school in Portland was out and spent Tuesday evening with his parents.

Grandma Kesterson is spending the winter visiting with her niece, Mrs. Alva Davis, at Lents.

Martin Winch is reported to have sold his 40 acre farm for $15000. We have not learned who the purchaser is. J. M. Loughlin is breaking some of his fine colts this winter.

Pleasant Valley Ladies' Aid Society met with Mrs. Foppleton last Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. Pateramer is building an addition to his barn and making other improvements on his farm with a view to installing an up-to-date dairy.

N. L. Justice, a woodchopper living on J. H. Wing's place, had the misfortune to lose all his effects in a fire which burned his house to the ground last Tuesday evening. Mr Justice has a wife and two small children. They are left in destitute circumstances.

Pleasant Valley has at last got a free library, the people having met at the Grange hall last Friday evening and formed an association. Mrs. F. A. Le-man, Mrs. G. H. Kesterson and T. R. Berry were chosen as trustees for the association. It is hoped that everybody will contribute their part to the success of this institution.
