CHERRYVILLE

Come gentle spring!
And come a running!

How is this for winter lingering in the lap of spring?

Spring begins officially when the sun crosses the line on the 21st but it surely does not act like very much like spring.

Easter services were held in the church last Sunday and appropriate exercises were rendered.

Snow at this writing is fully six inches deep and still falling rapidly. It is not at all likely that it will remain long, which is the wish of everybody.

Webbers' goats are now increasing in numbers but the weather has been so severe that quite a number of the kids have perished. Not much expense to feed them however, despite the snow, as they prefer the fir brows or alder twigs to anything else. All a person has to do is to cut down a small fir tree and the goats are fed.

The Reddell brothers at Monmouth have a large herd of Angoras and by letting them go two years without shearing they often get $6.00 a pound for the mohair. In fact they have an order at the price for all mohair twelve inches in length.

The Assistant Secretary of State Huntington Wilson threw up in a huff during Bryan's absence because the President would not stand for any more "dollar diplomacy" which means the great government will not back every rotten financial scheme in every part of the world. This Aristocratic Republican could not conceive of other purposes for a government than to do the dirty work of a lot of business robbers who are continually scanning the horizon for a chance to skin somebody. Ta, ta Huntington! Your going "saved your face from being fired" later on. Under your scheme and plan of government, as well as your aids and abettors and their silly dupes, the common people had no more show than a snowball in the infernal regions.

Ye pencil pusher was away last week which accounts for the absence of the items from this burg.
