Mr. Wemie's "Great White Way" projected road from Portland to Mt. Hood and beyond meets with pretty general approval here. This capitalist has bought the Barlow road or rather the toll gate and road over the mountains and proposes to sell it to the county on easy and liberal terms. This road is to be put in fine shape from Portland over the mountains and will be kept up by the state county and Automobile clubs. This would make one of the most attractive scenic routes in the state or in the South West for that matter and would give employment to quite a large army of men.
