PERSONS circulating the word recall petitions were busy on the streets of Lents this week. It is not probable that they received much support. A discussion of the merits of the movement brought out the claim from the woman who was presenting the petition, that the sheriff's deputies had been extreme in their treatment of the public. They had not been satisfied with the way persons who were entirely independent of any part of the various strike troubles and street rows were being treated. It is claimed that mere passing people have been clubbed by the sheriff's assistants. It is hardly probable that the recall movement hopes to win through being merely charitable defenders of disinterested persons. It is possible that the sheriff's men may have made some mistake. It would be pretty hard to distinguish in a crowd, just who were passers and who were offenders, especially when the crowd gets so large as to block the streets.

It is hardly likely that anyone will be misled by such statements. The present recall movement is being promoted by a lot of blatant vagrants who are not satisfied because they are not allowed to pass themselves off as public benefactors when the only stock they have in trade is a lot of vulgar abuse and unreliable assertions. Most of the fellows interested would not work at any price and especially at a figure that would reasonably cover their production. The sooner they become permanent employes at the public rock pile the better for the public peace and safety it will be and the less chance there will be for them to degrade the morals of the young people of the country.

Then we need the crushed rock.

THE new county court in this county is cutting quite a swath. Road supervisor Chapman was recently discharged and that too without any public statement as to the reason. To the most of the public who are interested in seeing their money spent, this was entirely satisfactory. Chapman's place has long been a sinecure. Furnished with a machine at county expense, he spent most of his time loafing around the court house or elsewhere off his job. He had a snap as long as there were enough friends on the Board to hold him solid. But the snaps are not all gone yet. Announcement is made this week that the Board of Commissioners have employed another road man at the neat figure of three hundred dollars a month. So far the most that can be said for him is that he is recommended by Sam Hill. And the most that can be said for Sam is that he has plenty of money and that he spent some of it and a lot of state money in developing a road from Lyle, Washington, up to his farm at Mary Hill, thus developing his own property and making it available for realty transfer.

Just why it should be necessary to employ a three hundred dollar man for merely advisory service will not be apparent to a lot of sensible people. The state gets a highway engineer for that much and the county should get a merely advisory officer for a little less.

Another matter that is of interest is the composition of the Advisory Road Board. These include W. W. Cotton, Samuel Hill, C. S. Jackson, W. B. Fecheimer, and A. S. Benson. It is of striking importance that not a farmer is included on the board. Neither was there a farmer present at the meeting at "Chanticleer In," where the proposition was made to appoint such an officer.

NOTES OF THE W. C. T. U.

Commendable is the determination of Oregon City to abolish the masher sentence of fifty days in the municipal jail recently followed conviction. That is good. Suspension of sentence in case the offender left town the following morning may be all right for Oregon City, but it is not fair to the next community to which the offender may hasten. To give the party his medicine and then turn him loose would seem to be the good neighborly way.

In its warfare against alcoholism the W. C. T. U. is being strengthened from many directions. The most recent and by far the most important because of professional knowledge is that coming from the International Congress of Neurology at which twenty nations were represented by one hundred physicians. This congress met at Belgium. By resolution they invited the governments of the world, in view of the disastrous consequences of alcoholism, to take prompt and rigorous measures to put an end to the evil. The long years of persistent endeavor on the part of noble workers is bearing fruit.

The annual meeting of Mt. Scott W. C. T. U. will be held next Tuesday at the Evangelical church.

Mrs. O. R. Addison will attend the Marion County W. C. T. U. on Thursday.

Mt. Scott Union presented Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Clark, recently married, with a handsome picture of local scenery as a wedding gift, on Tuesday.

FLY TIME ON THE DAIRY FARM

The average man who is employed on the farm does not love to milk at any season, and when it comes to hot weather and fly time his fondness for the work is not in the least increased. Flies are a nuisance and everything that can be done should be done to rid the stable of the pest. There are various methods of fighting flies, all of them are practical and by their use much can be done to abate the trouble.

The various sprays and fly dopes that are advertised can be used to good advantage and without injury to the cow's hide. By spraying these liberally on the stable walls and the floors and by spraying the cows just before milking, the flies will be driven out to a very appreciable extent. This process of fighting the flies has another advantage in that it keeps the stable free from the ordinary barn odors.

In, in addition to this, the stable windows are covered with screens or if curtains are hung over them at the time of milking, there will be additional comfort for both the cow and the milker. There need be less trouble from this source than is usually experienced on the majority of farms. It is because of a lack of simple precaution that farmers are suffering from the pest. Above all things, fix the barns so that it is not necessary to wait until after dark to milk. That is an unnecessary prolonging of the day's work.

Another means of fighting the flies is through the use of the cone-shaped fly trap, which may be homemade or bought, as one desires. Two or three of these placed in the barn will noticeably lessen the number of flies which swarm around the cows. They may be effectively used at the kitchen door and on the veranda or other places wherever there seems to be a need for them. The number of flies that will be caught in these little contrivances will surprise even the most credulous.

The way to fight the fly pest systematically is to remove the source rather than depend upon killing off the flies after they are once hatched. There are on every farm hundreds of places that are prolific breeders of this pest. The barnyards that are neglected are perhaps the worst. These should be cleaned out and the accumulations from the stable should be sprayed or sprinkled with some preparation that will prevent them from becoming the hatchery for flies and mosquitoes. These accumulations should not be left for any length of time, but the yard should be kept clean and above all things there should be no place for pools of stagnant water to accumulate. Then there will be places about the yards where rubbish or old tin cans furnish other congenial homes for this very troublesome little insect. Clean these up, remove the cause, fight the flies and the trouble of the hot season will be less.—Kimball's Dairy Farmer.

The Best Light At The Lowest Cost

ELECTRIC LIGHT is the most suitable for homes, offices, shops and other places needing light. Electricity can be used in any quantity, large or small, thereby furnishing any required amount of light. Furthermore, electric lamps can be located in any place, thus affording any desired distribution of light.

No other lamps possess these qualifications, therefore it is not surprising that electric lamps are rapidly replacing all others in modern establishments.
