lose a valuable cow last week caused, it is supposed, from eating wild parsnip.
 While in Portland last week Dr. Botkin attended a demonstration of the K. Hand Stump Puller at Jennings Lodge, near Oregon City, and was astonished by the power displayed by this wonderful machine. It is destined to lead all other machines, the Dr. believes, as it can be easily moved, not weighing much over 200 pounds and is sold at a price far below other stump machinery. It is expected that this machine will be handled from Sandy.
 Charles and Glenn Rugh secured the job of plastering the new school house in District No. 25 on the lower road to Sandy.
 Makers of clothes pins complain of a scarcity of suitable timber for this purpose in the East. Why not come here where the alder trees prevail in endless number. Lead pencil men, too, say they find it difficult to get plenty of cedar for their pencils. Here we have millions of feet of fine cedar logs laying in this so-called Railroad land, going to waste, and nobody dare appropriate them. A whole lot of fellows in this country are doing big business that ought to be in the state penitentiary and some of them are headed that way.
 Portland papers have recently contained a sketch and account of an old lady living at Eugene who is nearly 104 years old who says she is the only surviving aunt of Robert T. Lincoln, the only son living of the great emancipator. This old lady is dependent for a livelihood on the Christian church of Eugene. Thinking it a shame that such a deplorable state of affairs should exist when Mr. Lincoln is known to be many times a millionaire, the writer took the liberty to write to Lincoln who resides in Chicago on Millionaire Row and this letter was forwarded to him at his summer home at Holden, Vt., at the foot of the Green Mountains. In due time an answer was received in which Mr. Lincoln stated that "He had only one aunt living and she resided in Kentucky, and that her name was not Todd," and added—rather peevishly—that "You newspaper men have another guess coming." It may be that Mr. Lincoln considers that as this old lady is not a sister of his father or mother but simply married his mother's brother that she is not his aunt by blood. The old lady says that Lincoln visited her once here in Oregon and said "She was his onliest aunt," to use the old lady's Kentucky vernacular. It is quite certain that Grandma Todd is Lincoln's aunt by marriage and ought to receive some consideration at his hands.
 A game and fish warden was out here last week inspecting the fish ladder at the dam and found one section entirely washed away so that fish were unable to get up stream to spawn in their usual spawning places in the upper Sandy and Salmon Rivers. Great numbers of fish have beaten themselves to death on the rocks at the foot of the dam in their efforts to jump over the dam. Big fish concerns gather fish most any old way in the Columbia and elsewhere, but the pioneers in these mountains have to be content to catch now and then a salmon with a hook and line and it takes an expert to do that.
 Miss Helen Hussock of Portland came down Saturday to visit her sister, Miss Irene, at the hotel and to renew the acquaintance with many friends here.

WHY THE HOG IS THE GREATEST MONEY-MAKER
 The hog is an economical cog in the farm operation. He is a conservator of waste, a gleaner in the fields. A helper of the farmer in adding to his bank balance.
 Because of his saving qualities, he has been denominated as "The gentleman that pays the rent for the householder; the mortgage lifter for the farmer."
 In the past he was adopted by the farmers of the corn and hog belt as the only feasible way of marketing the corn crop. Being turned into the field and fattened, this was known as "hogging the corn," thus saving all of the labor of gathering, storing and feeding out again.
 At times, when the wheat crop was an overproduction and the prices were down below the 50-cent mark at the farm the hog was used to market wheat.
 He has done his part in converting the by-product of the dairy and creamery into a merchantable article through his stomach. The feeder of a bunch of steers follows them with a drove of hogs that are fattened on the undigested corn fed the steers. Hogs take care of the by-product of distilleries, beet sugar plants, of the garbage of the cities and of many other factories where food products for human beings are manufactured.
 In Texas and several Southern states they inform us that they can make pork at two cents a pound on peanuts, and more pounds per acre than they can with a crop of corn, letting the pigs do their own picking or digging, as you please to call it. The hogs can convert kaffir corn, milo maize, cow peas and soy beans into choice pork that can be cashed every day in the year.
 Then, again, he is a forager; he can grow on alfalfa and clover and several other kinds of pastures, but especially he is adapted to converting alfalfa into lean pork and when balanced properly makes one of the ideal feeds for pork production at the cheapest possible cost.
 Then, again, while the sheep, cows and horses will increase from 60 to 100 per cent annually, the hog will increase from 500 to 2000 per cent annually. He can be turned into the market as quick as a crop of grain.
 These are some of the reasons why we claim that the hog is the greatest money-maker of the farm animals—American Swineherd.

Much of the piling, wharf material, and lock gates of the Panama canal are made of the greenheart, said to be the most durable wood known for these purposes, which comes mainly from British Guiana.

The Family Cough Medicine
 In every home there should be a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery, ready for immediate use when any member of the family contracts a cold or a cough. Prompt use will stop the spread of sickness. S. A. Stid, of Mason, Mich., writes: "My whole family depends upon Dr. King's New Discovery as the best cough and cold medicine in the world. Two 50c. bottles cured me of pneumonia." Thousands of other families have been equally benefited and depend entirely upon Dr. King's New Discovery to cure their coughs, colds, throat and lung troubles. Every dose helps. Price, 50c. and $1.00. All druggists.

Choosing The Right Present
 Are you in doubt about a certain present? The Youth's Companion has proved to be one of the best that can be chosen. Perhaps you have not seen it lately, and are not quite sure. Then let us send you a sample copy or two. Suppose you ask for the issues containing the opening chapters of Arthur Stanwood Pier's fine serial story of life in a boys' school—"His Father's Son." If you look the paper over carefully, bearing in mind that there are fifty-two such numbers for a year's subscription of $2.00, we are sure you will say that a better present could not be chosen, whether for a young person or for an entire family.
 For the year's subscription of $2.00 there is included a copy of The Companion Practical Home Calendar for 1914, and all the issues for the remaining weeks of this year, dating from the time the subscription is received.
 If you ask for sample copies we will send with them the Announcement for 1914.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured
 by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.
 We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness cured by our method. Send for our circular, free.
