The plant now is turning out from 100,000 to 200,000 fry each day, the variation being caused by the difference in climatic conditions.

ROAD PLANS NOT MADE

State Highway Improvements Not Decided Definitely.

Salem.—Although the state highway commission has not decided upon a definite plan as to how all the money raised for state highway improvement under the law passed at the recent session of the legislature creating the commission should be expended, it has made arrangements to begin active work about June 1, when the money for next year will become available. The commission has decided to expend part of the money in providing supervision of road construction by county courts, when desired, and the remainder will be used either in building an experimental thoroughfare to determine the merits of the various hard-surface pavements, or in building a stretch of the Pacific Highway between this city and Portland.

The commission has decided that all work done by it shall be hard surface, the law providing that durable roads shall be constructed.

Flax Mill is Favored.

Oregon City.—Farmers of many parts of the county and valley are interested in a proposition to erect a $200,000 flax mill in Oregon City, and many of them have promised to sign agreements to produce the material in case the city raises $50,000 required and obtains the mill.

VISITS AUSTRALIA AND NEW ZEALAND

Mrs. E. C. Joss, who formerly lived on Park Ave., returned from a very interesting trip on the 12th Inst. Dr. Joss, head of the government meat inspection work in Portland was assigned the duty of visiting New Zealand and Australia by the Department of Agriculture last Summer. He decided to take his wife with him. They left their two boys with the Doctor's sister, Mrs. Adams. They left Portland the first of August, going by way of Victoria, where they took steamer, and proceeding by way of Honolulu, the Fiji Islands, and New Zealand, Tasmania to Sydney. The work of the trip begun at New Zealand where the doctor visited and inspected the dairies and stock farms and slaughter-houses of the country. He found the people of New Zealand very intelligent and progressive in their handling of livestock and dairy products. The New Zealanders are accustomed to use a small percent of boracic acid in the butter they pack, but the shippers are as anxious as any one to avoid the use of this chemical in the butter that is being packed for shipment to this country.

The visit in Australia was interesting and highly instructive. That is a big country and it requires considerable time to get acquainted with it. But the officials of the country made every effort to give our representative every courtesy and advantage for information that was possible. The sheep raised in that country were especially of interest. Australian sheep produce about the finest wool in the world. It is capable of being spun into the most delicate of woolen cloths. Mrs. Joss returned alone from New Zealand. The Doctor has been assigned the duty of doing some botanical collecting in addition to his work in the animal husbandry department. He is to go into the mountains of Queensland and secure specimens of native orange and one or two other plants. This will require about six weeks and take him into some of the wildest country in Australia, through forests so dense that even a pathway will have to be cut for them.

WORK PLANNED FOR IDLE OREGON MEN

Salem, Or.—Governor West called a meeting of the state emergency board for Thursday morning, at which he suggested that a deficiency of $50,000 be created to give employment on public roads for the next two months to men now out of work. He figures that the money will provide employment for 500 men at $2 a day and that the work will be of advantage to the state by hastening improvement of thoroughfares.

The decision to call the meeting was reached by the governor after C. C. McCulloch, state senator, Mr. West's representative at the meeting of the unemployed in Portland, had made his report. Senator McCulloch said that the meeting was orderly and he was convinced that the men actually desired work. The governor said if the proposed road work is undertaken it would have to be done in the regular way through the state highway commission.

State Engineer Lewis announces that $3790.21 would be due the state January 1 for power development under permits issued by his department. The fees represent a charge of 25 cents for each theoretical horsepower a year, assuming 50 per cent plant efficiency.

It is claimed that water power development is being retarded in this state through the uncertainty of what the annual fee charged by the state will be and the revocable permit issued by the government for power sites on government land, according to State Engineer Lewis.

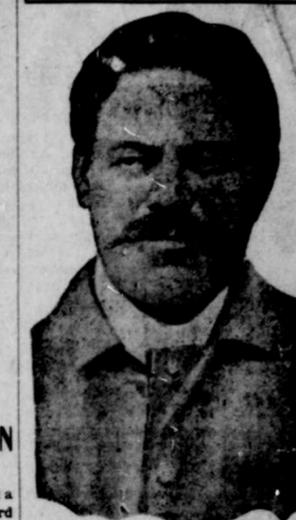

Corporation Commissioner Watson has instituted in the supreme court mandamus proceedings against State Treasurer Kay to compel him to pay a warrant for legal services issued to Claude McCulloch, state senator and assistant of the corporation commissioner.

The Pacific Coast Rescue mission of Portland has filed a request with the Pendleton Commercial club for the carcasses of 1000 of the jackrabbits to be killed during the rabbit drives in Umatilla county, and these will be used for food in the mission stations in the cities of the coast. The Pendleton club has promised to ship the rabbits after each drive.

SCHOOL CENSUS SHOWS BIG GROWTH

The total school population of what is now Lents, Woodmere, about half of Arleta and South Mt. Tabor schools ten years ago, could have been cared for in a four room school, probably 250 pupils. The district cared for by the Lents school now has 1322 pupils of school age; Woodmere 1049, Arleta, 1516 and South Mt. Tabor 271. The first two were formerly entirely in the Lents district, half of Arleta, and a considerable part of South Mt. Tabor. It is safe to say that the Lents district of 1903 now numbers over 2500 pupils of school age. And this is indicative of the growth of this district in population and wealth.

TELEPHONE STATISTICS.

Of the more than twelve million telephones in the world at the beginning of 1912, nearly eight and one-half millions, or more than two-thirds, were in the United States. That gave one telephone to every eleven persons. Europe on the other hand, had only 3,153,000 telephones, or one for every 126 of the population. Denmark had a telephone for every twenty-four persons, Germany one for every fifty-six, Great Britain and Ireland one for every sixty-five, France one for every 150, whereas Austria had only one telephone for every 298 persons. There were 101,500 telephones in Australia, or one for every forty-four persons, 36,000 in Africa, and 88,000 in South America, but the huge population of Asia made use of only 205,000 instruments.

BURGLARS LOOT BARRICK & CO

Merchandise Valued at $100 Taken From Belrose Store Friday Night While Owners Sleep Up Stairs. Thieves at Large.

Friday night was an eventful one for Barrick & Co. at Belrose. Some time during the night thieves broke into the storeroom and carried away merchandise valued at $100 or more. They were extremely quiet about it for the family sleeps over the store and there was no disturbance to waken them, unless it be that a slight rasping noise which Mrs. Barrick heard about four o'clock but it was not sufficient to cause alarm and so the situation was not realized until the store was opened up in the morning. A panel was found cut in the door.

The sheriff was notified and he came out with three of his deputies but they could find no clue. The brace and bit used in cutting into the door was found but that did not give any particular advantage to the officers. A reward of fifty dollars has been made for the thieves.

The articles taken include a lot of corduroy pants, some jeans, blue flannel shirts, gloves, pocket knives, umbrellas, watches, and $25 in cash. No trace of the thieves has been found up to this time. It is evident that an organized gang of thieves live in this section of the country and it would be well for store keepers and others having property of value to provide for its safety in some way.

Why We Have a Christmas Tree

The people of Germany, Norway and Sweden decorated the apple tree for their mid-winter festival. It was in honor of Wodan, God of light. The tree was decorated by gilded apples and representations of fish and birds. These were to remind the people of the fruitfulness of the sun. After Christ was born, these people became Christians and worshipped Christ. They still had the mid-winter festival but it was on Christ's birthday. They were taught that Christ was the beginning of a new life. Instead of using the apple tree they now used the fir tree to remind them of the everlasting life. They still decorate the tree, not for Wodan, but for Christ.
