

NATIONAL PLATFORM.

Approved by the Cincinnati Convention. The Democratic party of the United States in its platform assembled, declares: First—We pledge ourselves anew to the constitutional principles and traditions of the Democratic party as illustrated by the teaching and example of a long line of Democratic statesmen and patriots, and embodied in the last national convention of the party.

Second—Opposing to centralization and the despotic spirit of encroachment which seeks to concentrate the powers of all the departments in one, and thus to create, whatever in the form of government, a real despotism; the separation of powers; the separation of church and state for the good of each; common schools to be fostered and protected.

Third—Home rule, honest money, the strict maintenance of public faith, consisting of gold, silver and paper convertible to coin on demand; the strict maintenance of the public faith, state and national, and a tariff for revenue only.

Fourth—the subordination of the military to the civil power, and a general and thorough reform of the civil service. Fifth—Right to a free ballot as the right prerogative of all rights, and must and shall be maintained in every part of the United States.

Sixth—The existing administration is representative of conspiracy only, and its claims of right to surround the ballot boxes with troops and deputy marshals, to intimidate and obstruct the elections, and by unprejudiced use of the vote to maintain its corrupt and despotic power, insults the people, and impairs their institutions.

Seventh—The great fraud of 1876, by which, upon a false count of the electoral vote of two States, the candidate defeated at the polls, was declared to be President, and for the first time in American history, the will of the people was set aside under the threat of military violence, struck a deadly blow at our system of representative government.
