WHO is going to build the new City Hall?

OATS.—The best of horse feed is in demand.

SCHOOL.—Notice will be given when this favorite institution will begin.

POST-OFFICE.—Rooms for the post-office will likely be provided in the new City Hall

OUR Frank Snow has been rusticating at the Warm Springs. Allee samee Melican man.

TAX.—Don't forget the school-meeting next Saturday to decide upon levying a tax for school purposes.

HOUSES.—Why do not some of our business men build some small houses to rent? There is an active demand for them.

READY.—G. W. Walker, like Hon. N. T. Caton, is ready to divide the time with any Republican speaker on the political issues of the day.

COME.—Every voter earnestly invited to attend the Hancock & English Club, and become members. A regular meeting every Monday evening.

GRAIN.—It is generally believed that the crops in Umatilla county, in bushels, will not exceed fifty per cent of last year's yield. The prices at present are also lower.

EMIGRANTS.—The "guides" on the road did not succeed in misleading a large part of emigrants from passing through Weston. It is small business for even small men to misrepresent the location of our city.

PETITIONS.—It is time the petitions for the Division of Umatilla county were being gathered in. Those for this end of the county, favoring the line accepted at the Pendleton convention, may be sent to the LEADER office.

MARBLE WORKS.—D. J. Coleman, Walla Walla, is proprietor of the Marble Works, and prepared to furnish Head Stones, Monuments and everything else in his line, at reasonable rates. B. F. Mansfield is agent for Centerville and Weston, and is authorized to take orders and give receipts.

Put up in large packages and is the cheapest and best in the market. Made and for sale by H. E. Holmes, Druggist, Walla Walla, or to be had from your nearest Druggist.

W. G. JAMESON.—Watch-maker and jeweler, corner Main and 3d St. Walla Walla solicits your patronage—Having 17 years practical experience and keeping competent workmen in his employ, is prepared to do fine watch repairing, jewelry work, seal cutting etc, promptly and at reasonable prices. Watches, Clocks, Spectacles always in stock and sold cheaper than any other store in Walla Walla.

SPEAKING.—Hon A. E. Isham will speak on the political issues of the day in favor of Hancock and English, as follows: Pendleton, Saturday Sept. 18th; Weston, Monday, Sept. 20th; Milton, Tuesday, Sept. 21st;—so says the Mountain Sentinel. Fortunately, this will throw the address on the regular night of meeting of the H. & E. Club. Milton Democrats and Republicans alike will turn out and give the speaker a rousing reception.

FROM WARM SPRINGS.

WARM SPRINGS, Sept. 6, 1880.

EDS. LEADER—Gentlemen: This summer resort is now nearly deserted. Visitors, invalids, bathers, fishermen and pleasure-seekers generally are gone. The hills no longer echo back the sound of merry voices. The grove is desolate in all its dreariness. Not a camp-fire illumes the night with its fitful glare. In solitary sadness I wander o'er the scenes of by-gone mirth and jollity, and "feel like one who treads alone some banquet hall deserted." The ghosts of past pleasures are not enchanting company. Like a forsaken king, Lucy reigns, "monarch of all he surveys." But he does not spend his time in thinking of the past, but in preparing for the future. The Warm Spring House is to be enlarged and renovated. A large and commodious bath house is to be built on the north side of the river. An extensive croquet ground is to be laid off in the grove, so that the lovers of feminine billiards may amuse themselves in the shade of the waving trees. These, and other contemplated improvements will render the retreat more inviting and attractive. One drawback to the Warm Springs as a place of repose for persons jaded with business cares, is its lack of postal facilities. Before another year rolls round, this inconvenience ought to be obviated. If I am not mistaken, a mail route from Summerville to Weston, by way of the Warm Springs was established by Congress. There was a route granted over that road, and the matter ought to be looked after. Not only would such a mail service be of great convenience to sojourners at the Springs, but it would be of no small benefit to the people of Summerville, Weston and Walla Walla, making nearly a day's difference to the latter places in the arrival of the Eastern mail. This in itself would be worth a great deal.

It is frequently a matter of boast with Californians that they can, without artificial aid, obtain strawberries eleven months in the year. Now Oregon is not far behind. The other day your correspondent in one of his rambles over the hill, found in a pleasant dell strawberry plants in full bloom. Lower down are found in close proximity, strawberries, raspberries and blackberries, ripe and luscious. This is something of which few places can boast. And here permit me to say that it is a great pity that our authorities have never done anything toward obtaining a reliable Flora of our State. There is but little doubt that it would yield an interesting and instructive chapter to botanical literature. In this respect Idaho has reason to consider herself in advance of Oregon. Perhaps we too, will some day boast of a State Botanist. As Grover refused to die to accommodate the anti-Divisionists, and there being no U. S. Senator to elect, it is not impossible that something may be done in that direction this coming session.

Yours Truly,
YIEM.

Weston Hancock Club.

Last Monday evening, G. W. Walker, of Pendleton, in acceptance of an invitation from the Hancock & English Club of this place, delivered an address to its members and friends. Before the appointed hour, a large concourse of ladies and gentlemen had assembled. The meeting was called to order at 8 o'clock by Hugh McArthur, Vice-President of the Club, who briefly introduced Mr. Walker. The speaker, after a preface couched in elegance and adorned with graceful periods, proceeded to arraign the Republican party upon its responsibility connected with the rebellion, as evidenced by its action thereafter; its motives in freeing the negro; its boastful claims regarding the Resumption act; its action in the Presidential embroglio of 1876, especially regarding consistency; its resort, failing in everything else, to waving the "bloody shirt," with the gross and willful misrepresentations of "outrages" in the South; its actions, as betrayed by most of its leaders, to perpetuate the party at any price, as being the governing principle etc., etc., followed by a brief review of the records of the two principal candidates, Hancock and Garfield, redounding with comment to the glory of the former. The brilliant peroration was addressed mainly to the ladies. Enthusiastic applause greeted the speaker at intervals, and attended the close of his remarks. Hon. J. S. White being called for, made a few pithy remarks, proposing three cheers for Hancock and English, which were responded to by those present. Delightful music was furnished by Messrs Ray, Powers and King, contributing to the enjoyment of the occasion. The address is generally recognized, by both Republicans and Democrats who were present, as a masterly success. Mr. Walker is one of the rising young men of the State.

A Remarkable Result.

It makes no difference how many physicians or how much medicine you have tried it is now an established fact that German Syrup is the only remedy which has given complete satisfaction in cases of Lung Diseases. It is true that there yet thousands of persons who are predisposed to throat and lung affections, consumption, hemorrhages, asthma, severe colds settled on the breast, pneumonia, whooping cough, etc. who have no personal knowledge of Boschee's German Syrup. To such we would say that 50,000 dozen were sold last year without one complaint. Consumptives try just one bottle. Regular size 75 cents. Sold by all Druggists in America.

Announcement.

EDS. LEADER: Please announce that I will hold a basket meeting at Milton in the park east of the hotel—near the flume—commencing on Friday before the 4th Sunday of this month, and continue over Sunday. Quarterly meeting succeeds Saturday and Sunday. All the official members are requested to be present. Several ministers, some from abroad, are expected to be in attendance. A cordial invitation is extended to all.
E. P. WARREN.

FROM HEPPNER.

HEPPNER, Sept 3, 1880.

EDS. LEADER: Could you walk the streets of our usually quiet town with me this morning, you might behold the smiling faces of Squires Clark and Mallory, the smiling faces indicating that an epidemic (if I may be allowed to use the expression) of litigation had swept over this town in the past few days, breaking the monotony that has for so long a time caused the visages of the august Justices and that other useless appendage of community, the lawyer, to look sour. The calm that has so long provoked their ire, was broken last Saturday by the announcement that a clue had been found to implicate the boy who, you will remember, stopped over night at the house where the sheep-herder of Wm. Penland's was murdered last May near this place, and who was at the time arrested and examined, leaving the impression upon the public that he could not be the guilty party; but within the past week a man by the name of Brown, with whom the boy (Brooks) stopped on his way from The Dalles to the house where the murder was committed, having heard of his being there the night the crime was committed, and that he had denied ever carrying fire-arms, disclosed the fact that the boy, Brooks, two nights before the commission of the crime, stayed at his place, and had in his possession a bull dog pistol such as the crime had been committed with. Upon the fact coming to the ears of Squire Mallory, he caused a warrant to issue for the apprehension of the boy Brooks, upon which he was arrested and examined, the prosecution being conducted by G. W. Rea, of this place, as private prosecution. Mr. Conoly and B. B. Bishop were employed by the kind-hearted citizens of the town to defend young Brooks, but the facts developed by the evidence left but little doubt in the minds of the unprejudiced that he was guilty, and he was bound over and will have to stand trial on a charge of murder.

The old saying that it never rains but it pours, was exemplified in this case, for the excitement of the arrest of Brooks had scarce subsided when it was again raised to fever heat by one of our young bloods who had imbibed too much tangle-foot whisky, in his drunken attempts to cut the throats of friends and foes alike; but his murderous intentions were nipped in the bud before any great harm had been done, by our efficient Constable, who found it necessary to tie him hand and foot until the effects of the whisky had died out, when he was interviewed by Squire Mallory, and compelled to assist in increasing the public school fund. We hope it will learn him a lesson that he will never forget.

The Hancock Club is booming here, and we will wipe out one twentieth of the Republican majority of the last election in this State, in this precinct alone.

Specimens Wanted.

In order to show what Eastern Washington and Oregon are good for, the Oregon Railway & Navigation Company desire to obtain specimens of the products of the country. To this end they have prepared small bags which will be left at suitable places in the various towns for producers to fill with samples of grains, grasses and other products, and tags to be filled up with the name of the grain, its variety, county and State or Territory, where grown, yield per acre, when sown, when harvested, etc. These specimens are to be sent to the railroad office at Walla Walla, by mail, express, or otherwise, at the expense of the Company. They will be forwarded from here to the Eastern office of the Company, where every possible pains will be taken to bring them to the notice of the intending emigrant. There is not a farmer in the land who cannot afford to fill one of these small sacks with his produce to promote the aim of the Company—the settlement of the country. The Company have designated R. W. Mitchell, of the U. S. Land office, a commissioner to secure samples of the products of the eastern part of the Territory for exhibition at the Company's Eastern office in Chicago. Mr. Mitchell will select samples at the County Fair, and will furnish the proper facilities for transportation to Chicago.—W. W. Union.

MARRIED.

At the residence of the bridegroom, on Sept. 9th, 1880, by Justice R. M. Powers, Mr. S. S. Watson, of this city, to Miss Olive Warren, of Spokane, W. T.

This couple start out on their matrimonial career with the brightest prospects. The future is rich with promise. May their most sanguine anticipations be fully realized. The bride is in her 72nd year, while the youthful groom is a little older, being 82 years of age. Their example affords encouragement to many a desponding aspirant for conjugal felicity.

The High Water of 1880

Did not reach a point equal to that of 1876, but it was high enough to do a deal of damage. Time, however, will repair this, but time only makes worse every case of disease of the kidneys and urinary organs which a single box of the Oregon Kidney Tea would cure. Sold by all Druggists.

"The Editor" and his Associate.

In their sanctum they sat,
Much too sober to chat,
The next issue their thoughts did engage;
Though the "outside" was there,
They sighed with despair
As they gazed on the inside's blank page.

Just as blank was Ed's mind,
As he racked it to find
A theme simple enough for its grasp;
But he struggled in vain,
And acknowledged the same,
That he found it a hard, hopeless task.

"What a bother," said Ben,
As he picked up a pen
And assumed a most serious air,
"That the type I must set—
All the locals beget,
And 'The Editor's' burden must bear!"

For an hour did he pore,
And at times madly swore,
But no "idea" once entered his head.
"Well, no matter," said he,
(Nor yet mind that I see)
"I have written as much as poor Ed."

"Now,' said Ed, "let us drink,
And perhaps I can think
Of a subject to grace with my pen."
"Oh," said Ben, in his ire,
"You've no brain you can fire,
Let me see the exchanges again."

Then the scissors he took,
Gave a withering look
At poor Ed who kept craving a match,
Daubed the paste from the pot,
On the "copy" he got;
Both agreed 'twas a terrible "scratch."
—P. Q.

THEY TWAIN.—Dame Rumor hath it—how truthfully we cannot say—that Dr J H. Irvine, of Centerville, whose sagacious countenance is now chronically wreathed in smiles, is about to "take to himself" a fair young lady, and "they twain shall be one flesh." This is sublime, and we cannot but congratulate the gallant Dr. on his approaching joys.

COMMENDABLE.—One of our young men invests some of his change in purchasing excellent reprints of the best essayists and standard authors. If more of our people would do likewise, their minds would be improved, and better habits take the place of more objectionable ones.

This has been a busy week in the settlement of honest differences of opinion. In the case of Emmerson vs. Michals for $108, after a jury trial, judgment was given for the plaintiff for $74 and his disbursements. Mr. Meachen for plaintiff and Mr. Knox for defendant.

RENT.—An action for rent of a farm is commenced before Justice Powers. It is not often that such actions are brought in our courts. It was brought by Alex McDonald vs Moses Taylor, A. Meachen for pltf., and S. V. Knox for deft.

GONE.—A lady, wife of W. H. H. Scott, while laboring under dementia, terminated her life by hanging herself. She was in life a most estimable person, belonging to a highly respectable family. Her family have the sympathy of the entire community.

ST. JOHN HOTEL.—We are gratified to announce that Mrs. Raley, of Pendleton, will take charge of the St. John when it will be thrown open to the public. This lady will be a valuable acquisition to the city, aside from her enviable reputation in the management of a hotel.

Dan Love was thrown from a raft of logs into the North Umpqua recently, and floated 100 yards down the stream and dislocated a shoulder by striking a rock in the rapids, before he was rescued.

PERSONAL.—Gen. J. H. Turner was in the city last Sunday. Op. Scott and his estimable wife made a short visit to friends here. They are always welcome.

APPEARED.—Mayor T. J. Lucy, of this large city, living about 18 miles from the LEADER office, visited our portion of the city this week. He looks hale and hearty.

DIED.—At Milton, Sept. 5, 1880, Mary, daughter of J. H. and Ruby Carpenter; aged 10 months and 28 days. Boise City paper please copy.

SPELLING.—The State Teachers' Institute which met at Salem voted by a majority of two, to deform our present mode of spelling. Don't Josh us too much.

SHAKSPEARE.—During last week all the extra copies of this model dramatist, in town were brought into requisition. Thanks to our new Musico-Literary society.

WATER STREET.—Grading on this street in front of the Baptist Church, is at last in progress. This means more sidewalk and less inconvenience from mud and wet.

Marshal Wood arrested a man for drunkenness the other day. City Hall fund increased $5.

Webfoot oil is the boss medicine, and can had for fifty cents a bottle at McColl & Miller's.
