

Weston Weekly Leader.

FRIDAY, MAY 22, 1885.

OUR AGENTS.

The following are the authorized agents of the LEADER in their respective localities:

LOCAL LEADERS.

Circuit Court is still grinding away. Additional local news on first page. Business has brightened up since the fair.

J. J. Banta & Co., Centerville, sell low for cash. Pitching horse shoes has superseded base ball.

Goods cheap at J. J. Banta & Co., Centerville.

Dr. Williams' is expected here from Salem to-day.

A fine line of cigars and tobacco at J. J. Banta & Co., Centerville.

Five persons were baptized in the mill race at Pendleton last Sunday.

When in need of drugs don't fail to call on J. J. Banta & Co., Centerville.

The Normal Institute at this place will commence on the first Monday in July.

Oils of all kinds for sale as low as the lowest at J. J. Banta & Co., Centerville.

Strawberries sold for seven cents per pound in Weston last Tuesday. Cheap enough.

Mr. L. Blum, of Pendleton, accompanied by a carriageful of ladies, was in the city yesterday.

A daughter of Mr. Danziger who lives on Wild Horse died last week after a very brief illness—scarlet fever.

When an honest man wants a twenty broken in those hard times he is apt to be mistaken for a change fiend.

Where there are good crop prospects the drummer will be found also. He has been quite numerous here of late.

The following is the special tariff on wool to Portland: Echo, 85 cents per hundred weight; Alkali, 75 cents.

There will be divine services at All Saints' Church next Sunday, morning and evening. Sunday School at 12 m.

Bears are said to be plentiful in the mountains east of the city. A large one was killed near Doble's mill a few days ago.

Geo. Proebstel, who was injured last week by being run over by a wagon has almost recovered from the effects of the accident.

Large quantities of freight for Centerville pass through town every day. The LEADER is pleased to note this evidence of business prosperity.

Talk of the valley of Cashmere in the garden of Mrs. F. R. Mitchell, of this city, there are as less than twenty-seven varieties of roses in bud and bloom.

On Tuesday we had one or two gentle showers and hailstorms that lasted about fifteen minutes. The ground was covered with hail-stones. The programme was repeated on Wednesday.

The sale of the property on Main street, belonging to the Watson estate was confirmed by the court. Mr. Pauly, the purchaser, goes to Pendleton to-day to make a final settlement of the transaction.

Mr. L. McElroy and family have removed to their cattle ranch on the Umatilla river near the Warm Springs. Mr. McElroy has fenced in a large pasture which he intends to stock with horses and cattle.

We are pleased to note that the Grand Lodge I. O. O. F., of Oregon, has elected Dr. Williamson of this place as one of the two delegates from this State to attend the Sovereign Grand Lodge which meets at Baltimore, Maryland.

Hereafter "solicitors" who want to sell "by sample or otherwise," in Pendleton, directly to the consumer, except farmers peddling farm produce, will have to take out a license and pay $5 per day, the city council having passed an ordinance to that effect.

Mr. H. O. Marshall, the brick mason, informs the LEADER that he has made a contract with Reese & Redman, of Adams, to build for them in a few weeks a brick store, 31x75 feet. This will be the first brick building in Adams, but judging from the enterprise of its business men, many more will follow.

In compliance with the conditions of the Hault bill the fare from or to Portland on the O. R. & N. Co.'s line has been reduced as follows: Pendleton, $9.24; Adams, $9.77; Centerville, $9.92; Blue Mountain, $11.43; Milton, $11.06; Walla Walla, $10.45. This goes into effect to-day. The freight charges per hundred pounds, between Pendleton and Portland are on goods of first and second classes $1.10; third class, 91 cents; fourth class 76 cents.

Mr. D. T. Fackler, representing the publishing firm of R. L. Polk & Co., Portland, is in the city collecting material for a Directory of Umatilla, Walla Walla, Columbia and Garfield counties, which is to be issued soon. The Directory will give in alphabetical order the name, occupation and residence of all adult persons, with postoffice address and number of acres owned by each, together with assessed valuation of property. In addition to this the book will contain a complete classified business Directory for each of the towns in said counties. Messrs. Polk & Co. have had great experience in this kind of work. It is not difficult to see that the forthcoming volume will be one of value to every farmer and business man in the territory embraced.

Adams Correspondence.

ADAMS, May 20. To the Editor of the LEADER: More weddings on the tapis—whatever that means.

Mr. Sills is busy at work preparing his brick yard. He contemplates burning 200,000 bricks in his first kiln.

More than one of our business men have made hurried trips to Portland lately in questionable company. No offense, friend M.

Things have freshened up amazingly since the rain. Reese & Redman sold eight barrels of sugar to country customers on Saturday, besides enough other goods to have started an ordinary store. Notes that were worth twenty-five cents on the dollar are now worth one hundred. Five and one-half inches of rain fell by actual measurement, besides the later showers.

The latest sensation is the formation of the "Adams Athletic Club" (limited). Organized last Saturday evening; has already a membership of twenty-seven; object, a whole lot of fun; open every evening after six o'clock, except Sunday; ungentlemanly behavior cause for expulsion; drinking and gambling strictly prohibited. John T. Redman, President; Clem Reese, Secretary; George Kidnour, Sergeant-at-Arms; E. Kidnour, Charles Bowling and E. Peoples, Trustees. We have already boxing gloves, war clubs, trapeze bars, etc., and the amount of fun we have is wonderful. I do not think the preacher meant more than half what he said last Sunday in his sermon with regard to our club. It is certainly not, nor could it be, the terrible pandemonium he described. If it was not against the rules to invite parties within a radius of four miles of town, we would give him an invitation, and he could then see for himself our innocent method of conducting affairs. I think we will suspend the rules for once, and then won't we put on the gloves and knock him out!

M. S. LEE.

T. B. Peterson & Brothers, Philadelphia, will issue in a few days "SNOR PAPERS," by Adair Welcker, Deputy Superintendent of Public Instruction, Sacramento, California. The scene is laid in San Francisco, Oakland and the surrounding country, and the hero, a bluff old "Forty-Niner," has grown rich at the mines. He comes to San Francisco to mingle with the Snobs and see life, and the shrewd sayings delivered in peculiar style, are of the most convincing type, being one whirl of ludicrous adventures, which are quite exciting and sensational, while the action never ceases.

Hosts of droll characters are introduced, among them several remarkably lively young ladies and some ladies of uncertain age who are entering fathers in the matrimonial sea, while the local snobs and dudes are mercilessly ridiculed. "SNOR PAPERS" will be published in one large duodecimo volume of 500 pages, at the exceedingly low price of seventy-five cents a copy in paper cover, or $1.25 bound in morocco cloth, and copies will be sent to any one at once on receipt of price. We predict for it a very large sale. Local agents are wanted in every county. Large wages can be made selling it. Address at One T. B. Peterson & Brothers, Philadelphia, Pa., for special terms to Agents.

CIRCUIT COURT PROCEEDINGS.

MARRIED.

YOGAL-FANNING—In Pendleton on May 9, 1885, at the residence of Wm. Chandler, by W. R. Lewis, J. P., Mr. L. A. Vogel and Miss Lydia Fanning.

BORN.

QUINN—In Pendleton, on the 10th inst., to the wife of M. Quinn, a boy.

ROSS—In Pendleton, on the 12th inst., to the wife of Jas. Ross, a girl.

IN MEMORIAM.

Died, March 1st, 1835, near Pilot Rock, Umatilla county, Oregon, of congestion of the brain, Jesse R. Benson. Father Benson was born April 30th, 1823; was married in 1849 to Miss Emily White; emigrated to this State in 1864, and settled on the Umatilla Meadows, where he remained several years, during which time his beloved companion departed this life December 1st, 1871. Having lived a devoted Christian, she died in the triumphs of a living faith in Christ her Redeemer. Four children survive the departed parents and two have gone before.

Brother Benson was one of the valuable members of the Pioneer Baptist Church of Pilot Rock, Oregon. He served the church as clerk for several years. He was a great friend to the Sunday School work, and by vote of the Sunday School workers in his own neighborhood he had served in the capacity of superintendent of the Sunday School, which office he filled to the perfect satisfaction of all concerned up to the time of his death. During his brief illness he would frequently make inquiry about the Sunday School, expressing great anxiety for its future prosperity.

He was also elected by the voters of this county to the responsible office of County Commissioner for two terms, which office he filled with great credit to himself and the people. He was not in any sense of the word an office-seeker. The office sought him. He was truly a servant of the people in every capacity to which he was called to officiate, regarding the wants of others first, and very conscientious in all of his deliberations.

The night of his death his only daughter living, Mrs. Mary B. Johnson, administered to a loving father's wants until midnight, at which time she was relieved by her brother Oscar. Ten minutes past three in the morning he was resting apparently free from pain. Five minutes later the son heard as he thought his father speak his name, but turning to him, he found him unconscious. He never spoke again. Fifteen minutes later his spirit took its flight to the "home of the soul" which had been prepared by the Saviour in whom he trusted while living. He had been a devoted and exemplary Christian for a quarter of a century, ever ready to assist in his utmost ability in everything that tended to promote and strengthen the cause which he espoused. In his affliction he was ever patient, gentle and kind to those who administered unto him, bearing with meekness and submission all for Christ. His loss to the community and church is deeply felt. He was a faithful friend, a loving father. His children honored him; death glorified him. Beloved father, friend, brother, farewell!

W. H. PRUETT.

When baby was sick, we gave her CASTORIA. When she was a child, we gave her CASTORIA. When she became Miss, she clung to CASTORIA. When she had children, she gave them CASTORIA.

Then and Now.

Pass the butter gently, Mahel, Push it lightly through the air; In the corner of the dish, love, You will find a nut-brown hair. What fond memories it awakens Of the days we were so well. When upon my fire our coffee Oiled with butter, your little head. Longingly I stroked those tresses In the happy days gone by; Now I strike them every meal-time In the butter on the pie.

Syrup of Figs.

Nature's own true laxative. Pleasant to the Palate, acceptable to the Stomach, harmless in its nature, painless in its action. Cures habitual Constipation, Biliousness, Indigestion and kindred ills. PEN AND STICHERS.

Somehow or other the great corporations are like nettles. Grasp them fairly and they do not sting.

Don't forget that Reese & Redman are located at Adams, and do a "boss" business.

The "Christian Association of Young Men" in Berlin, during the two years of its operation, has acquired a membership of 1800.

Steinaker & Co. keep the Buckingham & Hecht's boots and shoes.

An attempt to pay a fine of $5, imposed upon him by a justice of the peace, by cancelling a debt of $7.50 which His Honor owed him, was recently made by the editor of a California paper, but with what success is not made known.

Ladies, have you been to see the fine bargains given at the Great I. X. L. Store in our Cloaks Dolmans and Suit Departments.

Mary Anderson, it is said, does not like to be stared at in church. Mary wants every one who looks at her to pay $2.

Steinaker & Co. have the largest and best assortment of wall paper in Weston.

E. W. Howe, the Kansas editor who wrote "The Story of a Country Town" and "The Mystery of the Locks," never went to school after the age of 7. He has traveled little and read little. He has a poor opinion of himself, but has heard that his wife speaks of him as a "good fellow," and her judgment is a great comfort to him.

For bargains in glassware and crockery go to Reese & Redman's, Adams.

Every girl is anxious to learn the Mr.'s of catching a beau.

"It's an awful cold to-day, ain't it, Jones?" Jones, who is a dealer in oils: "Yes, I have been cold oil day."

Reese & Redman, Adams, are paying the highest market rates for wheat.

Some one says: "A play must have a motive." Most of them have, and it seems to be to get people to pay $1.50 to see a twenty-five cent show.

At the risk of his life Jeremiah Black of Portland, Me., stopped a runaway horse. The lady who occupied the carriage presented him with a cigar. Generosity is inherent with some people.

A man rarely begins to feel that it is a religious duty to shave himself until his barber begins to patronize a free lunch counter where spring onions and limburger cheese are the leading delicacies.

Why is the man at the lower end of a whip-saw like a man who is dead and buried? Because he is under the sawed.

The Popular Approval.

Of the most famous Syrup of Figs as the most efficacious and agreeable preparation ever offered to the world as a cure for Habitual Constipation, Biliousness, Indigestion and kindred ills, has been won by the wise plan pursued by the California Fig Syrup Company. Knowing that any remedy truly beneficial in its effects on the system, and at the same time pleasant to the taste, will meet with a rapid sale, the Company, through its agent for Weston, Mr. W. H. McCo, gives away sample bottles free of charge. Try it and judge for yourself. Large bottles fifty cents or one dollar.

The Outsider.

Here on the carlistone stand I, Disconsolate, wiping my eye, And I sigh. Why? Because when into the market I dip in a moderate way, on the strength of a tip, I wonder go awry; That's why. Big men go in with a sweep, Buy all the wheat they can sweep With a rush And crush; And by the time I've followed suit They have sold out the wheat and sold me to boot Without a blush. Tush!

I go in again on the turn, With a help to get you I burn. And I sell. Well— By that time the crowd has bought for a raise, And so I am strikingly whipsawed both ways. And lead I yell.

Goldendale Sentinel: Three impetuous railroad hands wanting to go from the grating caisps above Yakima to the fishing grounds at Astoria made a rough looking fat boat, in which they started on their voyage of 400 miles down the Yakima and Columbia rivers. Those fellows will be apt to succeed.

FOR SALE.

A fine farm, two miles from Centerville, 100 acres cleared land and 80 acres of timber land on easy terms. Will take one-half in cattle or horses. A big bargain to be had. Apply at once to B. F. SWAGGART, Centerville, Oregon.

Washington Territory.

The Goldendale Sentinel and Gazette have consolidated.

A postoffice has been established at Glenwood, on Canas Prairie.

Walla Walla Journal: We venture the assertion that there is no better display of beef in the United States than that now selling in our market.

LaComer Mail: The best hen egg of the season is at hand. It comes from Mr. O. C. Currier's place, and measures six and a half by seven and one-fourth inches.

The Adams County Record is the name given the new paper at Riville, the first issue of which saw the light on the 12th inst. George Blankenship is its publisher.

The foundation for Stetson & Post's new mill at Seattle is nearing completion. The piles, pilings, foundation timbers and labor for the foundation will cost $4,000.

Walla Walla Union: Just as we predicted, there are men who are already complaining of "too much rain." These men would growl if they were going to be hanged.

Olympia Transcript: The special school tax question was up before Judge Hoyt last Friday, who decided that it was illegal and no tax could be collected under the law.

Dayton Chronicle: William King, of this county, started for Chicago Friday morning with a carload of large, well-broken horses, which he expects to dispose of at some point east of the Mississippi river.

Seattle Call: "The Caterpillar pests are destroying the fruit trees in Olympia as well as here. There has been reprehensible carelessness on the part of some owners of orchards in reference to their early extermination."

Whatcom county returns show the following population and valuation of property. Whatcoms, 260; New Whatcoms, 150; Bellingham, 80; Fairhaven, 40; Lummi Island, 20; remainder of county, 2,245. Total population, 3,005.

The citizens of Ellensburg have offered a grand reward for the detection and conviction of any one guilty of selling liquor to Indians. And they have decided, that penalties lofers must go to work, leave town or receive an introduction to the inside of the calaboose.

Walla Walla Statesman: James Kirkman removed some newly hatched chickens from under a hen on Tuesday to give the remaining eggs a better chance. On Wednesday morning hearing a noise in the room, he found the old hen making a terrible clatter, for the cat had taken the chicks under its special protection and was caring for them like a mother. A few days ago, in the Brice valley, we were shown a hen that was taking care of five kittens, and it was a peculiar sight to see when the kittens were placed on a barn floor to see the hen checking around and scratching the floor, as if to give her proteges a safe to sleep.
