

Weston Weekly Leader.

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 4, 1885.

The ravages of cholera in Spain are terrible. The fearful disease is carrying off hundreds of victims daily, and little seems to be operative in checking it.

The season of the year is approaching in which the educational energies of the country are to be operated. The vacation and rest in their time and place indispensable, are now ended, and the laborer in the field of education must resume his toil.

Fair-minded men, whether Democrats or Republicans, cannot but view with disapproval, akin to disgust, the utterances of Sherman in opening the campaign in Ohio by "bloody shirt" cries of the oldest type.

The cattle are being moved out of Indian Territory by thousands. It is expected they will all be off the reservation within 30 days.

Judge Deady's Annual Report on the State University.

For the LEADER.

The newspapers of the Willamette valley have printed Judge Deady's report of this institution for the past year. The report is a good one; the Judge is incapable of presenting any other kind of a report. But it is the liberality with which this institution is treated by the Legislature that makes the Judge's report such interesting reading.

Twelve teachers have been engaged in instructing these 144 young men and women, which would give an average of twelve scholars to each professor. This would seem to make teaching in the Oregon University a comparatively easy position, particularly when compared to the labor required of the common school teachers who have not unfrequently 50 scholars under their charge.

The Legislature which seems to have made this University a "pet" refused to assist, in a small way, a Normal School in Eastern Oregon. Eastern Oregon might as well make up its mind that the Willamette Valley is supremely indifferent to its people and the facilities for local improvements and educational facilities.

An acute Washington lawyer has made the interesting discovery that there are several thousand American citizens, not in the civil, military or naval service, who are lawfully invested with titular rank. These are officers of the late war, who, after being mustered out of the service, received brevet commissions from the president or from a governor.

The cattle are being moved out of Indian Territory by thousands. It is expected they will all be off the reservation within 30 days.

Get a republican form of government, and it is noteworthy that the order of the Legion of Honor is still maintained in republican France.

The obvious difficulty in establishing such an order in this country is the extreme partisan character of our government. It is safe to presume that if a Legion of Honor were attempted here the most active ward politicians would receive the decorations of the highest rank.

Aug. 20, 400 Hungarians and Poles left Hazelton, Pa., for the northwest. A mission has been organized in England to search for General Gordon, believed to be still living.

All the roads have flown from southern Germany, and the natives think the cholera is coming, therefore.

The transcontinental roads have reduced the freight rate on hops from the coast from 3 to 2 cents a pound.

Mrs. Mary J. Roberts has been appointed postmistress at Lincoln, W. T.; James S. Haviland, jr., at Prescott.

Troops have arrived on the Kansas border to act as a guard and to see that the President's cattle order is enforced.

The sub-Treasurer at New York thus far this week has disbursed 166,800 standard silver dollars and $92,700 in fractional coin.

A loss of several thousand dollars was occasioned at Bradford, Penn., yesterday by the explosion of 3,000 pounds of nitroglycerine.

Lucius A. White, the Brazilian note counterfeiter, has been remanded to jail at St. Louis and the hearing in his case was postponed for ten days.

Testimony before the Coroner's Jury at Emporia in the Walkup poisoning case shows that the body contained arsenical poisons. Mrs. Walkup and her cousin are still in prison.

Gen. Dan Butler, representing the Indian territory cattle men in the fight against the president's order for expulsion of their herds, is, it is said, himself the proprietor of a large ranch in the district concerned.

Congressman Holman thinks the silver question will not cut any figure in the next session. He thinks the democrats will decrease tariff on articles of prime necessity and increase it on articles of luxury.

An effort to evict tenants near Badly Ragget, county Killarney, Ireland, yesterday, was resisted by about 2,000 persons, who were charged by the police with bayonets. Many on both sides were injured.

STATE NEWS.

Josephine county has 794 persons of school age.

Portland had a $10,000 fire last Sunday morning.

Heavy timber fires are raging between Linkville and Bly.

Lane county has 4103 persons of school age, 574 of them in Eugene City.

In Linn county there will be $75,000 worth of hops at present prices in the fields.

The mineral resources of Jackson and Josephine counties are attracting more attention than ever just now.

Bears are frequently encountered in the Willowa valley. Food is rather short with them in the woods.

An assay from the "Mountain Belle" mine at Pine creek, owned by Toy & Smith, showed $1225 to the ton.

Prospecting continues in the vicinity of Woodville, Jackson county and some promising ledges have been struck.

A large quantity of Baker county lime was recently shipped to points in Idaho, and is said to be a first-class quality.

The annual reunion of the southern Oregon Pioneer association will be held at Ashland on Thursday, September 10.

A six-year-old daughter of D. R. Lakin of Eugene City, was thrown off the cars at Summit Station last Monday and killed.

A party engaged in mining on one of the tributaries of Elliott creek, a few days ago, took out one piece worth $175, and several smaller ones.

A. J. Doak of Spencer creek, one of the pioneers of Lane county, died in Eugene City Saturday morning, August 23, 1885. He came to Oregon in 1845.

Dr. Marchand, of Baker City, has made thirty different assays of quartz from new mines on Pine creek, and which run from $27 to $2350 gold per ton.

James Hamilton, an old miner on Canyon creek, Josephine county, recently struck a very rich prospect in his claim. Out of twelve pans of dirt he realized $15.

Bears are committing depredations on flocks of sheep in Grant county. One day last week 230 lambs were killed by them in the band of John Luce, in Bear valley.

C. W. Burrage & Co., of Portland, have put several men at work on the iron mines in Rock point precinct, Josephine county. These deposits promise to become quite valuable in time.

A. D. McKee & Co., who are mining on Elliott creek, Jackson county, have taken out some more good sized nuggets of gold. One weighed $85, and so the smaller ones picked up.

D. C. Krantz's house, barn and other buildings at his place near Dora, Coos county, were destroyed by fire on the 19th inst. A stable field took fire from a burning stump, then the fences and next the buildings.

An attempt is being made to have the Lakeview land office moved to Harney valley. As it is now centrally located it is considered an injustice to the people of Klamath county to remove it any further east.

The Whitmar mine, in the Pine creek district, is now down to a depth of twenty-five feet, with a tunnel of twenty-five feet. It is said that there is now ore enough on the dump of the mine to pay the bonded price and erect a mill.

Nels Monson's residence on Johnson creek, near Ten-Mile lake, Coos county, was destroyed by fire on the 14th inst. Monson works at Newport, and was not at home at the time. Mrs. Monson barely had time to save her two babies.
