bothered again with such an inconsequential side issue as the department of state.

The pastor and male members of the Baptist church at Pendleton announce that they will go without their coats to worship next Sunday, and we presume it will be all right if they'll only keep their shirts on.

Hiram Maxim is quoted as saying that it is "more dangerous to ride in an automobile than to go into the trenches," which remark may be only another boost for the Ford.

"He was a good man," is the tribute heard everywhere to the late Judge Hartman, who in public and private life gave conclusive evidence of sterling citizenship.

FRED MCGREW AND BRIDE WILL RESIDE AT WESTON

Miss Emma B. Sempert and Mr. Frederic E. McGrew were united in marriage Sunday, June 27, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. August Sempert, in Portland. "Love's Coronation" was sung at the wedding by Mrs. Ralph G. Saling of Weston, and a piano solo was rendered by William R. Boone.

The bride is a popular Portland girl who has resided there for the past four years and formerly lived in Idaho. The bridegroom is the elder son of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. B. McGrew, former residents of Weston who still have land interests here. He lately completed a long period of study, during which he was graduated in both pharmacy and law, and is a capable and promising young man.

Mr. and Mrs. McGrew have gone to San Francisco for a month's honeymoon, after which they will come to Weston to make their home. It is understood here that they will reside upon the McGrew farm a mile from town. They are assured of a cordial welcome as a valuable acquisition to the Weston community.

ODD BITS OF NEWS.

Frederick, Md.—Rev. Geo. White-side, preaching a sermon on the subject, "Take Unto Thyself a Wife," was interrupted by H. C. Rockwell and Miss Nellie Barger who, taking the preacher at his word, arose from their places in the congregation and marched down the aisle to the pulpit, where the young man requested the minister to marry them. After a whispered conversation the ceremony was performed. The sermon was never finished, for the affair was turned into a reception.

Ottawa, Can.—A bill has been introduced into the house of commons giving women nurses and all soldiers, whether 21 years old or not, the right to vote. It is likely to pass.

Perth Amboy, N. J.—Mr. and Mrs. McFarlane have 17 children. Her husband thought it would be right to hire a housekeeper to help her. As soon as the housekeeper appeared Mrs. McFarlane walked out and deserted the family. When arrested she said that she did not want anyone interfering with her work and would go back if the housekeeper was fired.

London, Eng.—When Lloyd-George's bill passes, the government will control absolutely the sale of liquor in selected districts—areas where munitions of war are being made—including that dispensed in clubs and grocery stores. A commission under the chairmanship of Lord Dunellen will deal with the question of compensation to the liquor dealers for their losses.

New York City, N. Y.—Last Christmas Mrs. Sadie Brown hung up her stocking on the mantel, expecting her husband to place some little gift therein. On Christmas morning the stocking was empty. Unable to forgive this neglect and never recovering from the disappointment, she has sued for divorce.

Hillsboro, O.—Herman Morris and wife, while playfully struggling, knocked a pistol from the hands of a visitor, which was discharged. The bullet passed through Morris' body and entered the heart of Mrs. Morris, killing her instantly. Morris died shortly afterward.

Fellow named James Eads How has come into a bit of money in St. Louis and intends to start a newspaper for hoboes. How has done some hoboeing himself and he is in earnest about the project. We are thinking of applying for the position of correspondent for Pendleton and just as a sample of what we might do if turned loose, we will try our hand at a letter:

ATHENA CLINCHES EAST END "RAG"

"Slats" Wheeler Puzzles Suburban Batters, But His Support is Eratic.

League Scores
Athena 7, Weston 2.
Milton-Freewater 20, Helix 13.

A young whirlwind tangoed over the Athena lot last Sunday during the progress of the baseball engagement between the Mountaineers and the Suburbanites. "Slats" Wheeler tossed a league sphere into the twister in their merry progress, and offered a cigar to every Weston player who would put out a man.

It was all in vain. Perhaps Wheeler should have "made medicine" like an Indian doctor. Perhaps he should have knelt and prayed. Perhaps he should have carried a rabbit's foot in his 'nor' by 'nor' east pocket. He did none of these things, however, and with a weakened line-up Weston took the short end of a seven to two score while Doc Osburn's suburban bunch clinched the East End championship.

The game was weird, but hardly fascinating. Weston made a dozen errors, and another wasn't needed to constitute an unlucky number. Most of them came in the second and third innings, when only two hits netted all of Athena's runs, so loose was Wheeler's infield support. With a smoothly-working infield he would have won his game. He had Athena's mighty swatsmen biting vainly at his slow teasers, and allowed but six scattered hits throughout the game, while Weston garnered ten off Shlok and Tuerck, the Athena pitchers. Wheeler's slow, puzzling and peculiar, worked fully as well as when he won the 1910 championship for Weston. Athena's runs were unearned in the second and third, and he shut out the Suburbanites for the remainder of the matinee.

L. Blomgren and Lovell each batted 1000 percent for Weston, getting three hits apiece in three times up, which supplied a modicum of consolation.

The 1915 season is now ended insofar as Weston is concerned, as next Sunday's scheduled game with Milton-Freewater is forfeited to that talented and hypenated aggregation by mutual consent.

Consider the Powder Puff.

Verily the days of our most sacred institutions are numbered. All flesh is as grass, with the lawn mower coming over the hill. The latest cry is "Down with the powder puff!" Think of it, girls! You whose shiny noses, under the protection of the powder puff, have been turned up in derision at school and home. You who have made surreptitious journeys under the automobile lap-robe or the overhanging table-cloth to the place of mystery where reposed the little first aid to beauty. You who cling with a drowning grip to the little waft of down and powder with which you daintily cover your freckles and deny Time's determined efforts. What will you do when the dread law-maker takes away your powder puff, and forces you to appear unpowdered and unprotected before a grasping and unfeeling public? But, perhaps, it won't go that far! Braver men than mere law-makers have quailed before your powder and puff ball. The health commissioners, so far, are but demanding that you stick to your own puff, on the ground that "Neither borrower nor lender be, for loan of losses both powder and puff and your good complexion." But beware! The reformer is abroad and nothing is sacred under his devastating hand.

The Hustler.

I am the guy called printer's ink; I put hard times upon the blink—My face is black as Erebus—But I'm a lively, hustling cuss. I make men rich who were once poor; I'm on the job, I am for sure. I get work for the lab'ring man And help to fill his dinner can; I aid the girls who must earn their feed.

I am the friend of all in need. I sell all things from pins to guns, In cargoes of ten thousand tons. I'm on the job both night and day. Away from work I never stay. I am "A I" "O K" and "I," And I take a vacation—nil. I serve the small as well as great (See Business Office for my rate.) I am the guy that brings the dough—Just try me and you'll find it so.—Danville Commercial News.
