MISS HANNAH WESSLING

Miss Hannah Wessling is the bread-making expert of the United States department of agriculture.

Confidence in the future, according to the committee, of which A. W. Douglas, of St. Louis, is chairman, has grown apace with the steady progress of the crops and the slow but continual improvement in industrial affairs.

There still continues, however, to be conservatism and caution in buying and in new commitments. The reason seems to be that it is better business to wait until the results of the crops are known beyond question before venturing a more extended way, and as a consequence stocks of merchandise throughout the country continue light.

Port-au-Prince — The presidential election to fill the place of General Vilbrun Guillaume, who was removed from the French legation by a mob of Haitians July 28 and shot to death, has been postponed indefinitely. The chief of the band was taken prisoner and placed on board the United States cruiser Washington. Other disorders are reported to have occurred at St. March and Aux Capes.

San Francisco—Charles F. Niles, an aviator formerly in the service of General Carranza, sustained painful but not fatal injuries when engine trouble at the outset of what was to have been a practice flight at the exposition compelled him to plunge into San Francisco Bay with his aeroplane. In falling he was thrown against an iron bar. Three upper teeth were broken and two lower teeth torn out by the roots. When trouble developed he managed to glide out over the water. A nearby motorboat brought him ashore.
