Joe Blomgren has bought the Sam Caplinger place in the foothills, containing 240 acres, from William Nicholson of Milton. It adjoins the Blomgren ranch, which it "rounds out" quite advantageously.

The Leader is in receipt from Superintendent Young of a premium list for the First Annual School Fair of Umatilla County, to be held at Vincent September 16 and 17. The purpose of the fair is to give emphasis to the work in the schools along industrial lines, and a large list of money prizes is offered. Two boys and two girls who make the best showing in this county will be sent to the State Fair Camp for Boys and Girls at Salem. One boy and one girl will be chosen at the Vincent fair, and the other boy and girl from sections of the county not exhibiting there. Fire broke out Saturday evening in Ralph Kinneer's barn on Coose creek, during Mr. Kinneer's absence. His wife, tirelessly fought the flames, carrying water from a trough some distance away, and had them nearly subdued when neighbors began to arrive. For a time both house and barn were in grave danger of destruction. Earl Kinneer, helpless with a crippled leg could only drag himself to the window and watch his sister-in-law's desperate struggle against the red demon. It is said that with her individual "bucket brigade" she emptied the trough, which contains 250 gallons, and only succeeded in controlling the fire until after it had reached within a few inches of the hay.
Weston growers were tempted by $25 per ton to let go of considerable barley during the past week. Some 20,000 sacks were bought on this basis by E. A. Barnes, Weston agent of the Pacific Grain Elevator company, held-over barley going at 50 cents less than the above figure. About 5000 sacks were purchased by Frank Price, manager of the Weston Warehouse company. Last Saturday Mr. Barnes bought 5000 bushels of wheat on a basis of 90 cents, this being the only recent transaction reported in this cereal. Wheat is now quoted at 85 cents, with none offering. Barley is lower and quiet since its little surge.
A very pleasant birthday surprise party was given Saturday evening to Miss Hortense Baker at her home on Broad street, her 16th birthday anniversary being thus commemorated. Herman Stages, Worth Watts, Lewis and William Van Winkle, Teddy Barnes, Kendall Smith, Frank Lavender, Neil Graham, George Banister.
Rev. N. D. Wood went to Milton Monday to meet Bishop Walter R. Lambuth, who gave an interesting address that evening at Columbia College on "Eight Hundred Miles on Foot Through the Heart of America." The bishop presided at the laying of the cornerstone of the new South Methodist church at Walla Walla. Bishop Lambuth was born in China, his parents being the first missionaries sent to that country by the M. E. Church, South. When he grew up he also became a missionary and established the African missions of the same denomination.
Condon Globe. One of the largest cash real estate deals ever closed in this county was made last week by M. Pittman when the Sam McGilvray farm of 450 acres was sold to John Harder of Milton, Oregon, for $12,000. This farm is in the Mayville country and is practically all fine land, only 30 acres being unfit for farming. Mr. Harder is a farmer and owns 400 acres in the Milton country. He is undecided as to whether he will move here. He says that the land here looks better to him than the land in his home neighborhood.
Milton Eagle: The Milton city council at its meeting last Monday night, authorized the second application of oil for Main street, and ordered a car which is expected to arrive at any time. The county sprinkler is now in the city waiting for the car of oil to come. This car will be larger than the first one which held about 6000 gallons, but Freewater will take a few hundred gallons of the new in the second car, leaving about 8000 or 9000 gallons for use on Milton streets.
A. C. Allen of Davenport, Iowa, an old-time friend and former partner of Contractor S. T. Gore, dropped in upon Mr. Gore at Weston Monday while making a trip through the west. In early years Mr. Gore and Mr. Allen were associated together in Iowa in contracting and building, having previously studied architecture at the same college.
Nearly $25,000 worth of wheat and farm machinery burned up Monday night on the Hueston & Son ranch between Walla Walla and Watsburg. Starting supposedly from sparks from the thrasher engine the flames wiped out more than 20,000 bushels of sacked wheat and destroyed two headers. Four mules were also lost in the fire.

Frank Taylor, who has been in failing health for several months, is undergoing treatment at Pendleton. Mr. Taylor's illness is ascribed to Bright's disease.
Miss Florence E. March, a normal school graduate and successful young teacher of Weston, was among the Umatilla county teachers who were recently granted state life certificates.
While driving in from the warehouses yesterday two rival gangs of Weston wheat users tried to "ouss" each other. All concerned were finally spilled in the road and both rigs unharmed.
Upon their recent arrival in Albany Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Neeland were given a shower by friends of the bridegroom, who has resided there twenty-five years and is a well-known engineer. They have gone to buscketching in a home of their own at 1500 Fruit street. Mrs. Neeland was formerly Miss Ivy Nottle of this city.
The force of carpenters employed on the Dr. Watts building was considerably increased this week, and it is expected that it will be ready for occupancy by Weston's new store on or about the first of next month. E. E. Cleaver was engaged this week in putting on the prepared roofing and in painting it with his Black Cat roof paint, which he expects before long to handle on a large scale throughout the Northwest.
Says the Oregon Journal of Tuesday: "Samples of wheat from the ranch of E. A. Dudley near Athena, Umatilla county, were received today by William McMurray, general manager agent of the O-W, R. & N. and will be placed on exhibition in the city ticket office. The samples are from a 600-acre field which is yielding 60 bushels to the acre. The heads average 100 to 150 kernels each. The wheat is of the German red variety."
W. T. Jessup of Walla Walla, general advertising agent of Frontier Tuesday in Weston recently on an exploitation trip, accompanied by his assistant, Jack Pemberton. The opening day of the sale alone totaled $1400.

BUYING GOODS IN NEW YORK
Manager Slover Writes Interestingly of Market Conditions.

J. F. Slover, manager of the Weston Mercantile Company, writes to The Leader from the Hotel Continental, New York City, under recent date, as follows:
"I have gone over the ground very thoroughly with several large manufacturers and practically all say that from a business point of view we have reached and passed the low ebb, that a readjustment is due and that all business interests will doubtless soon show a marked improvement. I have likewise talked with many retail merchants from all parts of the country and all say that business is above normal, which report is very encouraging to the manufacturers.
"Nevertheless, the war has had a very depressing effect upon business and many lines of merchandise are practically exhausted. A year ago, when the war started, nobody thought it possible to clean up the millions of dollars worth of European goods in the New York warehouses. It's surprising, too, how dependent we are upon Europe for thousands and thousands of articles of merchandise, and nearly all goods that it seems impossible to get along without. I have just gone over my list and find 27 classes of merchandise, all manufactured in Europe, that are mighty hard to find even in this great market. Hunting for these required several days, as many large houses were cleaned up, and their answer was always the same: 'All gone and no more to be had. This is a serious condition we buyers are up against, but I consider myself fortunate, as I have by constant pounding secured the goods desired for our people—and enough to carry us through a long siege.
"Now I must not forget that the women folk will be anxious to know about the latest styles in coats and suits for the approaching fall and winter.
"Coats will be made of plush, corduroy and fancy wool and Stevens' mixtures. Length will be 45 to 48 inches except as to full length, which will be 52 and 54 inches. The 45 and 48-inch coats will largely predominate, however. Then comes what is known as the 'sport' or short coat, which will be in moderate demand. Suits will be shown in poplin, gabardine, serge and fancy wool mixtures. Poplin will be in greatest demand, gabardine next, and fancy mixtures are expected to rank third in feminine favor. There has always been and likely always will be a demand for suits made of all-wool serge and nearly every manufacturer is showing them. Suit coats will practically all be in 32 inches, with a few 30-inch coats for misses.
"I am anxious for the people of Weston and vicinity to understand that when the new store opens we will be well prepared to take care of them in everything for men, women and children. In fact, we will have in Weston one of the best equipped stores in the northwest, regardless of the size of the town. I feel that my buying experience in the big markets justifies this statement—and we will have the merchandise to back it up."
