English commerce by means of her submarines she would have continued their unrestricted use without regard for the danger to American or other neutral lives. The good of the fatherland would constitute a sufficient motive—the end would justify the means.
Indeed, there would be no likelihood of a piece for other than the fatherland and its dependencies in the sun if German "junkierism" had its way. This attitude of mind is expressed between the lines of the following paragraph from the Vossische Zeitung:

"It must be reiterated that the tor-pedoing of the Lusitania, no matter how lamentable from a humanitarian standpoint, left no stain upon Germany's honor."

Thus, if there remained a prospect of thereby achieving ultimate success for the German arms, another Lusitania would be unhesitatingly destroyed at the cost of another hundred American lives. German honor would feel itself tarnished at nothing that could contribute to the final triumph of the fatherland. If the destruction of unarmed liners without warning were of real value to the German cause, and if her submarines could operate freely with less danger of their own destruction, then would Admiral Von Tirpitz's plan of undersea campaign be continued unchanged. Germany does not fear us—has no need to fear us. Again quoting the Zeitung:

"It is surely known in the United States that even a declaration of war by America against Germany could no longer do real harm to the German cause."

Those of us who want the United States to keep out of the mixup, if we can do so with honor, have occasion therefore to rejoice that things are—as they are. Even though we may love not England, it would be an ill day for us could her maritime supremacy be jeopardized by the German submarine.

According to the Monday Crawfish the Rev. Corinthians I. Bett said in part in his last Sunday's sermon:

"To appreciate the parable of the Prodigal Son, one must take care to look at it from some other view point than that of the fatted calf."

The Department of Agriculture estimates this year's wheat crop at 981,- 000,000 bushels, or 90,000,000 more than last year's record-breaker. The wise grower will purchase revise his notions as to "dollar wheat."

In replacing the commandant of the state soldier's home, Governor Withycombe has again demonstrated his deep devotion to the sacred duty of punishing his enemies and rewarding his friends.

How admirably considerate of her guests would have been the gracious act of Mrs. John Jacob Astor in hurling her campfire dinner over a cliff, if she hadn't cooked another!

Germany's magnificent air fleet has made another gallant raid upon the English coast, gloriously killing and crippling more than a score of women and children.

Having placed himself at the head of his armies, Czar Nicholas will be pretty generally certain of having the tail between his royal person and the Teutons.

Pendleton having glommed Sitting Bull's saddle, Walls Walls will have to scout around lively for Standing Cow's riding habit.

New York, N. Y.—A young Chinese student has invented a Chinese typewriter. The machine has three keys, a back-spacer, a spacer and a key with which 4200 characters of the Chinese language are struck. The characters are on a cylinder, which is turned by the writer until the proper character is found and written by striking the key. The inventor claims 40 words a minute can be written.

"BIG GUNS" OF OREGON ARE GOING TO ROUND-UP

Pendleton, Ore., Sept. 9.—To witness the most elaborate and extensive presentation of the world-famous Roundup which starts September 22, practically all of the prominent state officials of Oregon are coming to Pendleton. There will be Governor Withycombe, State Treasurer Kay, Secretary of State O'cott, United States Senator Chamberlain and Lane, Congressman McArthur and Sinnott and President of the Senate W. Lair Thompson, in addition to a number of other dignitaries.

The big program has been completed and entries are coming in daily.
Everything is in readiness for one of the biggest crowds ever seen in Pendleton, coming mighty close to the record mark of 1913 when 75,000 people passed through the gates.
While all events on the Roundup program have a spice and thrill to them, there are two which will be doubtless the most popular, the steer-roping and the steer-roping contest.
This because the steers to be used in these events are the wildest things ever seen on the Roundup grounds, so wild they are difficult to handle and the directors are seriously considering whether it will be safe to put them on the arena without a stronger fence protecting the grandstand and bleachers.

All the big events are practically filled now and the contestants are coming all the way from Oklahoma and Canada to try for the world's championship. Pendleton is making the usual preparations for entertaining the crowd and will give them a royal welcome when they arrive.
Happy Canyon is dusting up the roulette wheels, faro tables and laying in a big supply of red dog bitters. They are all ready with a tremendous "let 'er buck."

here has fired all his blonde ushers and hired brunettes. He claims the men talked with the blondes and patrons had to wait to be shown their seats.

SUMMONS.

In the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon for Umatilla County.

Ita Isabel Davis, Plaintiff, vs. Elia Floyd Davis, Defendant.

IN THE NAME OF THE STATE OF ORE-GON: You are hereby summoned and required to appear and answer the complaint of the plaintiff on the 15th day of September, 1915, and you will take notice that if you fail to appear and answer said complaint or otherwise plead thereto within said time, the plaintiff, or want thereof, will apply to the above entitled court for the relief prayed for and demanded in the prayer of her complaint, to-wit, for a decree forever dissolving the bonds of matrimony now and heretofore existing between plaintiff and defendant and for other equitable relief.
This summons is published pursuant to an order duly made on the 1st day of September, 1915, by Hon. G. W. Phelps, Circuit Judge of the Sixth Judicial District of the State of Oregon, and the first publication of this summons will be made in the Umatilla County Newspaper published at Weston, Umatilla County, Oregon, on the 31st day of September, 1915, and the last publication will be made on the 15th day of October, 1915.

Filed at Pendleton, Oregon, on this 1st day of September, A. D. 1915.
