COMFORTS and BLANKETS
FOR COOLER NIGHTS
Cooler nights are at hand. More bedding will be needed in many homes. Right now our bedding section is especially well equipped to serve you. Especially is this true of Comforts and of Cotton Blankets—the kind with the long, soft, wooly nap. We show eight grades in Cotton—not shoddy—filled silkaline and cretonne Comforts, at $1.90, $2.35, $2.65, $2.85, $3.25, $4.00, $4.50 and $5.00; also Lamb's wool and Down Comforts at $7.50, $10.50 and $17.50. These are not the cheapest goods we could find, but are extra good values at the prices.
Our Cotton Blankets this season are a little better than ever before above $1.00 in price. All run in good, generous sizes. Colors are in White, Tan and Gray, with appropriate colored borders. Also a fine assortment of plaids in fine wooly nap goods which some people take for wool. Twenty numbers in assorted colors here to select from, at prices from 75c. to $3.25.
Those who cannot come to the store may safely order by mail. Orders of $2.00 or more delivered post paid subject to approval at our expense.

Watts & Rogers burn money. See big ad. Wood cheaper than stealing.
Miss Nancy Stevens of Baker, Oregon, is visiting her sister, Mrs. George Ferguson.
Sunday, the 27th, is my last day for sittings at Athens. Ohmart, the photographer.
Dreamland motion pictures at Weston opera house next Monday and Tuesday evenings.
Call at my second-hand store and see my nice line of heating and cook stoves. E. E. Zehm.
Mrs. Laura Lower of Walla Walla, was a guest during the week of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Turner.
Sunday, September 27, is Ohmart's last day for sittings at Athens. Get your photographs now.
Norman Tripp, a Walla Walla insurance man, has bought the C. A. Hales cottage on Normal Heights.
Jack Calder is busily pursuing his trade at Athens, where he has the plumbing contract for two new houses.
Aside from his other duties, the city marshal has found plenty of occupation during the week in rebuilding the depot bridge.
The Milton Eagle is informed that two inches of snow fell recently at the Toll Gate—thus indicating that King Winter approacheth.
The Athens Press reports that consignments of pheasants were received and liberated last week by Sam Parr-brun, Frank Berlin and Walter Adams.
Work is now in progress at the Weston brickyard on the fifth kiln for the season. Manager Harbour reports a good demand this year for the yard's product.
Come to Athens on or before Sunday, September 27, if you want to take advantage of your last opportunity to get high-class likenesses. Ohmart, photographer.
Mrs. J. V. Bell was enrolled this week as a student in the Whitman Conservatory of Music at Walla Walla. Her teacher is Miss Meryl Kepler, who is now a member of the conservatory faculty.
Mrs. Elmer E. Geles was recently added to the teaching force in the Pendleton schools, where her husband is also employed. Mrs. Geles has the primary work in the Fields school, with 40 small pupils.
Colonel Nathan McCoy of Knoxville, Tenn., and M. D. McClellan of Los Angeles, Calif., the grandfather and father, respectively, of J. L. McClellan, have been visiting Mr. McClellan at his home near Weston.
S. A. Barnes, agent of the Pacific Coast Elevator company, bought 1400 sacks of barley Monday on a basis of $15 per ton in Portland. This is the only grain transaction reported in the local market for several weeks.

A curious local phenomenon in optics is related to the effect that while two young gentlemen were "see red" in a recent fistle engagement, one saw Lavender and the other Brown.
Carl Guittot, the popular Pendleton musician whose eyesight was restored in August, is seeing his first Roundup. According to the East Oregonian he bought tickets for all three afternoon exhibitions and the Friday morning show also.
The general opinion of Weston visitors at Frontier Days is that the affair was an improvement on former shows of the same character at Walla Walla. What is lacking the vim and liveliness of the Pendleton Roundups, the event was well worth seeing. The races and riding were good, and the parade was an especially well-managed feature.
Mr. and Mrs. James Compton returned Friday from an extended visit to their two sons, both of whom are homesteaders in Power county, southeastern Idaho. The boys had a good yield this year from 140 acres of virgin soil which they seeded to wheat. Their spring grain made 20 bushels and their fall grain 35 bushels per acre.
Mr. and Mrs. Will Rhodes and Mr. and Mrs. Dick Bush, farmers in the McKay district, motored to Weston last week in their Franklin car and were guests Friday and Saturday of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Llewellyn. They also attended Frontier Days at Walla Walla. Mrs. Bush remained in Weston for a fortnight's visit with her mother, the other members of the party returning home Monday.

Miss Thelma Anderson suffered a serious accident Tuesday morning while driving in from the Blomgren ranch with Master George Blomgren. When near the MacKensie place their horse took alarm at a threshing machine covered with canvas and ran away. Both were thrown out of the rig, the boy escaping uninjured. Miss Anderson, however, sustained both a fracture and dislocation of the left ankle, and is now under the care of Dr. Smith. The accident is doubly fortunate at this time, in that it interferes with her educational plans. Having graduated from Weston High school, she intended leaving for Pendleton Wednesday to take the course in teaching at Pendleton High.
One of the very latest wrinkles for quick and durable repair work—Economy welding machine—has been added to their shop equipment. Llewellyn Electric Service will service any sort of metal—cast iron, wrought iron, malleable iron, steel, brass or aluminum—may be welded with neatness and dispatch, intense heat being generated by a mixture of carbide and oxygen and applied through a torch attachment. Castings may be quickly mended, so that ranchers need not go to the trouble of sending away for broken parts of their farm machinery. An acetylene attachment will melt carbon out of motor car cylinders or burn holes through metal of any description.
"Sunshine" McClure made Weston his habitat for several days during the week while helping in the work-out of Jack Carpenter by the grand master. While a hefty athlete, McClure is fast on his feet and gave Carpenter some lively bouts. "Sunshine" is well known in athletic circles throughout the northwest as a trainer, swimmer and boxer. In 1918 he held the Northwest swimming championship for 50 yards. With the help of McClure and his other handlers, Carpenter emerged in fine fettle for his match at Pendleton tonight. He will meet Bill Wright of Seattle instead of George Iggle, who was injured in an accident at San Francisco.
Rufus Bratcher was badly burned in a fierce fire which destroyed a large garage at Wasco, Oregon, where he has been employed in mechanical work. An electric light globe exploded and set fire to the stock of gasoline. Soon the entire interior of the garage was a mass of flames. Although nearly overcome by the heat, Rufus managed to drive out with one of the cars. He has since been under the care of a trained nurse, and his mother, Mrs. G. A. Bratcher of this city, is also attending him. Nothing but the concrete walls of the garage remained after the fire, and many of the motor cars were destroyed.
The cornerstone of the new federal building at Pendleton was laid Wednesday with impressive Masonic ceremonies conducted by the grand master of the state, Frank A. Miller of Albany. Every Masonic lodge in the county was represented in the gathering. Among those who attended from Weston Lodge No. 45 were Richard Morrison, worshipful master; Edward Anderson, Marlon O'Harron, C. P. Hultinch, Joe Hodgson, Harry Shick, S. A. Barnes, E. O. DeMoss, H. Goodwin, Frank Price, John McRae, Porter Graham, A. L. Douglas, R. W. Brown.
A popular Weston couple will be one of the three to be married at Happy Canyon during the Pendleton Roundup. The contracting parties will be mounted during the several ceremonies, and will be attended by cowboys and cowgirls in frontier finery. Governor Whitcomb may officiate. Miss Leota Donnick and Mr. Fred G. Dupuis are the prospective bride and bridegroom from Weston and they will be married Saturday evening. They will receive a gift of furniture for their home.
"Rusty" Shick, pitcher this season with the Athens Champs and last year with the Weston team, has attracted the notice of Walter McCredie and will be given a try-out with the Portland Beavers. It is said also that McCredie is looking up the records of several other players in the two Umatilla county leagues. (If it happens to want a fungo batter for practice work, we know where he can find the best one this side of the Rocky mountains.)
Matt McGrover, the well-known Athens merchant, met with a serious automobile accident Saturday on the Dry creek road, shortly after leaving Weston for Walla Walla. A sudden lurch ditched his car and piled it beneath it for a half-hour or more before assistance came. Mr. McGrover was badly cut and bruised, and has since been under medical care at his home in Milton.
The East Oregonian reports that Anna Rothrock of Athens has begun suit for divorce against John W. Rothrock and for the custody of her child. She accuses the defendant of neglect, indifference, infidelity and conduct unbecoming a husband. The couple were married in Walla Walla in 1911 and have six children. Homer I. Watts is plaintiff's attorney.

The three-year-old son of Mrs. William Peebler of Pendleton, whose husband died a few weeks ago, was drowned Monday while playing with other children near Walter's mill race. The youngster slid into the stream and was lost to sight beneath the rocky waters. The mill race had to be drained before the body could be found and recovered.
An unusual number of East End citizens were listed for jury service during the present term of the circuit court. The Weston neighborhood was represented at the court house this week by G. W. Staggis, Joe Blomgren, J. N. York, J. M. Banister, J. A. King and J. M. Price.
I intend to sell at once the three lots adjoining the residence property of Ralph Salling on the north and east. Two fine building locations—one on Water street, one on Franklin street. Tell me what you will give. F. D. Watts.
My Hudson Six-40 at the bargain price of $400 off. Just getting limbered up. Has run about 2500 miles. It is the greatest bargain in this country. I want the 1916 style. F. D. Watts.
Motor car service to all points, day or night. Also livery and feed stable opposite the Llewellyn blacksmith shop. Late McBride.
Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Llewellyn were Weston visitors Tuesday, having motored up from their Adams home.
Mr. and Mrs. Fred McGrew arrived Tuesday from Portland to make their home on the McGrover farm.

NEW WESTON STORE A BIG ATTRACTION

Many Buyers Enter Its Doors, and Manager Swoes Gloats With Enthusiasm.
Bright and beautiful—smiling a welcome to its many patrons—Weston's new store is now doing a business highly gratifying to its management and to its numerous shareholders. The reason is not far to seek. It has the goods—bought right and sold right.
"I suppose I shouldn't say so," remarked Manager Swoer while counting the proceeds of a busy day, "but do you know that the people of Portland are in no better position to buy to advantage than ours are right here. I am just back from the metropolitan city and know that the Weston Mercantile company—while a smaller institution—compares favorably in the lines that it carries with Portland's largest department stores. In not a few instances, both as to goods and to prices, we offer better buying advantages to our patrons than do the urban emporiums."
"In the unlikely event that a millionaire's wife should enter our doors, we are prepared to please her in the quality and variety of what we offer while at the same time all others will find here just what they want at prices within their means. We carry the highest class of goods manufactured for the women's trade. We find that our women customers are particularly delighted with our millinery department, which we stocked with the utmost care. In other lines we are showing the most beautiful cloaks and suits; dainty laces and embroideries; elegant silks, satins, messalines and crepe chins, etc."
"Our shoe line for women is unsurpassed and unsurpassable anywhere in the world—and I say this advisedly, well knowing that it is a pretty broad statement. We have the best brand class of goods known to the shoe world. Our shoe line for men, already well stocked with the best makes, will soon be complete with the arrival of the celebrated Fioraheim brand."
"We have merchandise arriving daily. Our men's clothing is just beginning to come, but will soon be on our shelves. We have a good assortment of Clothcraft clothes on hand already, and the unrivaled line of Hart, Schaffner & Marx will arrive in a day or two."
"We have a superb showing of blankets—as good as that of any store in the world. We carry no cheap, shoddy stuff. What we offer is the very best, although bought to such advantage that the prices are surprisingly low."
"I'm just touching the high spots in this interview—just enough to give you readers and our friends a slight idea of our offerings. I haven't time and you haven't the space for enumeration of an hundred of the best of them. We want our people to see in and see—that's the idea. They do not have to buy. We want them to survey our beautiful store and investigate our prices. We want to show them that we have the best merchandise for the money ever sold in this grand young state of Oregon—not excepting Portland."
After glowing enthusiastic remarks, Manager Swoer resumed his by no means irksome task of counting the coin.

T. L. McBride is reported to be quite ill with pleurisy at his home near town.
Mrs. H. G. Worthington and son Emory of Athens were visiting Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Benfield.
If you want wood still cheaper we will sell you ten acres at the Blue Mountain sawmill. Avery has first choice. Watts & Rogers.
Sam Banister has traded his Walla Walla county holdings for Waiilatpu wheat land. Mr. Banister and family will, however, continue to reside in Walla Walla county during the winter.
Mr. and Mrs. Fred Phillips are leaving next week for Washouca, Wash., where Mr. Phillips will engage in farming. The J. M. Ashworth place, which they vacate, has been leased by Clarence Hand.
To take care of increased business, his bread output having largely increased, E. E. Zehm is building an addition to his bakery. Beginning next week, he will ship bread and bakera's goods regularly to a neighboring town.
At Wednesday evening's meeting of the Citizens Lodge No. 4, K. of P., T. L. McBride was elected as representative to the Pythian grand lodge, which convenes at Portland in October. W. S. Price was elected hold-over representative. T. L. McBride was chosen alternate.

ODD BITS OF NEWS.
Cleveland, O.—"What's your name?" asked the street repair department keeper of a worker. "I wonder," the man replied. "Don't kid me, what's your name?" "I wonder, I wonder." The man's name was Hy Wonder.
Temple, Texas—Esther Grant, 11 years old, is the mother of a 7-pound baby girl. She is supposed to be the youngest mother known to medical science. Her stepfather, being held in jail for the crime, committed suicide.
Martins Ferry, O.—Near the Riverside Bridge company's factory a houseboat, loaded with pretty young vacationists, was moored. But when the girls began to disport in the water every day, in garbs described as "close to nature," the workmen in the factory threw down their tools and spent their time in the windows and on the roofs of the building watching the antics of the fair bathers. Now the bridge company is suing to compel the girls to move their houseboat. Dallas, Tex.—"Tweet! Tweet! Every time Miss Esther Hoffman, beautiful young society girl of this town, takes a step, her pet canary sings. She carries the bird everywhere with her, dangling from her hand in a dainty cage.
Kalamazoo, Mich.—On the same day, Eva Jackson found a sister from whom she had been separated for 20 years; helped to celebrate the 51st birthday of Charles R. Olmstead, and then, to cap the climax, married him. The sister is the wife of Arthur Brewer, a friend of Olmstead, through whom the sisters traced their kinship.

We Have Money to Burn and Will Burn it Here in Weston where everybody gets the good of it. We have on hand and have contracted from our mountain friends several hundred cords of good seasoned, split, home grown PINE and FIR WOOD. Some of it second growth. It is worth and we allowed $5.00 and $6.00 per cord. Now we made 52% percent profit, hence the cost was 47% cents on the dollar. We don't wish to be all hog and so now we will divide with everybody and give up half of that 52% percent, or 26% cents, making cost to you the total of 47% cents plus the 26% cents, or 73% cents on the dollar, or $3.68 1/2 cents for a cord of nice, dry, seasoned, split, mountain pine. The drayman wants 50 cents per cord and that makes a total of $4.18 1/2 cents delivered at your door; but as it is unlucky to make change we will donate the odd cents and you may have a cord of pine for
