TEST THIS STORE NOW
We cordially invite every man and woman of this vicinity to visit our store This Week. Today stocks are at their best and fullest—the top-notch of variety and completeness of the whole year.
That is why we are asking You to do us the courtesy of making a visit at this time.
Perhaps there have been times when we did not have in stock exactly the things you desired. Careful store-keeping requires that stocks be run down very low at certain seasons, and you may have misjudged us at such a time.
Today we have no excuses to make.
Our stocks are new and complete. The latest and most desirable goods are here, and all the staple articles that you have a right to expect are in full supply.
You'll be interested in what you see.
You'll be pleased with the service you will receive.
You'll be gratified with the reasonableness of the prices.
Kindly do us the honor of TESTING THIS STORE NOW.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh McArthur of Portland have recently been visiting at the George Hanister home in Athena. Mr. McArthur left last week on a business trip to Enterprise, Walla Walla county.
Mrs. J. E. Scribner returned Sunday from a month's visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Simpson, Umatilla county pioneers, at their present home on Magnolia beach near Tacoma.
The hour of the Christian Science readings at the G. DeGraw residence has been changed to six o'clock p. m., at which time they will be held every Sunday evening during the winter. All are invited to come.
W. F. Alexander, representing that wide-awake publication, Up-to-the-Times magazine and one of the chief boosters for the proposed new motor road across the Blues, was over from Walla Walla during the week, getting in touch again with the Weston community.
E. D. Hewitt opened his moving picture show at Weston opera house this week, and expects to make of it a permanent amusement feature for this community. Shows will be given evenings of each week, with an entire change of bill for each performance. The program begins at 7 p. m., and each evening's set of reels will be presented twice, in order that those who come in late may not be disappointed.

Weston High school will be represented at the Hermiston stock show November 15th by a stock judging team consisting of Jim Edson, Lyle Webb, Fincor Douglas and Robert Litgow. Mr. Kehrl, a dairy and hog expert working under the Department of Agriculture and the Oregon Agricultural College, had the boys out Tuesday instructing them in stock judging. They worked on Joe Hodgson's herd of hogs in the forenoon, and on Wm. MacKenzie's dairy herd in the afternoon. Mr. Kehrl reported the boys to be very much interested and unusually apt in the work. The team will go to Hermiston and compete with nine or ten other school teams.
Ben Walden, an Oregon pioneer of 1852, dropped in at the Leader office the other day and in discussing incidents of "aud lang syne" shed some additional light on the friendly controversy regarding the first white child born in Umatilla county. Mr. Walden says that this honor belongs to neither Sam Phillips of Dry creek nor Dick Stewart of Pilot Rock, but to Sarah Olinger, who died in Portland a few years ago. She was the daughter of Abraham Olinger, and was born near the present site of Meacham in 1842. Her parents crossed the plains at that early period with the train of Dan Walden, father of Judge Waldo, of Salem.
According to the verdict of the coroner's jury, alcoholism caused the demise of Hugh McMill, 35 years old, who died Sunday morning at the Moore Taylor place near Athena. After going to Athena Saturday with a load of hogs it appears that McMill drank until he became intoxicated and then started back for the Taylor place, where he had been employed. He rolled into a ditch, and when found refused to go to the house. Mr. Taylor covered him with blankets and next morning took him to the house, where he later died. McMill is said to have been a sailor on the Battleship Oregon during his memorable voyage around the Horn during the Spanish-American war.
A four-year-old son of E. E. Zehm obtained possession of a match in some manner Tuesday evening, and set fire to the wall paper near the kitchen range in the Weston bakery. The fire was merrily blazing when discovered a few minutes later, and had even penetrated the ceiling into the attic. A half dozen people had hard work to extinguish it, and but for the opportune aid of a garden hose the Zehm establishment and perhaps a good share of the town would have gone up in smoke. Hereafter their parents will see that the Zehm hopefuls and matches are kept strictly apart.
Having qualified as a concrete expert by building an excellent sidewalk of that material along the east side of the building occupied by the O'Hara store, Ralph Salting was engaged this week to superintend construction of a similar walk on both the Main street and Franklin street exposures of the Watts building, the commodious home of the Weston Mercantile Company. In the rush of getting the building ready, this needful work was postponed until a more convenient season, and now completes the renaissance of the old-time Marshall House corner.
Four charming young women make up the organization known as the Beverly Entertainers, soon to be heard on the local Lyceum course, and they give a musical and literary program of superior merit. Guitars and mandolins are cleverly used in the instrumental portion of the program, and in addition the young ladies, read, sing and do sketch work which is interesting and attractive. Of the smaller companies recently appearing in the Lyceum, none have won more merited encomiums than this sterling organization.
An Indian woman who had sold her wheat to the Weston Warehouse Company for something over $600, refused the company to accept the check of Manager Price in payment. A bank draft was next offered her, but she would be satisfied with nothing but the kold kale. The way of the "Boston man" were not her ways, a scrap of paper looked no more consequence to her than to the German Kaiser, and when she finally went out of town rejoicing it was with a bagful of shining twines.
We are pleased and proud to learn as follows from the Athena Press that good literature is appreciated in the suburbs: "In the last monthly report of the County Librarian, Athena is again given credit for the largest circulation of books among the branch libraries. This city leads with 537; Milton is second with 338; Weston 182; Echo 162; Ferndale 161; Hermiston 129; Adams 84; Freewater 77; Stanfield 38; Pilot Rock 22 and Hellis 21, making a total of 1755."
Clay Smith and family, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Lytle and George Lytle and bride left Tuesday for the region of Cambridge, Washington county, in southern Idaho, where Mr. Smith has taken up a homestead and Mr. Lytle also contemplates becoming a settler. After getting his family located on his claim Mr. Smith will return to his work here as rural mail carrier. He has been relieved for the present by Strover Stipes.
We have reliable intelligence by wireless telephone from Athena that Fred Boyd and Bill Dobson are back with empty game bags from their recent hunt. Nobody expected them to bring home any game, of course, and the only item of interest connected with their hunt is that they are said to have spent four days in camp in out at the head of Thorn Hollow in the mistaken idea that they had reached their destination, Dark canyon.
The Weston postoffice has been supplied by a benevolent and paternal government with a new pair of scales of the latest model, with a weighing capacity up to 101 pounds. As the office is often required to weigh as many as 100 pieces of mail a day, the improvement is appreciated by Uncle Samuel's local representatives. Heretofore they have had to get along with a 20-pound pair of scales.
Mrs. E. M. Warren left this week for an extended visit with her daughter, Miss Fay Warren, who is teaching school near Seattle. She will stop en route for a visit with her sons in Adams county, Washington, and with her daughter, Mrs. Will NorDean of Wallace, Idaho.

Mrs. G. W. Proemel, Jr., is visiting her brother, Sam Thompson, at Pendleton.
Miss Ethel Waddingham has taken a position as assistant bookkeeper with Watts & Rogers.
Mrs. Cora Simpson was in the city yesterday from Walla Walla, visiting her sister, Mrs. J. H. Price.
Mrs. I. E. Baling visited at the home of her son, County Clerk Frank Baling, in Pendleton Wednesday evening.
Our stock of second-hand goods is bigger and better than ever and will interest you. Come in. E. E. Zehm.
A carload of new furniture was installed this week by E. O. DeMoss, who believes in keeping his end up while the town is moving along.

SPLENDID LYCEUM COURSE SECURED FOR THIS SEASON
A High School Enterprise Worth While for Weston - Dates Announced.
During the booking season a splendid series of Lyceum attractions was secured for Weston by the High School. The better class of entertainers, well known Lyceum Bureaus who route their attractions through the territory in an economical way as possible, thus giving opportunity to every town which takes pride in the community's welfare to secure the best entertainment money can buy. People of our community especially, and the public generally should have an opportunity during the fall and winter months to hear the best in music, art, public speaking—entertainment that is always clean and uplifting. Scarcely a town with any ambition, along these lines can be found on the map these days that does not conduct a Lyceum course, and it is with no little pride that the local High school has selected an unusually good course for this season.
The attractions appear from time to time, announcement will be made of their particular kind of program and their rank and standing in Lyceum circles.
The attention of the public is directed at this time to the local bookings. These dates, which may be fixed by the necessary routing of these attractions, and were in no way subject to modification by the local committee.
The attractions with their dates are as follows:
The Beverly Musical and Dramatic Entertainers—November 26.
Harry Arnold, Lecturer—December 18.
The Wells Musical Entertainers—February 5.
J. C. Herbman, Humorist and Story Teller—March 15.
It is much desired by the committee in charge that these dates be protected as far as possible in planning activities for the year. Each number is going to be well worth while, and should be given the consideration of a free field.
SPECIAL SCHOOL MEETING.

Weston Exhibits Appreciated.
E. G. Harlan, editor of the Heppner Gazette, writes to The Leader as follows from Portland:
"I am writing you just a few lines commending the Weston exhibit in the Umatilla County display at the Manufacturers' and Land Products Show, which is being held in the Armory at the present time. I noticed many visitors looking over the exhibits which came from the farmers near Weston. Among them that seemed to attract favorable attention were the wheat samples of Ferguson and Kern; the wheat samples of Ross Bros.; the yellow oat samples of E. W. Bailey; the club wheat samples of C. M. Price and the oat samples of E. W. Boyts. Weston and surrounding country seemed to furnish a large share of the samples on exhibition, all of which were of high order."
Philadelphia, Pa.—A demonstrator in a department store mixed a poisonous liquid used for cleaning glasses with a nerve medicine which she was demonstrating and over 200 persons are thought to have been poisoned. The demonstrator, however, was the only one to report to a hospital.
Sharonville, O.—"Howdy, John!" "Howdy, Jim!" Thus John and Jas. Stewart of Kansas and Tennessee respectively, met here. For a lapse of forty-seven years. Both believed the other dead and spent several hours in a room together before they found out their relationship.

Weston Free Day
is our hobby just now
In appreciation of the business the good people of this country have given us the past year, we invite everybody in town and out of town to come together for a FREE FEED in the Pioneer Picnic tent on SATURDAY, OCTOBER 30, at our expense.
LEAVE YOUR POCKET BOOKS AT HOME
The merchants of this town who are named elsewhere will give every man, woman and child a souvenir gift for the day, a free ticket to a moving picture show, and a free cafeteria dinner if you will get here at noon.

ODD BITS OF NEWS.
Los Angeles, Cal.—Samuel Pockoswewsky has grown tired of the efforts of his American associates to pronounce his name, and has been on the lookout for a chance to change it. The chance came when he became engaged to a Miss Parker. Judge Thomas, on application, allowed the groom to take his wife's name and now he is the proud possessor of the handle of Samuel Parker.
Chillicothe, O.—C. W. Cravens and W. B. Cravens are brothers and both are engineers on the B. & O. Their wives are sisters. Both families live in the same house. The other day, six hours apart, both the Mrs. Cravens gave birth to children—one a boy and the other a girl.
New York, N. Y.—"Safety First," said Mrs. Arthur Maclean as she put two diamond earrings into her pillow case and went to sleep. The next day there were clean slips on the pillow. Mrs. Maclean was frantic. She besieged the laundry, but the pillow slips had been washed and ironed. Finally one earring was found gleaming in the bottom of the wash tub and the other about to enter the drain pipe. They are valued at $2000.
Philadelphia, Pa.—It takes fifty cents to commit suicide by the gas route in Philadelphia. When Viola Day grew tired of life, put a pipe on the gas jet, the other end in her mouth and lay down to die, the quarter in the meter ran out and her life was saved.
Milburn, O.—J. D. Hart exhibited at the county fair a pair of stockings over 100 years old. They were made by his grandmother, who picked the cotton, wove it into thread and then knit the stockings. During the storm in Galveston in 1900, they were rescued with difficulty and by the merest accident were saved.
