BEVERLY ENTERTAINERS

THE Beverly Entertainers is one of the most successful of the smaller companies that have entered upon broad work in recent years. They sing, read, play mandolins and guitars, give musical sketches in attractive costumes, and thus offer an evening of most delightful entertainment.

The guitarologues presented by Miss Rita Smith, have been an instantaneous hit.

The musical numbers in Dutch costumes have proved to be a unique and attractive feature.

"A most delightful program" is the verdict of all who hear this company.

(At High School Auditorium Friday evening, November 26.)

colic beverages should be regarded and punished as a crime by the national government—since a so-called "personal liberty" that makes for the degradation of the race is pernicious, intolerable. State-wide prohibition will be only measurably successful while the general government itself is virtually a partner in the liquor trade.

Senator Lane says that the kind of armor plate used on American battleships is obsolete and worthless. This is discouraging but pertinent information. We suggest that the officials and contractors responsible for its use be placed on a floating platform encircled with this plate and shot at with fourteen-inch guns. Such an object lesson would be interesting, and might prove of infinite value.

Prosperity is coming, about the prophets, and will be due to big crops and war orders. Conversely, financial depression would have been due to the demerit demerit.

We wonder if Baron Shibusawa saw a buzz-saw while seeing the sights of Portland.

SAFETY OF THE NATION.

In a stirring address to a private party of newspaper men, J. Stuart Blackton, author and producer of the great preparedness film, "The Battle Cry of Peace," said that the final salvation of the country would be up to the country newspaper. "If the rural newspaper—the country weekly and the small town daily—get behind the preparedness movement and demand action by congress," Blackton said, "then we will see an appropriation during this session that will be a good starter. Of course, to get anywhere, we will need a series of appropriations—a program for navy and army which, spread over a period of years, will give us eventually what protection we need. But if the small town newspaper refuses to call for preparedness, and prefers 'work' instead, the movement will fail. The protection of America is in the hands of the country editor."

Mr. Blackton's speech for preparedness followed the viewing by newspaper men of the film, "The Battle Cry of Peace," in which the author shows how helpless the United States would be in case of attack by a foreign foe. New York streets are bombarded, homes are attacked, women and children terrified and fathers taken out, lined up against a wall and shot. The handful of American soldiers are a joke to the invaders and enemy ships stand off our shores, out of range of our guns, and batter to pieces our coast defenses.

"These possibilities are not without the basis of fact," said Mr. Blackton, in his address. "Instead of being a sleeping giant, we are a helpless babe. The dream of universal peace has been shattered by the European nations and will again be shattered. We have learned that nations will break solemn treaties when they think it to their advantage to do so. The world is but little different from what it was a thousand years ago. But we, in the democracy of the United States, are full partners. The responsibility of government and the salvation of the nation is on every citizen. Every citizen should be able to transfer himself into a soldier for the defense of his country. This is not imperialistic; it is the very essence of a democracy that would live."

It's so bloomin' wet around here now that one cannot visualize the promised drought in January.

While this is great weather for ducks, it isn't precisely duck soup that local faucets are spouting in brownish streams.

Colliers' suggests General Leonard Wood for president, and while our politics ain't the same as his'n we like the sound of his last name.

Having been mentioned twice in one issue of the Weekly Bulldogger, we are moved to recognize that particular number as one of unusual merit and brilliancy.

Cartoonist Reynolds pictures one worm in a million Oregon apples at San Francisco--which cost Oregon the prize but is not so worse as a million worms in one apple.

Portland will likely be out of the Coast league next season, and would be offered herewith a berth in the East. End league were it not a bit remote from this genuine center of baseball activity.

Congressman Hobson tells the E. O. that "Bryan will be behind Wilson when the time comes"--the Peerless One having had considerable experience in being behind somebody when he used to run for president.

When Assessor Strain includes the corporations in his new roll, Umatilla county's taxable wealth will be set at nearly fifty millions--which sum sounds pretty big until we reflect that it would hardly pay for one day's hostilities in Europe.

We commend the fight of Congressman Hobson for national prohibition, since it is the only kind of prohibition that will hit the demon rum in a vital spot and result in any great measure of benefit to the American people.
