WILSON'S SOCIAL SEASON TO BE GAY

Two Diplomatic Dinners Will Be Given to Avoid Friction.

NEUTRALS WILL BE GUESTS OF BOTH

Allies' Turn to Come First; Germany Austria and Turkey Second-Other Dinners to Follow.

Washington, D. C.—President Wilson announced Monday a gay season for the coming winter. He and his bride will be the host and hostess at several receptions and dinners.

Among these dinners will be two given for the diplomatic corps. Heretofore only one dinner has been given. That, however, was in time of peace, when the British and German, the Russain and the Austro-Hungarian, the Turkish and Italian, and all the other ambassadors representing the two armed camps of Europe, were on speaking terms. To overcome the present awkward situation, two dinners will be given.

present awkward situation, two dinners will be given.

Here, again, the President is likely to find himself in difficulties. Which side will be represented at the first dinner? In other words, who will have precedence? Again, who will be asked to meet the allies, and who the Germans and Austro-Hungarians?

The State department has carefulty studied this question. The dean of the diplomatic corps is Mr. Jusserand, the French ambassador. Naturally, he must be invited to the first function. This means that invitations

SON, ONCE THOUGHT DEAD, IOME AGAIN: PARENTS COLLAPSE

Oregon City, Or.—Charles Sturgis, 42 years old, who disappeared two years ago after escaping from the insane saylum at Salem, and whose body some months ago supposedly was buried by his purents, welked into the home of his aging parents at Canby Tuesday night, a rejuvenated and apparently a rational man.

The shock was so severe that his father and mother both collapsed on hearing the news and before they could see or welcome him.

The sister who opened the door to the long-lost and mourned son was able to receive the brother; as gently as possible broke the news to the parents and put the younger Sturgis to bed before she, too, gave way under the train.

Mrs. Bollinger was not immediately informed of the death of the baby. The subject of the propriety of the sacrificing the life of the infant, that it might not grow up a burden to itself and a possible menace to society, was the subject of widespread discussion.
Dr. H. J. Haiselden, on whose advice the mother acted, was visited by many medical men and telephone calls alternately accused and praised him. He remained unaltered in his conviction that death was the greatest blessing which could be hoped for.

The principal physical deformities of he baby were the closure of the intestinal tract, paralysis of the nerves of the right side of the face, the absence of the right ear, blindness of one eye and malformation of its shoulders. Dr. Haiselden, who officiated at the birth, noted the absence of a neck. The brain he found to be only slightly subnormal, but the cranial nerves were absent or undeveloped.

Apple and Potato Crop Big.

Apple and Potsto Grop Big.

The average yield, all crops, per acre in the Pacific Coast states made a very favorable showing, according to a government crop report just issued. The comparison is made with the average yields of recent years and is shown in percentage as follows:

Oregon, 100.4; Washington, 104.8; Idaho, 97.9; California, 103.8.

In its detailed report on the American apple crop, the department says:

"The apple production for local and farms, as well as commerical consumption, as reported November 1, 76,670,000 barrels, more than confirms the earlier promise of a large crop. The crop is approximately 8,000,000 barrels less than last year's bumper crop, but 18,000,000 harrels above the five-year average.

government report says:
"The estimates of potato yield show a decline of 2.3 bushels per acre from the promise of a month ago. The estimated yield of 96.3 bushels indicates a total crop of 359,000,000 bushels, 47,000,000 bushels less than the large crop of last year, and 3,000,000 bushels greater than the five-year average.
