Two little boys of under ten were skating on a thinly frozen canal in Jersey City. The tec broke and they disappeared in the water. That would have been the end of the story had it not been for a young man named ira Stringham. He had left his office in Manhattan as usual and was on his everyday walk home after his day's work whon he saw the accident. Without an instant's pause he raced out and dived into the black hole where the boys and vanished. And he got them. Then he tried to raise the boys safety on to the lee, though time after time the brittle lee at the edge of the hole broke and let them back into the water. But at last, with the aid of ropes thrown from the bank, both youngsters were hauled to shore—and life. Ira Stringham did not follow them. He clutched feebly at their more than the rim of the loe, but his strength habeen exhausted and his hand could not keep its grip. They got his body an hour later. calamity.

All day 700 men who remained in Arkansas City toiled in an effort to strengthen the levees and they were hopeful that the town would be saved. The narrow strip of levee is the only land in sight there. On one side is the great river, swollen until its surface is 15 feet above the level of the town. On the other side is a great flood lake, nearly 40 miles long and 20 miles wide. From it only the upper stories of buildings in Arkansas City protrude. At the levee are three steamboats ready to carry the plucky fighters to safety should they lose their battle with the flood.

OPPOSING LEADERS IN HOUSE

Washington, D. C. — Speaker Clark and Republican Leader Mann fought side by side in the house Monday for adequate National defense. With party lines obliterated, most of the members followed their leaders and two navy measures passed without a dissenting vote. One, to provide for adding 300 midshipmen to the entering class at Annapolis next July, passed 173 to 0, and the other, to equip navy yards for construction of battleships Nos. 43 and 44, passed without rollcall. Mr. Mann tried to put the anti-preparedness advocates on record by calling for a division on the naval academy bill, but there were no negative responses.

The appearances of Speaker Clark on the floor to campaign preparedness measures aroused wide interest. Rumors persisted that he would take active charge of the fight to increase the army and navy. Majority Leader Kitchen having joined the opposition.

Very few ranch eggs are coming from the country, and but for the supply of Eastern storage eggs recently received, the situation would be serious. A part car of Oregons, shipped to Seattle a short time ago, has been brought back to this city. Ranch eggs were quoted uncandled around 41 cents. Poultry and dressed meat receipts were very light, and there was little demand. The butter market is also hampered by the unfavorable weather conditions.

Oil Find Excites Medford.

Medford — Considerable excitement has been caused locally over the finding of coal deposits and oil indications in an artesian well being drilled on the Chadwick ranch, a few miles southeast of Medford. The well has been sunk 1000 feet, and three veins of coal, aggregating 20 feet in thickness, have been pierced, while considerable oil sand has been found. The superintendent in charge of the work informed the owner, C. H. Chadwick, of Chicago, of these facts, and all work was ordered stopped until he arrives.
