The East Oregonian reports that E. M. Smith has been appointed by the county court as guardian of Amasa Phillips, an 84-year-old resident of Weston.

J. P. Llewellyn, George Brill and Ralph Tucker were out last week on a fishing excursion along the upper reaches of the Umatilla, and found excellent sport.

The annual roundup now in progress on the Umatilla reservation shows that the Indians have lost about fifty per cent of their ponies because of winter's ravages.

Rev. George Chapman will preach his farewell sermon next Sunday morning at the United Brethren church, prior to his departure for Philomath, Oregon, where he will engage in farming.

Weston High redeemed its laurels Friday by defeating Athena High in a close ball game, score five to four. Alton Wood made his debut on the mound for Weston, and caused thirteen young Athena batsmen to lay down the willow.

The road camp on the D. H. Wilsey farm is a busy place, some thirty men being employed. It is expected that the road will be completed through the farm this week, but as occasional repairs will be made wherever needed the camp will be maintained for some time yet. J. M. Myers, W. Crabill, J. Crum and families are among the camp residents.

The Weston cemetery is a very beautiful spot this week to any lover of flowers. Sixteen varieties are in bloom or budding. The work done in the I. O. O. F. and Masonic cemeteries during the last two years has made it convenient to stroll about and view at close hand the many works of art in marble and granite that mark the resting places of the loved ones gone before. Contrasts are educational, and when the people come together there on Memorial Day perhaps the best of improving the city section will be felt and some move made to that end in the near future. The flowers now seen in the cemetery include narcissus, tulip, myrtle, lilac, wallflower, Indian pink, wild lupine, sunflower, Indian pink, pink creeper, blue bell and bachelor button.

At its recent meeting the Saturday Afternoon Club voted $14 toward the building of a pavilion in the City park, this sum to be available in the event that the city council will provide the remainder of the expense. It is expected also that townspeople in general will co-operate with small donations of cash or labor. The pavilion is to be provided with benches and a reading table, and will serve as a pleasant resting place for the public during the warm summer afternoons. It is thought that it will prove to be a convenient place, also, for summer band concerts. In view of the effective work done in behalf of a better Weston by the Saturday Afternoon Club, its latest plan will doubtless meet with popular support and approval.

Clark E. Nelson, district manager of the Equitable Life, was up from Pendleton during the week. Clark is in line with his fourth successive year for the Equitable's Century club, which will be held in New York City in August. His writing for the year will, in fact, run far above the $100,000 mark required. Not long ago he wrote two $5,000 policies in Pendleton in one afternoon. Henry W. Collins, well known grain buyer and warehouseman, and James H. Sturges of E. L. Smith & Co., each took out a policy for that amount. With perhaps one exception, these are the largest policies ever written in Pendleton.

A band of seventeen gypsies traveling in three big touring cars--two Cadillacs and one Buick--passed through Weston Saturday on their way from the place where they had been to the place where they are going. They stopped long enough for their dusky women to work Main street, but if they do no better elsewhere than they did here they will never get gasoline money. Even gypsies in automobiles are regarded here as less of a novelty than a nuisance.

The Bachelor Girls' Club met Monday evening with Miss Odessa Kirkpatrick, and spent an enjoyable evening in chatting and sewing. The refreshments were dainty and appetizing, and were served in the dining room of the Kirkpatrick residence, which had been attractively decorated in the club colors. Ten members were present. The club's next meeting is set for May 29, when Miss Ferial McBride and Miss Ora Martin will entertain with a "dinner party."

The Pendleton Bucks, although heading the percentage column in the Blue Mountain baseball league, have to be satisfied with a second place. Financial support is given as the reason. Pendleton will drop out of the league unless $200 is provided from some source with which to finish the schedule. This leaves Pilot Rock, Echo and Weston "up in the air" unless they want to carry on a three-cornered fight, with one team lying idle each Sunday.

Oregonian: There is a man up the valley who came to Oregon a few years ago determined to succeed by specializing. He bought ten acres and the first year cleared more than $500 in onion sets. The second year he trebled that sum and this year expects to make all kinds of money. He says he works only six months in the year, but that is humorous; for a man with his ability is working all the time with his head.

Alvin, the seven-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. I. C. Hopkins, died May 10 of diabetes at his home on Weston mountain. Funeral services were conducted at the Methodist church by Rev. N. D. Wood and the remains were laid to rest in the I. O. O. F. cemetery. Mr. and Mrs. Hopkins desire to give expression of their sincere thanks to the neighbors and friends who aided them during their bereavement.

The final meeting of the Saturday Afternoon Club for the season was held at the home of Mrs. Wilbur E. Wood. Many interesting plans were discussed in outlining the work for next year. The usual program was set aside and the club ladies spent a long and delightful afternoon, closing with a delicious lunch.

Mrs. J. N. Scott of Athena has received encouraging news from Huntington Beach, Calif., as to the condition of her brother, Will Preston, who was run over and injured by a jitney bus through the carelessness of its driver. It is expected that with the healing of his broken shoulder he will soon recover.

The local W. C. T. U. met Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. C. W. Keen. Out-of-town visitors were Mrs. Woodworth, county president; Mrs. Rugg, county vice-president; and Mrs. May, county secretary. All are of Pendleton. A number of new members were received into the society.

All the singers of Weston and vicinity are invited and requested to come to the Methodist church on next Wednesday evening, when choruses will be rehearsed for the pioneers' reunion.

Fire Tuesday night destroyed the greater part of the Milton ice plant, causing a loss of $40,000. Insurance of $10,000 was carried. Defective wiring is thought to have caused the fire.

Motor car service to all points, day or night. Also livery and feed stable opposite the Llewellyn blacksmith shop. Lyle McBride.

At the big Woodmen rally in Athena Wednesday night 27 candidates were initiated, ten of them being from Weston.

Mrs. H. C. Puckett of Leahy, Washington, came last Saturday for a visit with her daughter, Mrs. E. M. Weeks.

The Weston Baths and Tailor Shop will meet all prices. For rates on cleaning, look for ad. R. L. Reynaud.

Mrs. Wilma Minnick of Bridal Veil, Oregon, is visiting her parents at Weston.

A. R. Lansdale is here from Walla Walla for a visit with relatives and friends.

Weston Boys See the "Pen."

A party of thirty Weston boys, members of J. H. Williams' Bible class at the United Brethren church, had a splendid time Friday on a trip to the Walla Walla penitentiary. The excursion came their way as a prize for the Sunday school class showing the largest growth in membership, and they made the most of it. Many had never visited Walla Walla before. Not a few of them saw a street car for the first time. To all the trip was a source of unalloyed delight, and the grownups accompanying them shared their pleasure.

The boys spent several hours at the penitentiary, and were received with every courtesy by the prison authorities. They say that they found it a very clean and even a beautiful place, and full of interesting sights and scenes for the young visitor. Nevertheless, they will always prefer to see its big gates close behind them as guests rather than inmates.

The boys making the trip were Ellis Brown, Johnny Lucas, Herman Stages, Ray Jones, Bill MacKenzie, Anson Payne, Dudley Rogers, James, Craig, Floyd and Blanche Thorson, Fred Greer, Eldon and Lloyd King, Gus Burg, Clarence and Victor Thoeny, Art Cooper, Lyle Webb, James Lutex, Arden Lucas, Cecil Green, Glenn Stages, Lloyd Beamer, Lewis and Bill Van Winkle, Erice Parker, Harvey Lundell, Robert Lithgow, Herbert Johnson, Worth Watts.

Grownups who furnished cars for the expedition were Frank Greer, Dr. F. D. Watts, L. R. Van Winkle, Joe Hodgson and G. W. Stages.
