

Hand Vacuum Cleaner

$5.75

The modern improved hand vacuum cleaner or sweeper is wonderfully effective, a marvelous time and labor saver. It sucks up the dirt instead of scattering it, will draw dirt and grit through the heaviest carpet or rug—that's why periodical housecleaning is giving way to continuous house cleaning; a little work each week keeps the carpets spick and span, clean through and through.

We made a large contract for one of the best makes, one we thought enough to have our name put on it, and yet we are selling this fine sweeper for only $5.75. Now, don't think it can't be good for that—it is good. It is exactly the same as one now being sold under another name by canvassers at $13.60.

It has three powerful suction bellows, has fibre bearings, has adjustable revolving brush to gather up lint, etc., has effective easily adjustable nozzle with easy emptying dust bag and dust pass, is made low to go under furniture, etc., runs but little harder and weighs but little more than an ordinary carpet sweeper. You will be pleased with the Davis-Kaser's Special Sweeper at $5.75. Try one thirty days at our risk—money refunded without question if desired. Sent post paid at our special price of $5.75.

Herman O'Hara, who is taking the course in agricultural chemistry at the Oregon Agricultural College, came up Saturday from Corvallis to spend the vacation at his home. He will be in the Junior class next year.

Rev. and Mrs. W. A. Phelps have arrived in Weston from Mountain Home, Idaho, and have taken up their residence in the United Brethren parsonage. Mr. Phelps preached his first sermon to a Weston congregation last Sunday evening, and made a very favorable impression.

Will Price took his paint brushes to the country Monday to apply suitable coloring to George Winn's new barn, a commodious structure 64x28 feet in size, with a circle roof. George, who knows a thing or two about carpentry himself, was his own superintendent of construction.

The Athens Press tosses the following bouquet over the hill: "Weston's new band, which had been practicing but eight weeks prior to the pioneers reunion, made a splendid impression upon all who heard it in the important part it took in the program on both days of the picnic. Professor Lundell has an instrumentation of 38 pieces, which is especially strong in the reed section."

Lillian Garrett, said to be 15 years old, but who gave her age as 17, was arrested by the Milton police Saturday on a charge of forging checks and has been turned over to the juvenile court authorities at Pendleton. The girl is said to have followed a carload company to Freewater from her home in Weston, where she kept house for her father and little brother. Her mother is dead.

After visiting her mother and friends at Weston, Mrs. Viva Nordlund left Monday on her return home to Wallace, Idaho. Prior to her departure Mrs. Nordlund entertained Miss Hazel Wyrick of Pendleton, who is at home for vacation after attending a school for girls at Tarrytown-on-the-Hudson, New York.

The Ferguson boys, Elmer, Jess and Bert—who are hustling young farmers of the Weston uplands—have each filed upon a half section of land in the vicinity of Bear creek, this land having been returned to settlement from the Wamoa reserve. Their holdings lie in one body, and will be valuable for pasture.

Mrs. Aila Wallace Unruh, former state president of the W. C. T. U. and now rehabilitation worker, will speak at the United Brethren Church next Monday, June 19, at 2:30 p. m. "Mrs. Unruh is a noted speaker," say the local W. C. T. U. ladies, "and we want as many as possible to be present and hear her."

Seriously ill from the double affliction of appendicitis and gall stones, Mrs. J. S. Leavelle was conveyed Tuesday to St. Anthony's hospital, Pendleton, where she submitted to an operation performed by the Drs. Boyden and Dr. Smith. Encouraging reports have since been heard as to her condition.

Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Barnes, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Douglas and Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Gould left yesterday on a camping trip to Meham to Wyrick. The LEADER man is confident that the ladies of the party will see that he is remembered with a "mess of trout."

Charles P. Smith, for many years a resident of Umatilla county and an early sawmill man of Weston mountain, died recently at the home of his sister in Long Beach, Calif. He was a member of the Masonic, Odd Fellows and Woodmen orders.

While in a state of exhilaration, and possibly anticipating the Fourth of July, George Schmitt discarded his shoes on the other day in the city limits. In consequence the municipal exchequer was fattened to the extent of $7.50.

Accompanying her parents, Miss Edna Banister returned last week from Corvallis, where she was graduated from the domestic science department of the Oregon Agricultural College.

The firm of Zehm & Duncan has dissolved partnership, Orval Duncan retaining. E. E. Zehm will continue to conduct the Pastime pool hall.

Pete McFadden returned Monday from Corvallis, to which city he was called by his father's death a few weeks ago.

All those knowing themselves indebted to us are requested to call and settle at once. Edna & Duncan.

Mrs. C. G. King and children left yesterday for a visit with her daughter at Hermiston.

H. A. Brandt has purchased a Ford roadster from H. L. Hedrick, the local garage man.

W. H. Kendall, the forest ranger who has been supervising the construction of the government telephone line which is being built from the ranger station to Weston, was seriously hurt by a fall Friday. Mr. Kendall had climbed a tree and leaned backward in the pursuit of his work, thinking he had snapped his safety strap as usual. The strap parted, and as his feet were held by the climbers he swung head downward until he fell 15 feet to the ground. Dr. Smith took him to Walla Walla, where an examination revealed the fact that his shoulder joint was so badly broken and splintered that it could not be adjusted. His shoulder was bandaged by the surgeons, and his only hope to regain his partial use is that a false joint will be formed eventually. The accident is especially unfortunate in that Mr. Kendall has a family depending upon his wages for their support.

Weston school district will hold its annual meeting next Monday, June 19, when there will be a director and clerk to elect. The meeting will take place at the school house at two o'clock in the afternoon, and the directors are anxious that every taxpayer and patron in the district attend who can possibly do so. They point out that the meeting is an important one and that citizens of the district should signify by their presence their interest in the school's success and progress. It will be the proper time and place for those who have suggestions to offer to present them, in order that the directors may learn the sentiment of the district.

L. K. Harlan, publisher of the Pilot Rock Record, was in town Sunday and had the honor of conveying an eminent local journalist and from an Athens ball game. Mr. Harlan was accompanied by Jack Root, a heavyweight boxer of considerable renown. Said ball game, by the way, was won by Athleta from Helix, score 5 to 3. Athleta took an early lead which the Helix sluggers could not overcome, although batting Pat Henderson out of the box.

With their horns honking and their occupants cheering, eleven Freewater automobiles paraded into Weston Tuesday as an advertisement of Freewater's Cherry Day next Wednesday, June 21. Heading the procession the Milton-Freewater band played two routing selections on Main street while the jolly Cherry Day boosters tarried in our little city. They then went on to Athens, Adams and Pendleton. It was a ripping publicity stunt.

While hauling hay from the Dupuis field the team of Elias Thorne became frightened when the wagon swerved upon them in making a turn, and ran away. Walter Milton was pitched out of the wagon, landing on his head, and Thorne jumped out, but both escaped injury. One of the horses was gashed and the coupling pole broken when the team crashed through three fences.

Zane Lansdale, who was a member of a class of twelve civil engineers who were graduated this year from the Oregon Agricultural College, arrived Monday from Corvallis for an extended visit in Weston and on the Weston uplands. Mrs. Lansdale did not accompany him, as her grandmother, who is an invalid, requires her attention.

Sam Banister and family passed through Weston Monday in their new touring car en route from Walla Walla county to their future home near Wabburg.

Mrs. J. H. Williams, son and daughter are expected to arrive tomorrow from Portland, and will occupy the newly remodeled cottage on East Main street which Mr. Williams has prepared for them. Gail Miller Williams, a boy of ten, is a gifted dramatic reader for one of his years, and has given several successful recitals on different occasions in Portland.

FREEWATER CHERRY DAY

NEXT WEDNESDAY, JUNE 21

With the waning of the peach industry in the Freewater district, it has been decided to abandon Peach Day and to boost for the cherry, the growing of which delectable fruit is fast becoming one of Freewater's principal industries. So Freewater will have a Cherry Day next Wednesday, June 21, and Weston people are assured that they will receive a glad welcome on that occasion.

Among the several features are the following: Big cherry display—hundreds of dollars in premiums.

Fine music by 10-piece band. Ball game, Freewater vs. Umatilla. Dance afternoon and evening in Commercial Club rooms.

Auto parade and races. Water fight by fire department. Sports of all kinds, including 15-foot greased pole with cash prize on top.

Rest rooms in all the stores. Free meal served to largest number arriving on two or four-horse drawn vehicle.

Plenty to eat—five special places where meals will be served. Coronation of King Bing and Queen Ann at 10 a. m.

Cash prizes will be awarded to the amount of $700, and there will be free cherries for everybody. The Freewater Merchants' Association is directing the affair, and its secretary, Claude Pritchett, will be glad to answer all inquiries for special information as to premiums or other matters.

Having a progressive and growing little city, Freewater will open wide its gates in order that neighbors and friends from other communities may make its better acquaintance. It is getting together a ton of cherries with which to feed its visitors.
