

Make Your Home "Homey"

There's no place you can spend to get such wonderful returns for your money as in providing good, comfortable surroundings in the home to be enjoyed every hour you are there.

This store is splendidly equipped to serve you in this connection. From the cheapest that has merit to the finest, just about all grades are here and in such a variety of styles as the combined stocks of ten ordinary stores would not afford. There's satisfaction in selecting from such assortments—satisfaction and profit.

Davis-Kaser prices represent the utmost in value giving. They are rock-bottom, in plain figures, the same to all. No sliding scale here to enable the salesman to give off as little as he thinks necessary to secure your order. You don't have to be an experienced shopper and no sacrifice of your self-respect is necessary to secure the lowest price possible. We give you the lowest price, the only price, whether you ask for it or not. It's what you get for your money that counts. Big discounts for "Cash" or "Season's it's you" do not necessarily mean big bargains. Taking something from nothing is still an undiscovered art. In any general bill of goods, Davis-Kaser prices will save you money. We invite comparison.

BREVITIES

Made-to-measure fall suits for men and women. Weston Mercantile Co.

A daughter was born Monday to Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Blomgren at their home in the foothills.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Jones were in town on a trading trip Saturday from their home in the foothills.

W. H. Gould and family are at home, spending the entire summer at Camp McDougall in the blues.

Miss Hazel Duncan leaves for Portland soon to become a student at the Hehnke-Walker business college.

Miss Hortense Baker is recovering rapidly, after the operation which she recently sustained at Missoula.

Earl McKensie returned Friday from La Crosse, Wash., where he has been looking after the MacKenzie land interests.

Mr. and Mrs. Zane Lansdale have gone to Chicago, where Mr. Lansdale has a position in a railroad accounting department.

Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Metz left Wednesday for an extended visit with their daughter, Mrs. Graybill Royer, at Elgin, Illinois.

A. L. Swartzgart, the East End porker magnate, lately sold a carload of hogs to Bert Whitman of Pendleton at 2 1/2 cents, live weight.

Lieutenant Robert L. Walsh, a recent graduate of West Point, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. F. S. LeGrow at Athens. He is a nephew of Mr. LeGrow.

Arthur Ross has bought the D. L. Gulmer residence on South Water street. The house is now being entirely remodeled under the direction of Contractor Ashworth.

After spending his vacation on J. V. Bell's upland ranch, where he fared sumptuously and had plenty of grouse meat, Chief Wilson is back on the job as Weston's police force.

After a pleasant visit with relatives and friends in this vicinity Alex Walker returned last week to Portland. He was accompanied by his grandson, Eldon McIntyre.

W. A. McCorkell forced down to town the other day from the uplands, looking pretty sad. He said that he had lost 1400 through not being able to get pickers for his huckleberry crop.

J. B. Hart and family motored down from Camp McDougall Monday on their way home to Walla Walla. Miss Artie Hart has nearly recovered, after sustaining an operation at Walla Walla for appendicitis.

Dr. A. F. Sempert, Weston's dental practitioner, will be back in his office again September 12, after spending a very enjoyable vacation at Oakland, Calif. He sailed from Oakland September 4 for an ocean voyage along the coast.

Rev. and Mrs. W. G. Smith and daughter arrived Tuesday from Walla Walla and are occupying the Methodist parsonage. Mr. Smith was assigned to the Weston charge during the recent South Methodist conference in Walla Walla. He will preach his first sermon Sunday morning.

Judge (Jim) Mainey of Pendleton had a narrow escape from a horn of elk while hunting in Union county. While he was lying in ambush for deer the elk, twenty or more in number, came upon his hiding place and charged through the timber in an effort to locate him. They did not succeed, although one came so close that he could have poked it with his rifle barrel. They didn't seem to like Jim's smell, or something, and were apparently desirous of eradicating him forthwith. He thinks there should be a game law protecting innocent hunters from reckless elk. He didn't want their teeth; he just wanted to be let alone.

"Uncle George" Webb, an honored pioneer of Eastern Oregon, who served as state treasurer 25 years ago, has celebrated his 83rd birthday anniversary at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Frank Peaster, in Pendleton. This reminds us that Weston has a pioneer citizen, "Uncle James" Reeves, who is 95 years old and is still reasonably active. Mr. Reeves voted for Wood in 1892 and is still a life-long Democrat. He lives quietly with his wife in their cottage home on Water street.

Two stacks of barley which constituted Hulet March's crop from 36 acres in the upper part of the ground Saturday night as his place on the Bear ket uplands. The origin of the fire is mysterious, and it is thought possible that some incendiary may have touched a match to the stacks in order to satisfy a grudge against the young owner. No threatening outfit had been at work in the vicinity, and the stacks between the stacks was unburned.

Following the lead of Chicago and Portland the Weston wheat market was affected favorably by the settlement of the threatened railroad strike. Monday being Labor Day, no quotations were received, but the market opened Tuesday with a firm undertone. By Wednesday the local quotation on wheat had risen to $1.20 per bushel. Some little activity is reported by the dealers.

Emery, the three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Rogers, fell over a bank Tuesday while at play with other youngsters and dislocated his elbow. The dislocation was reduced by Dr. Smith and the little patient was then taken to Walla Walla for an examination to see if there was any evidence of fracture. This was happily found not to be the case.

L. I. O'Hara and Fred March have been called to do jury service at the September term of court from the Weston country. Lester says that if intelligent jurors are wanted he fears the county has made a sad mistake, as he is entirely without experience and doesn't know very much now. Milton will be represented by H. B. Lee and C. W. Steen.

Anna E. Bledsoe, an Albany woman, has sued the O.-W. R. & N. Co. for $10,000 damages because of the death of her son, John Milton Morgan, the 14-year-old boy who was fatally injured by a train near Freewater July 19 last. It is claimed that the boy was riding between two cars and was kicked off by a brakeman.

After helping to take care of Weston's harvest Ole Westfall left this week for North Yakima to see what's doing there, and expects afterward to visit his home in Portland. With great punctuality he ordered "The Leader" sent to him in order to keep informed as to Weston's progress, as he may want to come back.

Mrs. Laura Shanks is moving this week to her newly-remodeled cottage near the Methodist church, where she will conduct a small boarding and rooming house. "The Laurels" on the normal school grounds, vacated by Mrs. Shanks, will be conducted as a rooming house by Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Porter.

Miss Greia McIntyre, a 1916 graduate of Athena High, has received a scholarship good for Reed College, Willamette University, Pacific University or various other schools on the coast. She will make her choice and attend one of them, reports the Press.

Ladies you will find that Ideal Tailoring means correctness of style and individuality of pattern. You select the cloth from 400 patterns, and by giving us your order your tailored suit, made to your measure, will fit you perfectly. Weston Mercantile Co.

Dr. G. S. Newson has again located in Athena, having purchased the office and practice of Dr. A. B. Stone. The latter will take charge of his father's farm near Thornton, Wash. Dr. Stone's parents contemplate spending the winter in Honolulu.

Rev. H. C. Marshall of Portland, representing the educational department and membership bureau of the World's Purity Federation, gave an address at the Methodist church last Sunday evening on phases of the white slave traffic.

Jake Narkaus, the well known young stockman of the Reed and Hawley uplands, has purchased a number sections of timber and pasture land from T. Ralls. He lately turned off 15 head of heaves to the Walla Walla Meat Co. at five to six cents.

One of the big shade trees on Main street was cut down Wednesday and after many trials Lyle McBride finally succeeded in hauling it away with his Ford jitney. The process reminded one of an ant tugging at a fat caterpillar.

The new grand jury will meet at Pendleton September 18, simultaneously with the opening of the September term of circuit court. It is usually called a week earlier, but this time it hasn't much to do.

Rev. W. S. Payne left Thursday for Lewiston, Idaho, to attend the annual conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church on business connected with his winter program of evangelical work.

On account of the increased cost of doing business I am now charging 25 cents each way for depot trips. Late McBride.

Sleeping rooms from one to two dollars per week. Also building to rent. Mrs. Margaret Wheeler.

Mrs. J. E. Read left Tuesday for Arlington to visit her daughter, Mrs. M. E. Shurte.

Plymouth Rock hens for sale at 50 cents each. Mrs. L. S. Wood.

Good stock of paints and oils and Lee tires. A. Phillips.

School books for cash only. Goodwin's drug store.

WATTS & ROGERS

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Price have gone to Camp McDougall for two weeks of mountaineering.

The Epworth League will elect officers at its monthly business meeting at the church tomorrow evening.

In the LEADER'S report last week of the Henderson family reunion the name of Mrs. M. E. Henderson, the mother, was inadvertently omitted.

For Sale—Peaches at two cents on trees, tomatoes, one cent. Plenty for all if you do not wait too long. Wood or lay taken in exchange. A. R. Badley (Peach Island), Milton, Or.

We are on a cash basis and want no patronage on any other terms. Subscriptions considered cash when not allowed by the subscriber to run one year in arrears. THE LEADER.

FOR SALE! 80 acres well improved land one mile southeast of Weston, Or. In summer fallow; has orchard, alfalfa and garden land on creek bottom; well and city water. Geo. R. Dismore, Amity, Oregon. (Owner.)

Mr. and Mrs. R. Lieualten, Mrs. J. S. Harris, Mrs. E. M. Smith, Mrs. W. S. Price, Rev. N. D. Wood and sister, Miss Eula Wood, were present from Weston at the South Methodist conference last week in Walla Walla.

Using tools stolen from a local blacksmith shop, robbers dynamited the safe in the Athena postoffice Tuesday night, but secured only a few cents. Sheriff Taylor and Deputy Estes are trailing the culprits, supposed to be three in number.

Local registration for the general election will begin next Monday at the office of S. A. Barnes and continue ten days. Voters who have not yet attended to this duty may then do so. Mr. Barnes' office will not, however, be open at all hours.

I. F. Settle and family have moved to town from Walla Walla and are occupying one of the Powers houses on Water street. Mr. Settle will establish a shop in Weston for harness and shoe repairing. He was familiar with the Weston of early years, having lived here awhile during his boyhood.
