

New Edison Phonographs

Mr. Edison has recently perfected his Amberola Phonograph by installing a diamond point in the reproducer, making this phonograph superior by far to all talking machines. The music reproduced is clearer, softer and more natural. The records are indestructible and play longer. There are no needles to change. Records for nearly all classes of music are only 50c each, while at 75c there is a fine collection of operatic and other high class selections by noted artists—records which ordinarily cost from $2.00 to $5.00.

Latest models in this newly improved phonograph at $30, $50, $75.

Owners of old style Cylinder machines can now obtain attachments which will enable them to play the new records.

The New Edison Diamond Disc Phonograph

is the peerless musical instrument. It recreates all forms of music with such absolute fidelity that large audiences of musical critics time and again have been unable to distinguish the recreation from the original.

Latest New Edison at $100.00, $150.00, $200.00 and $250.00. Nothing adds more to the happiness and enjoyment of the home than a good phonograph.

Weston boys have great sport with the inner tubes of old automobile tires, which are elastic enough to have a vigorous "kick" when stretched out and suddenly released. Master Gal Williams is wearing a very black eye which he got through being a trifle slow in dodging.

A Weston Free Day committee member submits these pertinent remarks: "Let every resident of Weston boost for and help our Free Day, October 14. Let every lady bake a pie or two and some cake. Do what you can to help the merchants, who are contributing liberally and from whom each of you will receive a souvenir by finding it."

Billy Williams was a Weston visitor Wednesday from his upland ranch on the breaks of the Umatilla. While in rather a weakened condition from the critical operation which he sustained in Pendleton last February, Mr. Williams is growing stronger and feels lucky to be alive. Three surgeons worked two hours and fifteen minutes on his inanimate frame and acquired a good deal of inside information which he was in no position to withhold.

Weston was the storm center Tuesday of swirling wind and dust, and emerged in rather a bedraggled condition. While more violent dust storms have occurred here, this caused more trouble to the telephone people than any since the system was established. No less than six of the thirteen farmer lines were put out of commission, and the toll line also suffered. The electric lighting system was likewise disabled, and Tuesday night the town went entirely without illumination except from lamps and candles. The dark, gloomy streets reminded one of pioneer times, when electric lights were unknown and therefore unmissed.

WALLA WALLA TO ENTERTAIN AT HOME COMING AND FESTIVAL

Something different in the way of a carnival is that arranged by the Turkey Reds, the Booster auxiliary of the Walla Walla Commercial Club, for October 19, 20 and 21.

Walla Walla's First Annual Home Coming and Harvest Festival will be given on these dates. In brief, there will be street displays of fruits and vegetables; an athletic carnival, two big football games and one baseball game, a pure food show, a small but high-class livestock show, lots of open air attractions, music by many bands dancing, etc. All these things will be free to the public with the exception of the football and baseball games as these are given under other auspices than those of the Turkey Reds. The ball game will be between the Prison Mavericks and the Moose organization. The football game will be between Whitman College and the University of Idaho; Walla Walla H School and another H school.

The street displays of fruits and vegetables will be one of the big features. The merchants are offering prizes for the best corn, apples, potatoes, etc., each merchant giving premiums for a different product. In this way in front of one store will be the big potatoes; another store will be the background for apples, and so on up and down the line.

The displays, pure food show, livestock show, etc., will all be downtown, in the business district so that the public will not have to go far for its entertainment.

The Turkey Reds have extended a general invitation to the public of the Northwest to attend, assuring all that they will find ample accommodations in Walla Walla's many hotels and rooming houses and splendid service in the cafes.

Suit is Non Suited

On the ground of contributory negligence, Judge Phelps Tuesday allowed a motion of non suit made by attorneys for the railroad in the suit of Ashbaugh vs. the O.-W. railroad. The suit was in the Circuit Court for two days. Mr. Ashbaugh sued the Company for $7000 damages for the death of his wife which occurred nearly two years ago when Mrs. Ashbaugh crossed the track in front of the depot at Echo under a train and was killed by the cars.

Another Hard Winter Predicted
Indian weather forecasters and hunters who have killed bears this fall are predicting another hard winter for the mid-Columbia district. Herman Pregge, an Oak Grove resident, killed a 450-pound bruin that had invaded the orchard district. The rolls of fat are declared to indicate a long, severe cold period. Indian George, 90-year-old patriarch of local redmen, who foretold the big snow last year, warns his white friends against coming cold. George bases his forecasts on the condition of moss on trees and the great crop of acorns. "Higher up snow coming than last winter," he says.

Voters who failed to register for the primaries have until October 7th to get their names on the list for the general election.
