

Shop Early--Shop Here

Christmas will be here before we are ready for it if we are not alert—think of it, only three short weeks.

As usual we have planned and worked all the year that we might be ready with the right goods at the right time, enabling us to show now an immense stock that is a continuous revelation of happy gift suggestions—hundreds and hundreds of entirely new items, and most of them items that will appeal to nearly all.

Every department of the store is replete with novelties as well as the good old staple items always in demand at Christmas. Give gifts that are useful, gifts that endure. Give worthwhile gifts this year, of all years—gifts of fine furniture, of fine Rugs, of fine China, of Silverware, never forgetting a Monarch Range or a McDougall Cabinet.

But all can be suited. There are choice new items from a few cents up—gifts to please all.

Everything is in favor of the early shopper—assortment, service, etc. A deposit will hold goods for later delivery if desired, but do your selecting early.

BREVITIES

Mrs. W. S. Payne is recovering from her recent illness.

Orders taken for potted flowers, at the DeMoss Furniture Store.

Team, harness, hack and span of mares with colts for sale. E. W. Boyts.

George Sowers has been kept at home for several days by a serious illness.

Mrs. L. W. Barnes of Chelan, Wash., is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. DeGraw.

Sylvan Kennard and Cyril Proebstel are leaving soon for Portland, where they will enter business college.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Kinnear of Milton and Earl Kinnear of Walla Walla were in Weston for Thanksgiving.

A party of friends were pleasantly entertained by Dr. and Mrs. C. J. Smith Saturday evening with cards, at their residence on Water street.

George Walden has returned from Walla Walla, where he was employed on the John Hughes farm. He goes back to work there in the spring.

I want to buy three good young mares, gentle, good disposition; two 1200 or over, one 900 to 1000. Will pay cash if suited. F. M. Godfrey, at Porter Graham's.

Frank Snider is crippling around at his blacksmith shop with a dislocated knee cap, which he sustained while shoeing a horse. He doesn't mind a little thing like that.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Price, Ernie Blomgren, John Barnes and Roy Read went to Walla Walla Thanksgiving day to see the foot ball battle between Whitman College and W. S. C.

Mrs. R. G. Saling was at Echo Wednesday evening, presenting "Madam Butterfly," in association with Mrs. Ada Leah Ross, of Pendleton. The little playlet was well received by Echo's people.

The Misses Susan and Esther Narkaus, who have been attending Pendleton High, and Miss Ida Narkaus, who is teaching in Duncan school district, have returned home for Thanksgiving.

Miss Flora McConoughy of Walla Walla was a week-end visitor at the J. J. Beeler residence. She reviewed the work of the music pupils of Miss Hope Beeler, who has a most encouraging class.

The superintendent and faculty of the Weston schools enjoyed a fine Thanksgiving spread of their own cooking at the dormitory building. A noble turkey, served in state, helped to remind them of home.

A truly excellent and enjoyable program was given by the grade pupils of the Weston schools at their Thanksgiving entertainment Wednesday evening. The proceeds of the cafeteria supper went to the phonograph fund.

Mrs. Mattie La Dow, a beloved and respected pioneer woman of Pendleton, died at her home in that city Tuesday of bronchial pneumonia. She was the widow of Congressman Geo. LaDow and was 72 years old. Two sons survive her.

A car driven by Hans Struve of Pendleton turned completely over Thursday in a ditch near the Iley Winn place on Dry creek while he was enroute to the football game at Walla Walla. A young lady who accompanied Mr. Struve was quite severely hurt.

As an aftermath of the Maloney-Rogers dispute over a lease of a quarter section of Indian land, says the East Oregonian, Judge J. W. Maloney has secured a four year lease on 1600 acres of land which for the past eight or ten years has been farmed by Frank Rogers and his partner, Frank Curl. To take the land away from them Judge Maloney bid $14.25 an acre rental, the highest price ever paid in the county. The land is owned by Mel Shurtum and other Shurtum heirs and lies right at Fulton station.

G. H. Fontaine, well known in Weston, has sold his Dayton land and invested in Montana. He bought about 2200 acres of improved land near Highwood, Mont., paying $35 an acre. Mrs. Fontaine and children have already gone to Montana to occupy the place, but Mr. Fontaine will not leave until spring. He will be assisted in his farming operations by Craig Driskell, who accompanied by Mrs. Driskell is also moving to Montana.

QUAKER REMEDY COMPANY GIVES FINE FREE SHOWS

Weston people have had the advantage during the week of some very pleasing free entertainment provided by the Quaker Remedy Company, under the direction of Dr. W. S. Hailey of Chicago.

The doctor is assisted by five high-class vaudeville performers, and the entertainments nightly has been up to the standard of the best vaudeville circuit. The week closes with a fine show Saturday evening. It will include a five-act vaudeville bill and a five-reel picture feature, one of the latest sensations in film-dom from New York. For this performance admittance will be charged. Many valuable presents have been given away, a good share of these having been purchased in the local stores. Silverware, metal beds, rocking chairs, mirrors and the like have fallen to the lot of the more fortunate of Weston's people during the nightly drawing. It is promised that before the show closes every holder of a number will receive a prize worth not less than one dollar.

The popularity contest has been an absorbing feature of the week, and has resolved itself into a close race between a number of Weston girls. A diamond ring worth $35 is the prize.

Dr. Hailey is accompanied by Mrs. Hailey and their little son, Jimmie.
