Weston Lodge No. 58, I. O. O. F., will have installation of officers Thursday evening, July 5.

Miss Edna Banister returned Tuesday from a visit with college friends at Caldwell and Nampa, Idaho.

Jack Chapin reports that the 35 acres of beans planted by himself and others on his place near town are beginning to look like successful food preparedness.

The Woman's Missionary Society will gladly receive donations of old newspapers and magazines, which the donors are requested to leave at the basement of the Methodist church.

Lowell Duncan returned Monday from a fortnight's visit to the metropolis, which met in all respects with his approval except that he regarded the Rose Festival as a bit disappointing. His sister Hazel, who accompanied him to Portland, did not return, and will probably attend school there.

Cyril Proebstel is back from New Mexico, where he served as time-keeper for several months of the big builders' supply company at Santa Fe of which his uncle, Charles Proebstel, is general manager. He came home for the purpose of enlisting—preferably in the navy. As yet he is a little shy in weight.

Mrs. Eva Hartman and Mrs. Lillian McMorris of Portland, sisters of Mrs. L. S. Wood, motored up from Pendleton Wednesday and were entertained at dinner by Mrs. Wood. Other dinner guests in the party were Mrs. Florence Roberts of Portland, Mrs. M. J. Marsh and Mr. A. Tardiff of Pendleton. Mrs. McMorris remained for a more extended visit.

Miss Thurza V. Tucker, the 20-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Tucker, living eight miles southwest of Medical Lake, Wash., has answered the nation's call by donning overalls and pitching in to help her father plow his fields and raise wheat. Mr. Tucker purchased a new tractor this spring and she has taken entire charge as its engineer.

While learning to drive a new car J. S. Harris lost control of it Tuesday evening and went through a barb wire fence near the concrete bridge on north Water street. He narrowly escaped a plunge of seven or eight feet into the creek bottom, and when rescued from his dangerous predicament his car was balancing on the bank. The machine was only slightly damaged.

Pine creek is a disappointment to local anglers, who were led to suppose that the removal of the Hudson Bay obstruction by means of a fish ladder would restore the stream to the finny tribe. It is now reported that another obstruction exists, above the confluence of Pine and Dry creeks. Be this as it may, the fisherman is lucky who approximates one trout per mile.

E. E. Zehm, who has been on the army reserve list, left Tuesday for The Presidio, San Francisco, in response to call and will go into training at the Officers' Reserve camp. When furloughed he was a first sergeant in the Washington National Guard and in line for a commission. Mr. Zehm has sold his half interest in the local pool hall to his former partner, F. W. Hoffman. His family will continue to reside in Weston.

Earl Olson was called to Pendleton Monday to complete his enlistment in the aviation corps, and went from there to Vancouver. Earl is among Weston's most prominent and promising young men, and the good wishes of his friends will accompany him on his aerial flights. He was delighted at being accepted, as the ranks of Uncle Sam's air fighters are pretty well filled up. Roy Read was examined at the same time, but greatly to his disappointment proved to be too light.

Mrs. Frank Robinson, living three miles south of Oakesdale, Wash., is still proving herself in hearty sympathy with Colonel Roosevelt's propaganda against race suicide. She is a mother for the seventh time, having given birth to a baby girl last week. The mother is only 38 years old. This would not be so unusual but for the fact that Mrs. Robinson has given birth to a total of twelve children. Triplets were born twice and twins once. She made her big record ten years ago by bringing seven children into the world within twenty months.
