After hunting years and years in company with Jim Jones without any mishap, "Shed" Price went out after deer alone a few days ago on the south fork of the Unatilla, and managed to get lost. He ran onto some bear tracks and followed them until it began to grow dark, when he found that he didn't exactly know where he was at. He was compelled to spend a cold and windy night in a lonely gulch without even a coat to keep him warm.

Potatoes so big that one of them would more than make a meal for the giant that Jack killed and others have to be broken in two in order to get them into the sack, are being raised around Weston. Davis & Ellis took no less than 851 sacks from four acres of the Greer place—many of the spuds so big that they could be corded on the arm like sticks of stove wood. The Burbanks made an enormous yield, but the Early Rose cut down the average. E. A. Dudley is reported to have had 180 sacks of potatoes to the acre from 16 acres of the Jerry St. Dennis place on the reservation.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Carmichael returned last week to Walla Walla from Kirkville, Mo. On their way home the Carmichaels stopped at Superior, Neb., to visit Aunt Sudie Purcell, who contemplates returning to Weston soon.

Narkaus-Gordon Nuptials

A charming wedding was solemnized at ten o'clock Saturday, November 3, when Miss Esther Narkaus and Mr. Chester C. Gordon were united in marriage at the home of Mr. and Mrs. David Gordon, 714 Jackson street, Pendleton.

The rooms were beautifully decorated for the occasion and although a quiet home affair the wedding was a pretty one. The Mendelssohn wedding march was played by Mrs. P. G. Callison. Only immediate relatives witnessed the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. H. H. Hubbell of the Christian church. The young couple were attended by Miss Susan Narkaus as maid of honor and Mr. Clifford Gordon as best man. The bride was pretty and winsome in white satin and georgette crepe with a veil of tulle, and carried a large shower bouquet of bride's roses.

The bride is a popular and estimable girl who grew to womanhood in the Weston country, where she is held in high regard. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Narkaus, pioneer residents of this neighborhood. She is a graduate of the 1917 class of Pendleton High school and a charter member of the Bachelors' Society club. The bridegroom is Pendleton High school's former star athlete. He was a popular member of the 1912 graduating class and president of the student body the same year. DUPUIS SELLS MORE LAND

Ben Dupuis returned Wednesday evening from another trip to Hingham, Montana, with Sim Killgore, Gerald Killgore, Mr. and Mrs. Orville Isminger, Henry Luckenbill and Dick Harris.

All of them invested in Montana lands to an extent ranging from a half section to one and one-quarter sections. It was the second buy made by Sim Killgore and Mr. Isminger. Mr. Dupuis also sold Albert Geiss, who is now living on his new Montana ranch, another half section. Dick Harris bought a section of improved land, together with a farming outfit. They report beautiful weather at Hingham, with an abundance of moisture and no frost. Farmers are busy with their plowing and seeding.

Montana farmers have had a bit the edge on their Umatilla county brethren this season in marketing their crops. They received $1.95 per bushel for their wheat in full upon delivery.

Mr. Dupuis, who bought 1600 acres of Hingham land for his own account, netted 25 percent this year on his investment. Last year 1000 acres of the tract was in crop and averaged 40 to 45 bushels per acre. This year 850 acres was merely "stubbled in" in the spring, but made him the profit mentioned.
