BREVITIES

Harry Zumberg of the W. M. Davis farm has bought a Ford roadster from the local agent, H. L. Hedrick.

Mrs. R. Proudfit visited for several days last week with her cousin, Mrs. Murray B. Winchel, at Touchet, Wash.

Miss Norma Smith of Ogden, Utah, arrived Saturday for a vacation visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Smith.

When you see visitors hunting meals during the reunion, kindly direct them to the girls' dormitory. Mrs. H. C. Fetter.

Elmer Nolte won the W. & R. prize fishing pole last week with a 14½-inch trout, taken from Pine creek below the Watts place.

Jake Booher visited at the Hamp Booher farm near Weston Monday, prior to leaving with other Athena young men to serve Uncle Sam.

Robert Hodgson and Leon Lundell are seeking to qualify as upland spud farmers. The Ross King place is the scene of their ambitious activities.

Walter Hercher of the Weston school faculty left Saturday for Dillard to spend the vacation season. He does not intend to "play around," but has a summer job in view.

John Ridenour was here this week for a short visit to the old home town, prior to going to Butte for the Montana shearing season. He had been shearing on the Snake river.

One hundred and twenty acres of the C. Birdsell estate on the Basket uplands have been bought by Mr. Sherman of Freewater for $3000. The tract consists largely of timber.

Echo farmers have decided to pay $3 to $4 per day for harvesting the first hay crop, while wages for the second crop will be governed by the wheat laborers' pay. The wheat farmers will pay a graded wage ranging from $3.50 to $10.

Several red flags are seen at Athena, where scarlet fever in a mild form has made its appearance. One death occurred, in the family of a Mrs. Cox, but it has not been definitely determined that the child who died had scarlet fever.

The popular Bingham Springs resort had a record crowd Sunday for its annual opening. Saturday night every room in the hotel was occupied, all the cabins were full and a number of people slept in automobiles. Dancing Saturday night was an enjoyable amusement feature.

The W. H. Gould residence on the Heights is being practically rebuilt since the fire which destroyed its roof. Certain improvements and additions are in progress which will make the house better than ever when the work is finished. J. M. Ashworth has the contract.

Weston delegates returned Sunday from the grand lodges of the Odd Fellows and Rebekahs. They report a most enjoyable session at Seaside and an interesting visit in Portland, where shipyard activities offer an unusual sight for Eastern Oregon people. In the party were Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Barnes, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Stanfield and Mrs. C. E. Fisk.

Fred Pittman went to the Umatilla Sunday for another day of fishing and took a dozen fine trout. A number measured a foot or better, the largest being 14½ inches long. The latter was beaten, however, by Harry Beathe, who took a 17-inch trout from the Umatilla Sunday. Bob Proudfit and Happy Graham fished the same stream, using straight flies, and report good catches.

The Umatilla County Agricultural Council will hold its first meeting Saturday of this week in the county agent's office at Pendleton. This organization will take up all agricultural problems that need solving in the county and will put on a county wide program for better agriculture. The county agent's activities will be guided more or less by this organization. The representatives from the Weston section are J. H. Price, Geo. W. Staggs and J. M. Banister.

Homer I. Watts has tendered his services to his country by offering to enlist in the Red Cross work or the war service of the Y. M. C. A. in France, reports the Athena Press. He has written to both branches of the service and will accept a commission from either one. If he enlists it will be for work overseas, and entails at least six months service in each year of the duration of the war, with all expenses borne by the applicant.

A real satisfied farmer's smile is one of the most pleasing sights we have about our place, and now we are having many of them every day because of the arrival and appearance of the

New McCormick Combines

The third carload is here and your time is well invested to come and see them. We will get yours if you place order at once.

Probably the price will be $500 to $700 higher next year. This year's price is the greatest bargain we know of, and it is so because the Government allows the material for the combines, as they assist in solving the labor problem with the farmers. Think of it! If you have a healthy wife, she and you can do your harvesting and Mr. I. W. W. can go to that real warm place—thumbs down.

The makers are anxious to show the world what a wonder they have in this machine.

The new garage of the Weston Auto Co. has been opened to the public, with C. H. Nelson in charge. A goodly showing is made of Chalmers and Dodge cars. E. T. Walker, a mechanic of experience and ability, has charge of the work room.

Memorial Day was very beautifully and impressively observed in Weston. A feature of the exercises at the attractively decorated park pavilion was the eloquent and patriotic address by Professor Thomas of Pasco.

Next week has been designated as "Coal Buying Week" by the Fuel Administration. I would be glad to have your orders. I can fill them now, and later on may not be able to do so. P. T. Harbour.

Time doesn't always fly. It certainly has not been flying for the German people since they were told that six months of ruthless submarine warfare would cause the allies to seek peace.

In the interest of conservation and war efficiency, why not have the correspondents cut out of their cables "the Americans fought bravely, etc., which everybody knows, anyway?"

Poultry fanciers and dealers present the prophecy that eggs will reach $1.25 a dozen. If the hens expect any consideration or attention at the hands of the average householder they will have to fly lower than that.

Of course, if a woman has a sluggish mentality she may not be able to change her mind more than seven times in ordering in the restaurant while her husband is trying to decide whether he will have his eggs up or over.
