Those present at the meeting on Tuesday afternoon were: Mrs. Charles Price, Mrs. Will Price, Mrs. Ella Lavender, Mrs. R. Lieutallen, Mrs. Loveridge, Mrs. O'Harra, Miss Doris Barnes and Miss Alma Barnett.

Mrs. Fannie McBride, who collapsed last week and has since been in a serious condition, was conveyed to Walla Walla Monday for hospital treatment.

Albert Wragar, an old plainsman and buffalo hunter who has also killed his grizzly, was down from the mountains Sunday swapping yarns with Jim Jones.

Judge Marsh has appointed W. O. Read as administrator of the estate of the late Martha A. Read. The appraisers are L. I. O'Harra, E. M. Smith and J. H. Williams.

The Weston garage is being enlarged with an addition at the rear, 40x60 feet in dimensions. George Schnitzer has the contract for the foundation and brick work. The garage front will be remodeled.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Woods were in the city Monday on their return to Walla Walla from Athena, where they attended Sunday the funeral of the late Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Hansell and ex-Senator A. R. Price.

Mr. and Mrs. Joel Davis of Echo were callers Sunday at the DeGraw home. They were accompanied by Mrs. J. C. Davis, the mother of Mr. Davis, and her sister, Mrs. May McKennan of Coffeyville, Kansas.

Mrs. A. D. Marker of Lakeview, Wash., arrived Monday for a visit with her brother, Walter Webb, who came over from the Umatilla river to greet her. It was the first meeting of brother and sister in 19 years.

Corporal Lowell Coleman of Goodland, Kansas, who recently met death in action at the front in France, was a nephew of J. E. Scrimsher of this city. He was only 20 years old, having enlisted at the age of 18.

Charles May brought some wheat down from the uplands Monday that weighed better than 150 pounds to the sack, and was the heaviest received this season at the local elevator. It is of the Marquis variety.

Ted March shot a young bear near the J. E. McDaniel place in the uplands Saturday, but let it get away. The trail of blood was followed by a number of hunters, but the crippled beast finally managed to elude pursuit.

The company which Captain H. E. O'Harra has been commanding at Camp Fremont, Calif., was lately sent to Siberia, and he is now in charge of a company of recruits. He hopes and expects to be ordered to France prior to next Christmas, according to a letter to his brother here.

At the T. J. McCarty place in the uplands a litter of pigs adopted a cow as a foster mother. The cow did not take kindly to her squealing followers, but has been unable to get rid of them. At last accounts they were consuming her milk supply as fast as available, leaving none for the household.

A. W. Lundell has disposed of the Weston meat market to A. W. Sauer and partner of Aberdeen, Wash. The new owners are expert sausage makers, and will give special attention to that branch of the meat business. For the present Mr. Lundell will follow insurance work at Weston, where he is agent of the Kansas City Life.

Samuel Pambrun has lately restocked his fish pond on his farm south of Athena with eastern brook trout, reports the Press, from the state hatchery. A former planting of fish of the same species was lost a year ago last spring when the dam went out, releasing the fish into Spring Hollow brook. Since then a number of the fish have been taken from the little stream, in some instances measuring over a foot in length.

The big association of stockmen organized recently at Walla Walla will meet again in that city the second Saturday in February. A sale of bulls will be held at some convenient time during the winter. Winn, had the honor of being elected president and secretary, respectively, of the new organization, which includes the local stockmen's associations of eight districts. P. A. McBride was appointed as the Weston member of the advisory board.

IT ECHOES IN BERLIN

Every steel steamship turned out in our hundred and more shipyards has more than a million rivets, and the rat-tat-tat of the riveters' "guns" swells in chorus with the clicking of the machine guns in France to drown the dying German cheers over their submarine exploits.

The clinking dollars of the Fourth Liberty Loan will add a shriller voice to that chorus and further lower German morale.

It's easy to cheer for our boys in France. Make your dollars shout in the Fourth Liberty Loan. Germany will understand their voice without translation.

The objectives of the fourth Liberty Loan campaign are to be made more vivid by several soldiers who have just returned from the battle fields of Europe and will relate their personal experiences. D. C. Freeman, assistant manager of the Oregon campaign, is in Victoria, B. C., making arrangements for a campaign tour of Eastern Oregon and Idaho. Mr. Freeman will also get more war trophies and war relics which will be added to the exhibit now being sent throughout the state through the co-operation of Meir & Frank and Robert M. Byrne.

There arrived here the other day in a Ford truck an Oklahoma family consisting of a man and wife and their seven children. Also, they had a dog. They were travel worn and weary and the wife was ailing. It had been their intention, they said, to locate somewhere in the West, but they had changed their minds. So they sold the truck to the Weston garage and bought railway tickets to carry them back to Oklahoma.

Frank O'Harra has taken charge of the clerk's desk at the Golden Rule hotel in Pendleton. Mr. O'Harra, who "grew up" on a Weston farm, is among the best-known pioneers in the county. The Golden Rule is conducted under lease by another well known pioneer, J. M. Bentley, and is an hostelry much favored by the old-timers when they visit Pendleton.

It lies on the Alsea river and Lake creek, part being in Linn and part in Lane county.

Governor Withycombe has formally tendered to Secretary of War Baker the use of the Oregon state fair grounds at Salem for cantonment purposes or as a concentration camp during the course of the war. Supplementing his letter to Secretary Baker with a brief statement the governor declared that if necessary the state would do away with the fair entirely for a year or two, or during the course of the war.

Before the calls come for men in the new registration, the men remaining in class 1 from previous registrations will be called. A dispatch from the provost marshal general's office states that a call will be issued early in October, and that Oregon's quota will be about 652 men. The class of 1917 will be cleaned up first, according to Captain Cullison, followed by the June 5, 1918, registrants, and then those of August 24.
