Clarence Avery is wearing a nice gift from Camp McDougal in the shape of a knitted sweater. It was given him by the camp populace in appreciation of his kindnesses during the summer, and is the work of Aunt Sarah McDougal. This was the nineteenth sweater Aunt Sarah has knitted, the others having gone to soldier boys.

Mrs. Allie Luckenbill, wife of Martin Luckenbill, died Friday of complications following Spanish influenza at the J. S. Harris residence. Burial services were conducted at the cemetery Saturday by Rev. S. E. Powell. Mrs. Luckenbill was a daughter of Louis Killgore, well known Weston pioneer, and had lived in this neighborhood from childhood.

Joe Hodgson is reported to have nearly completed a deal with W. L. Robbins for the purchase of the Weston Milling company's plant. A section of Montana land is said to figure in the transaction, and will pass from Mr. Hodgson to Mr. Robbins. Another pending deal is the sale by Lester O'Harra to Mr. Hodgson of his residence property on Franklin street. If all goes through as scheduled, Weston will be certain of holding Joe as a permanent citizen—whereat the town will of a verity be "tickled stiff."

Monday morning will see the opening of the United War Work campaign in Umatilla county as well as in all other parts of the nation, for raising the biggest gift fund in the history of the world. The goal set for the nation is $170,500,000, and Umatilla county is asked to contribute $45,000. The quota set for Weston is $2150. The coming of peace does not lessen the need for this fund. Even though peace is accomplished today it will take fifteen months to get our army out of France, and during that time the work of the various war relief agencies would be most necessary.

Hugh A. Taylor of Battery E, 146th regiment of field artillery, writes the Leader that he appreciates getting this paper more than words can tell. He is acting corporal on an ammunition train of white trucks, and is on the road most of the time, especially at night. He says: "We go up to the front every night and sometimes we get rather a warm welcome from the Huns—for they do like to shell the roads and get all the trains they can. I have been lucky—not yet getting a scratch—but they did get one of my trucks the other night and both driver and helper."

"EVERYBODY'S DOING IT"

David Harum said: "Do the other fellow what he would do to you and DO IT FUST!"

The above is, figuratively speaking, the status of our dealings with the manufacturers and jobbers.

WESTON GLADLY CELEBRATES THE NEWS OF PEACE

Relying upon the report sent out by the United Press and phoned from the East Oregonian office that the great war was over at 2 p. m. Thursday, Weston celebrated in glorious and uproarious fashion.

In the afternoon church bells and fire bell were rung; a monster bonfire was lit on Main street square; anvils were fired with deafening report, and the entire populace assembled on the street, yelling itself hoarse and waving the Stars and Stripes.

Another public jubilee was held on Main street in the evening, despite the fact that the report of German submission to the armistice terms had meanwhile been denied by the Associated Press. Another huge bonfire, constantly fed with oil, blazed merrily aloft, and an effigy of Kaiser Bill was hanged and burned. This had been manufactured for the occasion by Ralph Saling, and was a very clever imitation of the despised war lord.

Athena also celebrated, introducing stunts of its own. For one thing, no man could appear on the streets of Athena without losing his hat. Several Weston citizens who tried to get through our neighboring town in automobiles had the hats torn from their heads by cheering patriots. It is even reported that one man's pantaloons were sacrificed to make a suburban holiday.
