

IT STANDS THE TEST

The WILLYS OVERLAND has stood the test against all competition and has proven to be the most serviceable car on the market. In selecting a motor car bear in mind that you are buying a machine. The service it will give you depends first of all upon the motor. For on the life of the motor depends most largely the life of the car. Power is imperative. Flexibility is necessary to convenience in operation. Quietness in operation is important, for quietness is truest proof of absence of wear. Simplicity of design, and freedom from complication insures low cost of upkeep, makes little attention necessary. Economy of operation, small consumption of gasoline and oil means low running expense. These qualities and the proportions in which they are found determine the value of an Overland motorcar. These cars are going on the market at the rate of which is fair proof of the satisfaction they are giving the public. They are backed up and guaranteed by the largest automobile factory in the world. With such a company as this at your back you cannot make a mistake in buying one of these cars. Remember you have twenty-eight different models to select from.

Seven Hundred a Day

Come in and look over the list and select your car.

If we know Our George, he will not mind a little thing like being snubbed by a Baker.

Borah, Poindexter et al. are welcome to such comfort as they may derive from the fact that the Huns are also condemning the League of Nations.

If such orderly government as remains to Germany is left with only an hundred thousand soldiers, it can hardly be expected to crush out Bolshevism.

And one reason not hitherto mentioned may be that Woodrow Wilson would rather have a good-sized ocean between himself and the United States Senate.

An Illinois statistician declares that compared to before-the-war prices wheat is up 150 percent, corn 150 percent, butter 190 percent, eggs 180 percent, pork 150 percent and chickens 120 percent, while newspapers are up 15 to 20 percent. Which reminds us, who wants to trade a good farm for a good newspaper? Take your time, as we do not think you'll have to hurry.

Those of us who haven't managed to save much of anything else will have a chance again March 30 to begin economizing on daylight.

France spent more than five billions of dollars for shells and projectiles during the war—and the great pity is that none of them nicked a Hohenzollern.

We are not so much concerned over where the new paved road will go when we know that it will stay.

Helping The Fatherless Children of France is surely the kind of charity that "covereth a multitude of sins."

An American writer abroad discovers that "the Germans are not a lazy people"—which goes to show that Satan sometimes finds employment for busy hands.

It isn't income taxes, but it will hurt if you are careless about it.

Moved Their Cattle
Tom Diggins, Jim Lieuallen, Ralph Tucker and the McBride boys have brought their cattle out of winter pasture on the Donovan stubble fields beyond Walla Walla. The fondness of stock for green wheat occasioned the move, which involved about 350 head. Diggins is feeding on Mud creek and Tucker at his place near Weston. The others are pasturing their stock at the Arthur March place in Vansycle canyon. All except Tucker were unlucky enough to be caught by the Walla Walla county assessor, who assessed the stock while on the move.

Perhaps freedom of the air is as important as freedom of the seas.

The bolsheviks are merely brutal; the Huns were scientifically brutal.

Preventive measures are always applied most thoroughly after it is too late.

Nothing makes one appreciate a record production of coal so much as a cold wave.

Berlin is wrestling with a waiters strike, which is not the worst of its troubles.

How father is going to miss the wages mother brought in from the munition plant!

Money talks, but it's pretty hoarse at present from arguing with the butcher and grocer.

As a Blind Man Sees It

William McCorkell, a well known elderly citizen of the Weston neighborhood, lost his vision about two years ago but is permitting that fact to bother him as little as possible. He amuses himself by composing rhymes on many topics, local and national. Written in joking vein, the one below shows that Mr. McCorkell retains the good humor and cheerfulness that have always been characteristic of him. It was composed last fall during the dry spell and flu epidemic:

You people of Weston, I pray, pay attention

To what I'm about to relate,

Regarding the flu which you very well know

Has spread over the most of the state.

But Weston lies still at the foot of the hill,

And here we have got some good medical skill;

If you'll do as you're told and keep very still,

You never will know you have been very ill.

You might travel this wide world around and around

Before you will find a healthier town.

We have churches and schools and men of renown,

And John Banister, he is mayor of the town.

He'll tell you, don't swear but keep very calm

When he knows that the water is low in the dam.

The dam's up the creek, which you very well know,

To catch all the water that to it may flow.

But sometimes it goes dry—like the town down below—

Where I can get neither whisky nor beer;

If I hadn't gone blind I wouldn't be here.

He Likes Good Reading

John R. English is taking in considerable territory when he writes from Bagdad, California. "Please send me the best newspaper in the world." Natheless, John is a man of perspicacity and knows whereof he speaks. The communication was addressed to "The King of Editors," no name appearing on the envelope, and as a matter of course it reached the Leader man. We are not hopelessly obscure, like a certain editor we could name, only a few miles away.

Mr. English, who is a government surveyor, has been transferred from Nevada to California. He says:

"Things have happened and I am in sunny southern California again, near my old stamping ground of last winter. The weather here on the desert has been ideal except for the hurricane zephyrs. The days are generally clear and warm and the nights just cool enough to make a surveyor glad he is alive if not a live one.

"We think we have an exceptionally good crew of men, and do not have to beg the bums to work a day, as was the case last year. Four different men have come to camp in the past two weeks asking for work, and we did not have to hire them. Last year they were running away from work."

WESTON SCHOOLS

The first and second grades are enjoying the Edison this week.

The second grade have finished "Around the World," a book of travel, and all are sorry because there isn't another one to take its place—as they so thoroughly enjoyed it.

All of the grades are having examinations this week, as the report cards will be given out Monday.

Butter cups and crocus made their way into Miss Tipton's room this week. These have been the first to be seen this year.

No pupil has been tardy or absent in Miss Tipton's room this week.

The fourth grade received one hundred last week in spelling.

Teacher—How is yellow fever spread and how prevented?

Pupil—Yellow fever is spread by mosquitoes and prevented by going to bed early and getting up late.

The pupils in Mrs. Pinkerton's room have organized a girls' sewing club and a boys' agricultural club. This work will be given under the direction of the Oregon Agricultural College. Rev. W. R. Storms will help the boys with their work, acting as leader.

Arville Beamer of the seventh grade has been absent on account of sickness.

The Seniors met in the office Tuesday and organized their class. George Blomgren was elected president, Kendall Smith vice president, Hazel Duncan secretary and Otis Gould treasurer. Miss Simmons was elected as class advisor. The Seniors have chosen their invitations for Commencement and have also ordered class pins.
