The Unmatchable Six

If you are in the market for a car a demonstration will convince you that this car will outperform any light six on the market; that in sturdiness, ruggedness, convenience, finish and class it has no competitor at anywhere near the price—$1395.

BREVITIES

Expert dentistry—prices reasonable. Dr. Sponagle, Athens.

Mrs. J. P. Lieuallen is convalescent, after a severe illness.

D. H. Wilsey arrived home Wednesday from San Diego and Long Beach.

Dave Bonifer of the Umatilla river greeted old-time friends at Weston Saturday.

Grady Herndon and family have moved back to their upland farm from Freewater.

Mrs. E. M. Warren is expected home today from Marysville, Wash., accompanied by her daughter, Miss Fay Warren.

A. L. Douglas motored up from Morrow county Sunday for a short visit. He reports encouraging crop prospects down that way.

A daughter was born Monday morning to Mr. and Mrs. Carl C. Nelson of Weston at the Mrs. Nicols maternity hospital in Pendleton.

Sam Shields of the Shields Fruit Co. was over from the twin cities Monday after spuds—the which he found a rather scarce article hereabouts.

The estate of the late Jesse Reeves, valued at $3000, has been admitted to probate. Mary E. Reeves was named as administratrix, with bonds of $5000.

C. E. Nelson has gone to Portland to assume his duties as state manager of the Equitable Life. The pronounced success made by Mr. Nelson in his chosen work is a source of gratification to the friends of his boyhood in Weston.

Judge Phelps has entered an order that during the pendency of his suit against Leota Dupuis for divorce, Fred G. Dupuis shall pay $125 for her attorney's fees, $25 for suit money and $25 a month for the support of his wife and their child.

The will of the late John S. Harris has been filed for probate. The personal property is left to his son, Elbra S. Harris, and the home place at Weston goes to his stepson, James M. Harris. The remainder of the estate is to be held in trust for his son's benefit.

You must cleanse the stomach and bowels, purify the blood, each Spring, or you leave Winter's germs and impurities in your blood and system. Drive them away, clean out the stomach and bowels—take Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea, a Spring cleanser-purifier. 35c. Tea or Tablets. H. Goodwin.—Adv.

Mrs. R. W. Brown is reported better, after a very serious illness from smallpox at her home near Ione. Miss Hazel Brown had the disease in a mild form, and soon recovered, as did also Mrs. Benj. H. Juday. The condition of Mr. Juday was alarming for a time, but he is now reported to be out of danger.

Ray Sowers, Lowell Walden and Gus Burgy—three Weston boys who were too young for soldiering when the great war was on but want to see something of the world—have enlisted for one year of service in the Army of Occupation. Sowers and Walden left last week for San Francisco, and Burgy went to Portland Monday.

A great Music Festival will be held next week at Walla Walla in connection with the tractor show. A cantata, "The Rose Maiden," will be presented next Wednesday evening, with a chorus of 400 voices. The leading role of "Rose Blossom" will be sung by Lela G. Saling of Weston. At an artists' evening Thursday, Mrs. Saling will sing a group of songs, including an aria from Robert le Diable.

Through his father and guardian ad litem, Walter Webb, Lyle Webb has sued the director general of railways for $20,000 damages. The plaintiff, a popular Weston boy, 19 years old, lost the most of his right hand when serving as bucket tender with an O-W. bridge crew several months ago. The accident is ascribed to faulty machinery and to neglect of the company in failing to warn him against the danger.

Cyril Proebstel is back in Weston again, enjoying home life after nine months of army service. He was a member of Company I, Twelfth Infantry, and was selected for the Intelligence Service—an assignment which afforded him an opportunity for special training along mental and physical lines. He declares that he found the army a good school. Cyril was on board a transport in New York harbor ready to sail for France, when the armistice was signed.

The time of their young lives was had Saturday by the pupils of the United Brethren Sunday school while on their joyous excursion to Pendleton—accompanied by teachers and friends. The Pendleton woolen mills were inspected and picnic lunch was eaten at the Round Up grounds. One hundred people were on the trip and cars were provided by the following: Frank Greer, Joe Hodgson, E. L. Woods, Geo. W. Staggs, H. Waddingham, R. H. King, A. J. McIntyre, Dr. F. D. Watts, Ralph Badgett, Anson Payne, A. W. Lundell, Ajick Johnson, J. H. Beamer and W. S. Banister. The Walla Walla penitentiary will next be visited.

Monday evening, April 28, a ceremonial will be staged at Weston by Al Kindi Temple No. 193, Dramatic Order of the Knights of Khorassan, of Walla Walla. It is expected that at least thirty tyros will cross the desert sands and that the savage Dokie tiger will howl with joy over the prospect of tender meat. A banquet royal will be served by the Pythian Sisters prior to the ceremonial, and the Weston Concert Band will play. Dokies to the number of 150 or more are coming from Pythian castle halls in all parts of the Inland Empire.

The following Easter program will be given Sunday morning at 10 o'clock at the Methodist church: Instrumental solo; song, Christ Arose; prayer, pastor; Scripture lesson, Amegos and Builders; remarks, superintendent; song, Plus Ultra; recitation, Lawrence Barnett; song, Florence and Mildred Ross; recitation, John Powell and Eldred Price; recitation, Katherine Nelson; song, Rock the Cradle—Jewels and Buds of Promise; recitation, Theodore Walden; song, Bible class; an Easter gathering.

H. W. Collins and Elmer Moore have bought the Dr. C. J. Smith wheat ranch of 1640 acres six miles northwest of Pendleton for $164,000. Frankie F. Killgore sold a section west of Helix to F. E. Blinn for $70,000. Lawrence Lieuallen, J. T. Lieuallen Jr. and Thomas W. Gillette have bought the 1200 acre lease and outfit of Charles Tulloch near Cayuse for $50,000. All three deals were made by W. H. Morrison, the big Pendleton realty operator—at one time a student of the old Weston Normal.

Mrs. Virgil Neid left Sunday on her return home to Portland, accompanied by her grandmother, Mrs. Harriet Moser. Mrs. Moser will go to Hillsboro to visit her daughter, Mrs. J. H. Edwards, now residing there. Mr. and Mrs. Neid have bought out a successful grocery business on the East Side in Portland, and will conduct it in future. The store is advantageously located near the approach to the Broadway bridge, its former owner being compelled to retire because of his wife's illness.

Friends, do you know that the Willys-Knight motor car has won the blue ribbon at every show in which it has been demonstrated? That is its record—and it will continue to win honors. Just ask any person who has driven a Knight motor and see what he has to say. If once you drive a Willys-Knight you will never drive any other kind. Come and take a ride in one and you will be convinced. Dr. S. L. Kennard, dealer, Weston, Or.

Having bought a well-established confectionery at Odessa, Wash., E. E. Zehm was here this week to ship some fixtures which he had stored in the Weston Transfer Co.'s warehouse. Mr. Zehm and family have moved to Odessa from Spokane.

Plowing operations are in progress on the Joe Key lands with a new Yuba caterpillar drawing two new four-bottom engine gangs. The outfit is a nifty one—and so, by the way, is the engineer.

Saxon War Minister Killed.

Copenhagen.—War Minister Neuring of the Saxon government was lynched by wounded soldiers from hospitals in Dresden, who were holding a demonstration against the reduction in pay ordered by Neuring, according to dispatches from that city. Another report is Neuring was thrown into the Elbe and then shot as he tried to swim to the other bank.

MAIN STREET LOCATION FOR MEMORIAL HALL

Loveridge Barn to be Purchased and Opera House Moved.

The management of the Weston Memorial Association has decided to purchase the Loveridge barn property as a site for the Pioneers and Soldiers' Memorial Hall. The extra sum needed for this change of plan is in sight, and in view of the many advantages of the new location it was considered advisable to make this arrangement.

The opera house property will be purchased as planned, but the building will be moved to the site of the Loveridge barn. Its route will be through the Watts & Rogers yards, which will present no difficulties to the house movers. The only pain will result to Doc Watts—through the necessity of taking out three maple trees.

The memorial hall and community center will occupy a site 100 feet wide on Main street and 130 feet deep on Broad—a beautiful and sightly location. There will be

THE ROOSEVELT HIGHWAY

It Will Benefit Eastern Oregon in Many Ways.

Though it is a fact not generally known, Tillamook county—the most productive dairying section of the State of Oregon—has to ship in hay and other forage for its dairy herds. On this account farmers of Eastern Oregon profited to the extent of $100,000 in 1918. While the Tillamook section and the coast country in general boast as fertile soil as can be found anywhere, the grasses grown there are not converted into winter fodder—for the reason that the product is more valuable for grazing dairy cattle.

Tillamook county was not the only coast county that proved to be a good customer of the alfalfa raisers of the irrigated lands of Eastern Oregon. All the rest of the seven coast counties purchased hay as well, though in smaller quantities.

The proposed Roosevelt Highway along the coast would open up a great agricultural empire in that region, and in a few years millions of dollars would flow out to the hay producers where now only hundreds of thousands are spent by the dairymen.

In 1918 Tillamook county sold throughout the United States $2,000,000 worth of cheese and dairy products alone. This gives an inkling of what will be the result if millions of acres of land like that in Tillamook are opened up to cultivation and settlement through the medium of the Roosevelt Highway. Based on what has been shown in Tillamook county, $100,000,000 worth of taxable property would be added to the wealth of the state if the rest of the coast region is developed in like manner.

Grass is green every day of the year on the ocean side of the Coast range of mountains, and the climate is so mild that cattle do not need to be kept in barns and fed, as in other dairy sections of the United States—notably in the Middle West and on the Atlantic seaboard. But, as has been stated already, it has been found more profitable to keep the land sowed down to clover pasture for the dairy herds than to raise hay thereon. That is why the coast country will always be a great market for Eastern Oregon hay.

"If ye break
Faith with us who die,
We shall not sleep"

The American Field of Honor

—It is a patch of soil in France where sleep our dead. It is Spring now and poppies—blood-red—cover the fresh turned earth of the graves.

While the marks of the spade still linger can we forget the sacrifice those American boys made—can we break faith?

We can carry on the work they died for. We can keep faith with them. We can sacrifice here and there to take, each of us, our share of the VICTORY LIBERTY LOAN. Keep faith.
