Method of Reproduction

TONES HITHERTO RARE NOW EVER-PRESENT

HERE ARE the secrets of The Brunswick Method of reproduction. Learn how we gained that wonderfully pure tone which has given The Brunswick Phonograph such prestige:

Experts in acoustics have long agreed that superior reproduction depends chiefly upon the reproducer and the way in which tone is amplified.

Until the coming of The Brunswick, many experts thought it impossible to overcome "spotty" reproduction—that is, alternate good and bad tones. Yet all were striving to increase the good tones and decrease the bad.

What We Found

The fault, we found, after hundreds of tests, was largely due to the use of metal in the amplifier or sound chamber. Having no elasticity, metal prevented the sound waves from expanding properly. Strident noises resulted.

So we chose wood, developing the now famous Brunswick amplifier, built ENTIRELY of wood. We tested dozens of different woods, arranging them in numerous shapes. Finally we attained the proper acoustic values.

Brunswick tone is infinitely better, for tones considered rare a few years ago are ever-present in this super-instrument. No one can remain unappreciative of its fullness, richness and clarity. And all appreciate the banishment of metallic sounds. Once you hear The Brunswick, your own ear will confirm these statements.

Plays All Records

Another great feature of The Brunswick Method of Reproduction is the Ultona, our all-record reproducer. At a turn of the hand, it presents to each type of record the proper needle and diaphragm. Each make of record can now be heard at its best, played exactly as it should be. Thus you are not limited in your selection of records to one make.

Before you buy, or even if you already have a phonograph, hear The Brunswick. Put it to any tone test you wish. Ask that the most difficult records be played. Make comparisons. Then let sheer merit decide.

William J. Coates, president of the Spokane Sectional Labor Council and vice president of the Washington Federation of Labor, suggests that I. W. W.reds and radicals be allowed all the freedom of speech they want—that they should be permitted to berate conditions and preach socialism to their hearts' content. But Mr. Coates would couple this privilege with a campaign of silence by all newspapers and periodicals. He declares that not one of the leaders would survive without publicity. If not a line were printed about any of the meetings under any circumstances, Mr. Coates asserts that the radical movement would die swiftly, because the soap box orators thrive only when they are given notoriety. There is meat in his theory.

Seniors Are Banqueted
Mrs. J. H. Williams and Mrs. F. C. Fitzpatrick entertained the seniors and faculty of Weston High School at a banquet at the home of Mrs. Williams Tuesday evening. A color scheme of pink and white was carried out. The rooms were decorated with apple blossoms, pink rosebuds and butterflies. The table decoration furnished a most attractive feature of this delightful affair. The centerpieces were of roses, apple blossoms and fern, with tiny pink May baskets of flowers at each place. The favors were tall stemmed pink roses as nut baskets, while pink shades softened the candle light.

The feast of seven courses was one of the most bounteous and exquisitely prepared ever served in Weston. The menu:

Fruit cocktail
Salmon Anglaise Potato chips
Creamed chicken en cases New potatoes
Peas Rolls Jelly
Coffee Grape sherbet
Salad Cheese straws
Strawberry shortcake
Brick ice cream Cake
Coffee Mints

George Blomgren, president of the senior class, acted as toastmaster. The toast list follows:

Our School—Wilma Harbour.
Our Faculty—Kendall Smith.
Response—F. C. Fitzpatrick.
Our Hostesses—George Blomgren.
Response—Mrs. J. H. Williams.

Besides these, impromptu talks were given by Miss Hollenbeck, Miss Simmons, Miss Brown and Mrs. Fitzpatrick.

The class of 1919 feels a keen appreciation of this joyous affair, which marks with pleasant remembrance their commencement time.

Death of Mrs. Allyn
Mrs. Emma C. Allyn passed away May 2d at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Carmichael in Walla Walla at the age of 61 years. Mrs. Allyn was a native of Illinois, and came to Oregon in 1900. She had since made her home in Morrow and Umatilla counties, having lived in Weston several years. She is survived by the following children:

Mrs. Maggie Calkins of Genoa, Colorado; Ray Juday of Alberta; Riley Juday, late of the United States Army; Mrs. Mary Pellis of Walla Walla, Wash.; Benj. H. Juday of Ione, Oregon.

Mrs. Allyn was an estimable Christian woman and a lifelong church member.

Funeral services were held Monday at the Christian Church in Walla Walla. The remains were then brought to Weston for interment in Masonic cemetery.

Johnson Farm Residence Burns
The farm residence of Alick Johnson—one of the largest and finest in the county—was totally destroyed by fire with all its contents Sunday night, after the family had retired. All the members of the household escaped unhurt, although one of the smaller children was rescued just in time. Mr. Johnson managed to salvage his best Sunday suit through a window, having remembered where he hung it up. The loss is estimated at around $10,000, although no money could of course replace the family keepsakes destroyed. House and contents were insured for $5000 in the Queen.

The fire started in the bathroom and is supposed to have been caused by the acetylene lighting plant. Mr. Johnson will at once rebuild, having decided upon a residence of the bungalow type.

Epworth Leaguers Toast Winiens
The regular monthly business meeting of the Epworth League was held May 2 at the home of Claud Price. There were about forty present and games and music were enjoyed by everyone before the business meeting, which was called to order by the president, George Winn. It was voted that the league buy some new bibles for the church, and enough money was raised to pay for them.

After the meeting closed the people went out on the flat across from the house and played games around a large bonfire. When all had wearied of pastime, refreshments were served. Everyone was provided with winiens and a stick to roast them on.

This delectable feasting over, the merry company sat around the bonfire, talking and singing until all too soon the time came to go home.

Herbert Nunn, state highway engineer, accompanied by Assistant Engineers Bishop and McLeod, County Engineer Libby and County Commissioner Harlow, have left Eugene to select a route for the Central Oregon highway between Eugene and a coast section. This highway was decided upon last year as a project to be built jointly by the state, county and forestry department. A survey was made last year over the summit of the coast mountains by way of fertile Lake Creek valley, but it is said that the engineers were not satisfied with a portion of the route and another one will be selected. The new road will open the Lake Creek valley to out side traffic. On account of poor road development has been greatly retarded. The highway will end at Florence at the mouth of the Stuslav

WESTON SCHOOLS

"All of a Sudden Peggy"—May 17.
Harvey Lundell has returned to school after a few days of illness.
Hazel Duncan spent the week end in Walla Walla.

Minnie Johnson has returned to school after a few days of absence.

"For the good of the family" you ought to come to the High School play.

The Seniors are pleased with their calling cards and the inserts for their invitations which they received this week from the local printer.

Last Friday afternoon the entire High School enjoyed a picnic down the creek. At one o'clock they gathered at the school, then meandered adown the stream until they found a pleasant spot. The afternoon was spent in games. Many snap shots were taken, but the main attraction was the delicious lunch.

The Physical Geography class is planning a field trip for some afternoon in the near future.

The remainder of the High School has been observing that the "Freshies" are staying in after school almost every other evening.

Every member of the cast of the Senior play has been working hard to make "All of a Sudden Peggy" just a little better than any play that the High School has ever given. From "Peggy darlin'" herself to "Lucas the butler" each one is distractingly clever. In the White Hall at Hawkhurst we first encounter the "suddenness" of Peggy. The second act presents the "suddenness of consequences" and arouses our interest and suspense. Not until the last few minutes of the last act are we assured that the "consequences of suddenness" will prove to be "all for the good of the family."

The first and second grades are enjoying the victrola this week.

Joseph Wriggle is in school again after having had the measles.

Miss Pinkerton's room enjoyed a half holiday Friday.

Fifty-three of the students of Miss Tipton's and Miss Colvin's rooms enjoyed the picnic up the creek last Friday afternoon. The afternoon was spent in games and the dinner was served in cafeteria style.

By way of nature study some of the lower grades are watching the development of tadpoles.

The eighth graders are beginning to look worried on account of the final exams, which are to be given May 15 and 16.

Club Entertains Weston Mothers
One of the most delightful social affairs for which the Saturday Afternoon Club has ever been sponsor was that held at the hospitable home of Mrs. F. D. Watts, May 3.

At this time about thirty of the elderly mothers of Weston were the guests of the club. The rooms were tastefully decorated with apple blossoms and lilacs and presented an attractive appearance. Responses to Roll Call and the program numbers were appropriate to the observance of Mother's Day, embracing the following:

Poem, "The Man to the Mother"
—Mrs. DeMoss.
Reading, "A Tribute to Mothers"
—Mrs. Payne.
Old Time Songs—Club members and guests.

The guests were then seated at tables and a delicious luncheon was served by the club members.

Social chat and the renewing of old acquaintance filled the closing hours of the afternoon. The hostess presented a dainty bouquet of carnations to "Grandma" Van Winkle as a tribute to the older guests present.

When good-byes were said, all agreed that this gathering marked a red letter day in Weston's social activities. The club has entered upon its vacation period and will hold no more meetings until October.

You'll be sorry if you miss it.
