Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Lieuallen were visiting in Weston Sunday from Walla Walla.

Somewhat improved in health, Ben Walden, well-known Weston pioneer, has returned from a visit at Adams.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Barnes have returned to their town residence from the foothills, where Mr.
Barnes has finished his seeding.

E. M. Smith, local agent of the Queen Insurance Co., received a check yesterday for $6000 in payment in full of the loss of Alick Johnson.

Mr. and Mrs. Butler Smith sailed recently for their new home in Honolulu. Mrs. Smith was formerly Miss Hazel Dowd of Weston and Washtucna.

Lawson Booher, a popular young man of Athena, passed away Sunday at his home in that city after a long illness which followed an injury received while playing basket ball.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Turner will soon be moving to Pendleton to reside. Mr. Turner has let the contract for a $3700 bungalow to be built on lots which he lately bought in Pendleton.

Mrs. Grace Larkin and Miss Elva Smith of Madras, Oregon, sisters of E. M. Smith, are visiting at his home in this city. Miss Elva Smith is leaving soon for a visit with relatives in the east.

A tract of land containing 11 1/2 acres, near the east boundary of Weston, has been sold by William Brown to a Pendleton buyer for a cash consideration. A. W. Lundell negotiated the deal.

Miss Cleo Beeler left Wednesday on her return to Albany, Oregon, after a visit with Mr. and Mrs. J.
J. Beeler. She will stop en route at The Dalles, where she will be the guest of Mrs. O. G. Beeler.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Robbins are leaving soon for their new home near Kremlin, Montana. Mr. Robbins will accompany a carload shipment of ranch stock, and Mrs. Robbins goes by passenger train.

The H. Goodwins, who motored last week to Portland, write that they had a wonderful trip over the great highway. The beautiful dog-wood, they say, is in its glory, and enhanced the scenic loveliness of the route.

Miss Violet Wriggle, one of the 1918 graduates from Weston High School, who has taught a successful term in district No. 98, has just signed up with district No. 93 near Pendleton for the coming term at $95 per month.

Mrs. Nancy A. Jacobs, the only survivor of the Whitman massacre and one of the most noted pioneer women of Oregon, is visiting Mrs.
H. N. Greer. After going to Walla Walla for a short stay, Mrs.
Jacobs will return to Weston to attend the pioneers' reunion.

At the commercial club meeting Monday evening J. H. Williams generously volunteered to be boss barber this week of the City park lawn. The weekly hair cuts demanded by this cherished institution are becoming quite a chore, but Mr. Williams offered himself for the sacrifice without the quiver of an eyelash (having a competent proxy in view.)

Sergeant James Kirkpatrick, ranking as master engineer, senior grade, is now thought to be on the "big drink," bound for the good old U. S. A. He writes that he was sent to the embarking camp at St. Nazaire, France, May 3, and expected to remain there about five days before boarding a transport.
Sergeants Ernie Blomgren and Sylvan Kennard were not so lucky as Jim and are still on duty at St.
Nazaire. However, they may get away a month or so later.

The question of suitable playground apparatus for promoting the enjoyment of Weston children and of athletic equipment for the use of its older boys and girls, was brought up at this week's meeting of the commercial club. Utilization of the City park for the body-building of Weston's younger people was strongly advocated by a number of speakers. President Porter appointed a committee on ways and means consisting of C. H.
Nelson, F. C. Greer and J. H. Williams.

The Memorial sermon for the war veterans will be preached at the United Brethren church next Sunday at 11 a. m. The young men's class under the direction of their teacher, J. H. Williams, will have supervision of all the services except the sermon. We cordially invite all the veterans of the sixties, the Spanish war and the world war —also the soldiers, sailors and marines—to attend the services.
Their families and friends are likewise invited to be present. E. F.
Wriggle, pastor.

Handling grain in bulk instead of sacks does not appeal to H. J.
Taylor, who has been farming for 40 years nine miles from Pendleton.
The Morning Oregonian reports him as saying that anyone can sit down and figure out that handling in bulk is more expensive than the practice of using sacks. Mr. Taylor also declares that with the guaranteed price of wheat, farmers are no better off than when they were paid $1 a bushel, because of present increased costs.

The 100,000-volt transmission line from the Washington Water Power plant at Long Lake, Wash., to Taunton, the first station west of Othello, has just been completed at a cost of $550,000. It is a link in the line to supply power for electrifying the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad from Othello to the coast.

Recent rainfall will insure a big yield of winter wheat in eastern Washington, according to reports received by Spokane banks.

What with the Memorial Embryo Hall traveling across our main street, an occasional real estate deal, new $5000 or $6000 houses being contracted for, headers, binders, harrows and wagons being spoken for and occasionally a garden hose carried off, we feel we have been fairly busy of late.

We have a choice bunch of
