BREVITIES

Walla Walla announces a Frontier Days show for September 11, 12 and 13.

Miss Opal Winn and Marvin Winn are visiting in Weston from Portland.

The cherry season is on. Anyone desiring cherries will kindly phone or call. John Bonewitz.

Sergeant Jim Kirkpatrick left yesterday for Salt Lake City, where a position has been offered him.

Edgar May and family of Molalla, Oregon, are visiting at the upland home of his brother, Charles May.

Dick DeMoss is now able to travel about again on both his legs, after a period of inactivity due to a badly swollen knee.

Ray Gould is reported to have lost one of his best work horses the other day from squirrel poison at the Gould farm in the uplands.

Andy T. Barnett has resigned his position with the Weston Mercantile Co., and will engage in the business of buying and selling produce.

Walter Beamer arrived Wednesday on a visit to home and friends from Nobleford, Alberta, where he is employed on the big Cameron ranch.

We have moved from the Weston hotel to the Pinkerton residence on south Water street. Good meals served. Board by the week, if desired. L. W. Hebert.

Hyman H. Cohen predicts that Wasco county will have a big wheat crop but will be short in oats and barley. He estimates its wheat crop at 1,150,000 bushels.

Mrs. A. James and Donald James of Pendleton, Mr. and Mrs. Len Douglas of Portland and Florence Douglas of Ione were in Weston yesterday on a motoring trip.

Fred McElrath, prosperous fruit grower a few miles from Freewater, is expecting a bumper crop of tomatoes from two acres of hardy plants, says the Milton Eagle. He estimates a net profit of $2000 from the two acres.

A flying belt at the Hodgson mill put the gas engine out of commission a few days ago, and the mill had since been shut down awaiting the new engine parts. These arrived this week and the mill is again in operation.

A family reunion and dinner were much enjoyed Monday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Johnson. There were present Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Forth and Marguerite and Virgil Forth of McKay creek; Mr. and Mrs. Willard Forth; Guy, Leroy, Herbert and Donald Johnson.

The pay of rural mail carriers out of Weston has been raised $60 a year. J. E. Jones will hereafter receive $1596 for the services of his mules and himself (the mules take precedence) on route one. Ray Gordon will get $1620 on route two. We hope neither will squander his generous stipend.

Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Barnett of Wasco, Oregon, were visiting in Weston this week while on their return home from Indiana. Mr. Barnett, who owns and farms a section of land near Wasco, saw Indiana again for the first time since leaving that commonwealth forty years ago, and says he likes Oregon better. He is a brother of A. J. Barnett of this city.

A war relic which is attracting more than ordinary attention is displayed in a window of the Weston Mercantile Co. It is a Mauser automatic pistol taken from the body of a German officer at St. Mihiel, and was brought home by Major J. W. Ingram, brother of Mrs. Robert Proudft. This weapon, according to the sight gauge, has a range up to one thousand yards.

Hall & Harman, local blacksmiths, are building up a manufacturing business here in Ford and truck bodies. They are not posing just now as "captains of industry," but point out that "large oaks from little acorns grow." Monday they shipped six strongly-built Ford bodies to the Simpson Auto Co., Pendleton, and they are working now on an order for six more from the same company.

This is from the Pendleton Tribune, which could also have said with truth that Mr. Key was at one time a Umatilla county wheat king; Heneke Key is in the city on business from Weston. Mr. Key is one of the pioneer distillers of the county. The old still which he worked still stands near Weston; and he must have made good "licker," for he is 89 years old and still hale and hearty.

Mr. and Mrs. James M. Meynard and their seven small children have located in Weston from Nebraska. Mr. Meynard has purchased the Porter Graham Junior cottage property on south Water street. The family came by auto from Nebraska and made up their minds to live in Weston within an hour after reaching this burg. Mr. Meynard says the town at once looked better to him than any he had heretofore seen on the trip. He will work at his trade of carpenter for awhile, with a view to acquiring land after he becomes more familiar with the country. Mr. and Mrs. Meynard have not only been blessed with the seven children who accompany them but also have a daughter in Portland and another in Seattle.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Rasmussen and three children arrived last week from Denmark to make their home in the Inland Empire. Mr. Rasmussen has not decided where to locate, but thinks he will go into eastern Washington. The family lived in Weston some twelve years ago, prior to going back to Denmark. Mrs. Rasmussen is a sister of Mrs. S. Thorsen.

D. W. Demaris, who is associated with H. E. McQuary in conducting the Milton Garage, was in town the other day and placed some advertising with the Leader for the Fordson tractor. We wish to congratulate Mr. Demaris—both as to the merits of the tractor he offers and his good judgment in the selection of an advertising medium.

A carload of Ford touring cars and roadsters shipped into this important automobile center by the Liberty Auto Co. is being rapidly disposed of. Recent sales were made by Manager Adams to G. W. Staggs, Mrs. Ernest Haney, C. W. Metz and Jones & Jones.

A message received here by relatives announced the death Wednesday at Seattle of Edna, the daughter, two years old, of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Radke. The bereaved mother was formerly Miss Ina Simpson of this city.

The following new members of the local library board were appointed by the council Wednesday evening to fill vacancies: Mrs. S. A. Barnes, Mrs. C. F. Bulfinch and Mrs. C. L. Pinkerton.

Mrs. Alex McCorkell is reported to be critically ill at her home in the uplands. Dr. Best has been in attendance from Pendleton.

Dr. and Mrs. W. C. McKinney and Miss Iva McKinney left Wednesday on a motoring trip to Portland.

Used Ford car for sale. Terms. C. H. Nelson.

"Standard" Theatre, Athena PROGRAM

Saturday, July 5—Douglas Fairbanks in "Headin' South." A splendid Aircraft picture dealing with the love of a man for a beautiful woman—the locale being in Canada and the Mexican border, with snow-capped mountain peaks and magnificent scenery. Over 200 cowboys are used in this picture, and every one of them can take the lid off the pepper can down on the Border.

Sunday, July 6—Pauline Frederick makes her second appearance at the Standard Theatre, in "Resurrection," Count Leo Tolstoy's great story of Russian life before the debacle. In the role of the unhappy "Katusha," Miss Frederick is given unlimited scope in which to give vent to her wonderful dramatic accomplishments. In her delineation of Tolstoy's strongest character, the beautiful and talented actress ascends the pedestal of dramatic success equalling that in her production of "La Tosca." The picture has been sumptuously produced and shows many scenes in the snowy wastes of Siberia.

Wednesday, July 9—Sessue Hayakawa in "His Debt." In this master screen production Japan's favorite dramatic son is shown for the first time at the Standard. In selecting the Mutual pictures program for each Wednesday evening, the Hayakawa series was accepted on the assurance of the producing company that in filming them the highest perfection of photographic art had been attained.

Coming soon—"The star without an equal," Nazimova, in a series of three seven-act super-feature attractions—"Eye for Eye," "Out of the Fog" and "The Red Lantern."
