

ELLISON-WHITE CHAUTAUQUA AT WESTON, JULY 14-18

The White Hussars at Chautauqua

Two Splendid Programs on the Third Day

The White Hussars bring to Chautauqua two of the big musical programs of the week on the third day. For several years they have been heavily featured in the East and are recognized as one of the genuine musical successes of the platform.

This splendid organization is a singing band with a program of unusual variety. They have an ensemble seldom found in organizations of twice their size. They all possess fine voices and are masters on their many band instruments. The best in the musical library is to be found in their programs, balanced with lighter music and popular airs. Their two programs are of such excellence and variety that whatever your musical taste may be you will be genuinely surprised and pleased.

BREVITIES

Wanted—Buick or Dodge roadster. Liberty Auto Co.

School has opened in district No. 57 at the Tamarack church on Weston mountain, with Miss Ruth Dowd as teacher.

J. H. McGibbon and family have returned from a motoring trip to La Crosse and Colfax. They celebrated the Fourth with Colfax people.

Grant Steen of Dry creek will do his harvesting this year with a new Harris combine which he lately unloaded at Blue Mountain station.

H. L. Hedrick has taken a position with the Oregon Life, and has retired from garage work. Mr. Hedrick was here from Pendleton, Tuesday, accompanying D. B. Snyder county manager of the Oregon Life.

E. O. Sempert, brother of Mrs. Fred McGrew, was a guest this week at the McGrew farm. Mr. Sempert has resigned his position with the Tallman drug store, Pendleton, and will hereafter be with the Walla Walla Drug Co.

What would have been considered a huge sum for twelve acres of valley land a few years ago, says the Milton Eagle, was refused by Fred McElrath when he was offered $10,000 for twelve acres a few miles northwest of Freewater. He expects to realize $5000 from the place this year.

Chris Thoeny picked about 100 crates from but little over one-quarter of an acre of Hood River strawberries at his fertile little truck farm on Pine creek above town. Chris reports that his crops of every kind are very satisfactory this season with the exception of raspberries, which only made half a yield. He could sell his place at a very good figure, but doesn't know where he could get a better one.

Jake Bocher landed in Pendleton Independence Day after being ten months overseas with the engineers corps. Jake was a visitor for several days this week at the home of his uncle, W. H. Bocher, near Weston. He will engage in business at Pendleton, where he has bought a half-interest in the Model Cleaners establishment.

The fact that Postmaster Van Winkle was out of his office this week is worthy of comment, as he is almost as steadfast as the eternal hills. Official business only could lure him away, it being the time of year for his annual trip of inspection over the routes with the rural mail carriers.

Gus Burgy has returned from Portland, having found by comparison that life in a rural community possesses greater attraction. Gus will help Iley Winn in farming his newly-purchased wheat ranch near Winona Junction.

J. P. Lieuellen, Weston cattleman, was in Pendleton Tuesday. The East Oregonian reports that he is purchasing a carload of polo ponies for shipment east, but finds few horses of this description in the market.

A little girl arrived June 17 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Will S. Preston in Huntington Beach, Calif.—the second daughter in the family.

The ladies of the Methodist church will give an ice-cream social Saturday evening, July 19, at the park. "Come and we are sure you will enjoy the evening," is the invitation extended.

Charles May, Will Hall and L. H. Dowd, well known upland farmers, left Wednesday for Pine valley. Mr. May seeks a location for a stock farm, and the others want to look at the country.

Hyman H. Cohen, market editor of the Oregon Journal, was in town today on his annual Northwest tour. He says that Washington will have a bumper crop, Oregon's will be medium and Idaho's very poor.

J. S. Mattoon and family, late of Hermiston, have taken over the Weston hotel. Mr. Mattoon is a boniface of experience, and was formerly in the hotel business at Lewiston, Idaho. The Weston hotel will be renovated, re-papered and otherwise improved for the better accommodation of guests.

The inevitable "hot spell" is upon us, the government instrument registering 96 degrees above at Weston Wednesday. Thursday was equally torrid. While cool nights have in a measure protected the wheat, it is feared that the yield will be reduced by the hot wave. Spring wheat is the greatest sufferer.

While the extreme dry weather in June decreased the prospective yield materially, an average crop is expected in the Milton section. Samples from a 200-acre field on the Sam Hunter place and from a 600-acre field on the Higby Harris place farmed by Sam Ingle, indicate a yield of better than forty bushels to the acre.

The somewhat intricate task of turning over a big hardware and implement stock has at last been completed, and Jones & Jones are now in full possession of the Watts & Rogers establishment. They are constantly adding new stock and announce that they are prepared to take care of all the wants in their line of the Weston district, with especial regard to harvest requirements. They contemplate extensive alterations in the main hardware building, which will include a show room for farm implements.

The home of Mrs. W. S. Price was the scene of a happy gathering of the Woman's Mission Society. It is said that "this society is so zealous in good work that neither winter's storm nor summer's heat dulls its ardor." Mrs. E. M. Smith presented the subject of Stewardship. The society decided to hold an ice cream and cake social on the city park lawn Saturday evening, July 19. Visitors present were Mrs. Warren, Mrs. Maybee, Mrs. Achilles and Miss Wilsey. Mrs. Sarah Rowland became a member. Refreshments were served by Mrs. King and Mrs. Lundell, assisted by Miss Anna Lavender.
