THE ECONOMIST'S VIEW

"Perhaps at no other time in this nation's history is the appeal 'Work and Save' as necessary as at present. Manufacturers, financiers, economists and many others including even the more conservative labor leaders, realize that unless we work and work hard, and save and save hard, we are headed for a period of unprecedented hardship. This is not the mere mouthing of a jingo or professional pessimist. It is a fact, and is supported by innumerable signs everywhere. Every hour wasted and every dollar spent needlessly is like a small dagger thrust at the heart of this country. Enough of these dagger thrusts will finally reach the heart itself. The fact that we are extraordinarily rich furnishes no immunity from ultimate disaster if we waste these riches. The thing to do is for each and every one of us to pull in the same direction, towards national economy. Without it we are lost. With it, we can insure our national future."—"Odd Lot Review."

National economy is only collective personal economy. Quit buying and sink your dollars in government securities such as Thrift and War Savings Stamps and Treasury Savings Certificates.

WAR-TIME THRIFT AND PEACE-TIME SAVING

"Either the people as a whole must finance the government, either through taxation or bond purchase, or the government must borrow from individuals, from banks, or from corporations of large fortunes. If it does the latter, these interests hold exactly the same relation to the government that the holder of a first mortgage does to the owner of the property and the payer of the interest. If, on the other hand, the debt is divided between millions of citizens who are the government, the relationship is as different as is a cooperative society from a Urahia Heep."—William Gibbs McAdoo, in Pictorial

Review.

The United States needs the money you invest in War Savings Stamps. Buy them every week. They bring 4 per cent interest compounded every three months. They give you a share in the government of the United States, Un-Ltd.—meaning unlimited.

NEW SAVINGS CERTIFICATES BABY BONDS

The new Treasury certificates of $100 and $1000 denominations are like "Baby Bonds." Here are the chief facts about them:

They are tax free, except inheritance, surtaxes, war profits and excess profits taxes.

They bear 4 per cent interest, compounded quarterly.

They mature January 1, 1924.

They may be cashed at the option of the holder for purchase price plus accrued interest any time before maturity date.

They never depreciate in value, but increase monthly, guaranteed by U. S. Government.

They are registered in Washington, which prevents loss by fire or theft. Each bears inscribed thereon the name of purchaser.

Certificates are issued in book form, each book containing ten certificates.

The $100 certificate costs the same as twenty War Savings Stamps. The $1000 certificate costs the same as 200 War Savings Stamps.

$100 certificates can be obtained at any post office.

Both $100 and $1000 certificates may be obtained at banks.

$100 certificates increase 20 cents and the $1000 certificates two dollars a month in price.

The cost by months is as follows:

Month	$100 Certificate	$1000 Certificate
September	$84.00	$840.00
October	84.20	842.00
November	84.40	844.00
December	84.60	846.00

WHAT A YOUNG MAN KNOWS

"Presumably every young man knows, as a physical fact, that he can do nothing next year which he cannot in some degree, do today. . . . The important question is whether the time will come early enough in life to do him any particular good. A lazy man cannot possibly make himself industrious in the future; or an extravagant man, economical. If it is done at all he must do it at an immediate present moment—at some 'right now'! No man ever saved a penny in the future, or ever will. He has got to save the penny in his hand at the moment or he will be broke to the day of his death. . . . To save the penny in hand he must resist the temptation to spend it. . . . Every year that he does not resist weakens his ability to resist. It is within the knowledge of everybody who has the ordinary circle of acquaintances that, after a certain time, the man who lives up to the limit of his income—which about nine times out of ten means a little beyond—accepts that as a normal condition and just automatically spends all that he gets. . . . If he can realize by thirty, or sooner, that he is spending his future every day, it will be a good thing for him."—Editorial from the Saturday Evening Post.

Start now with War Savings Stamps. Get on a budget basis. Make W. S. S. the first item on the budget. You will have money when the other fellow is looking for a job.

Men with money always refuse to pay the other fellow's price. The other day a wealthy man in San Francisco spent a half day haggling over the price of an expensive automobile. He finally forced the price down fifty dollars.

"Well, I saved that much, anyhow," he said, exhibiting the $50. "I hate to pay the other fellow's price."

Rich men are rich because they buy carefully and save. Get the saving habit. Work over your list of "necessities." Cut out the expensive things. Put your money in War Savings Stamps. They will bring you 4 per cent compounded quarterly.

The price of a $5 War Savings Stamp this month is $4.21. Buy one every week.

WAR DEPARTMENT HALTS DELIVERY OF HAND BOMBS

Grenades Were to Be Given Away as Souvenirs to Stamp Buyers

Delivery of 15,000,000 hand grenades to the Treasury Department to be converted into savings banks for the stimulation of thrift and sales of War Savings Stamps has been held up by the War Department and contracts which the War Department had with the Treasury Department for supplying the grenades were cancelled, according to a telegram received from Washington by C. A. Farnsworth, associate director of the War Loan Organization in the Twelfth Federal Reserve District. No reason was given for cancellation of contract beyond the fact that the War Department has "determined that the distribution of hand grenades as souvenirs should be discontinued."

The grenades in question, known as Mills bombs No. 11, were ready for shipment to the American forces in France when the armistice was signed. At the request of the Treasury Department the War Department agreed to turn these banks over to the Treasury Department for conversion into savings banks, and immediately upon announcement that they would be distributed to the purchasers of War Savings Stamps and Treasury Savings Certificates, millions of orders flooded in. In the Twelfth Federal Reserve District alone banks and trust companies through which the grenades were to be awarded had ordered nearly 100,000 of the souvenirs. These and all other orders throughout the nation will have to be cancelled.

In its telegram to Farnsworth the Treasury Department stated that Certificates of Achievement signed by Secretary Glass will be awarded instead of the grenades to all school children who worked during the vacation to obtain a bank and who bought enough War Savings Stamps to entitle them to grenades.

Discouragement of the "won't-go-home-till-morning" convivialities ought to assist slightly in daylight saving.

Economists do not attempt to explain how impoverished and hungry workers in Berlin can afford to strike.

Travelers of the next generation will no doubt complain when they are obliged to take an upper berth in a blimp.

Most of the world wants to get back to normal conditions, though it has no very clear idea what the new normal is to be.

Austria, which played "follow my leader" with Germany in war time, must continue the game until the costs are met.

Some mechanical genius could make a fortune by devising a neat and effective way of converting flippers into flying machines.

China resolutely declines to drown her sorrows over Shantung by taking up with her old-time national enemy, the opium habit.

As the consumer views it, there is always a plausible excuse for higher prices, but reasons for reductions are far too seldom heard.

Industry is getting a little nervous and more than a little indignant over these mysterious strikes that sneak up behind it and knock it out.

Conditions have moderated to a degree that might be regarded as permitting sauerkraut and wieners to be called by their right names.

Weston Singer is Honored

Mrs. Lela Saling was the honoree at a luncheon given in Walla Walla last Saturday, the following account of which appeared in a leading newspaper of that city:

"Mrs. Ethel Garfield Scott entertained at a six-course luncheon Saturday, complimenting Mrs. Lela Saling. The luncheon was given at the Dacres hotel, and covers were laid for twelve at a charmingly appointed table. The center piece was an immense basket of pink roses, greenery and tulle, with a smaller basket on each side. At the corners of the table, pink candles shed a rosy glow over the scene. The guests included Mrs. Lela Saling, Mrs. Nesmith Ankeny, Mrs. John G. Kelly, Mrs. William Chase Garfield, Mrs. E. N. Christenson of Boston, Mrs. Hal G. Tilley, Mrs. Edgar Fischer, Mrs. Jean Goode, and the Misses Rowena Ludwigs, Lucile McIntyre and Meryl Kepier."
