BREVITIES

Reserved seats are on sale at Frank Price's office for Weston Chautauqua Festival, October 25-30.

The special meetings conducted by Evangelist Sanger at the Church of the Brethren are meeting with encouraging interest. A singing evangelist, Miss Myers of Portland, conducts the song service.

Lost—A back comb set with brilliants. Finder will kindly return to Mrs. R. G. Saling.

Mrs. W. E. Driskell returned Sunday from a week's visit with the R. C. Fetter family, who are nicely located at Freewater.

Under the supervision of James Ashworth, attractive improvements are being made upon the J. Harl Williams residence property.

The twelfth annual Rebekah convention held in this city last Saturday was a decidedly successful event. The lodges sending delegates were those of Helix, Adams, Athens, Freewater, Pendleton and the local organization. The initiatory work was exemplified by Pendleton degree staff. A most appetizing banquet was served at six o'clock by the Weston lodge.

Craig Driskell has accepted a position as guard at the Washington state penitentiary.

The little son of Erma Davidson was operated upon this week by Dr. C. H. Smith for the excision of tonsils and adenoids.

Ed Hall was a visitor in Pendleton Sunday.

A concrete leveling device for the leveling of gang plows—a great convenience that Weston has hitherto been without—has been installed in his blacksmith shop by E. R. Hall.

Charles L. May has added to his holdings in the uplands by the purchase of the C. M. Schneider place—a very desirable quarter section.

George Walden has recovered from his recent illness.

Carl C. Nelson was in town this week from the scene of his activities on the Snake river, where he is connected with the O-W. payroll.

Rev. D. R. Storms is in Portland this week attending the Baptist convention, and will be absent until Monday. Except Sunday school, no services will be held at the Baptist church.

Roy Keizer, late of the United States navy, was in Weston this week to visit his brother, Bert Keizer, and aunt, Mrs. J. W. Hyatt. He served two years and six months—part of the time as American mail carrier in France.

During the course of a four days' hunt last week in the Lick creek neighborhood, J. E. Jones, George Nesbit and R. E. York saw 30 deer at different times, but never in good shooting distance. Snow and fog interfered with the hunters. Jones crippled one deer at a distance of 500 yards, but finally lost it after following it for two days. He has gone to the mountains again this week, accompanied by J. M. Ashworth and Joe Wurzer.

F. J. Van Winkle, one of the first members of the Weston Normal faculty, is reported to be quite ill at his home in Portland.

The Weston Baths, Barber and Tallor Shop will close at seven o'clock hereafter, except Sunday evenings. R. L. Reynaud.

Mrs. R. W. Brown and family are located for the winter in Walla Walla, where the children are attending school. Before leaving the ranch at Ione, smallpox visited the household, causing much discomfort and annoyance but no fatal results.

Hey Winn, a prosperous farmer of this locality, was united in marriage with Miss Weisser, at Dayton, Washington, Saturday, October 15th. The newly-weds then proceeded to Spokane where they will spend a few days and a welcoming serenade is in order when they return home.

October 23rd, Mother Nature donned her cloak of ermine for the first time this season. The small boy possessing a sled is jubilant, and the farmer likewise rejoices over the assurance of abundant moisture.

Louis Oberson, aged 15, won first prizes on 13 varieties of garden vegetables in the boys and girls clubs competition at Whitman county fair held in Colfax. Our children in the B. F. Kammerzell family took prizes in the Wilcox exhibit. Canning competition honors were captured by the Sockum club.

A. D. Grovenor, pioneer rancher on Peone Prairie near Spokane, claims the record for big apples. He is showing four Spokane Beauty apples aggregating three pounds fourteen and a half ounces.

S. A. C. Anniversary

The sixth anniversary of the organization of the Saturday Afternoon Club was very pleasantly observed at the attractive country home of Mrs. J. Claude Price, October 18th. The cheerful glow of the fireplace greeted the guests with the smile of hospitality itself. During the interesting business session the club voted to contribute $50 to Memorial Hall fund, and $25 toward furnishing the rest room.

Mesdames Joseph Hodgson, Elmer Tucker, N. P. Bennett and Robert Blomgren were received into membership at this meeting. The following program was much enjoyed:

Song, "America," Club.
Reading of letter of greeting from Mrs. Geo. Proebstel, Sr., first president of the club, now residing in Portland, Oregon.

History of the Club, Mrs. J. D. Watts.
Achievements, Mrs. E. O. DeMoss.
Edison phonograph selection, "My Ain Country."

Social Affairs, Mrs. E. M. Smith.
Sketch of principal characters in "Scottish Chiefs," Mrs. J. Wurzer.

Appetizing refreshments were served by Mesdames E. O. DeMoss and W. S. Price, the tables being centered with bowls of beautiful cream and yellow roses; covers were laid for fourteen members and three guests, Mrs. Z. C. Price, Mrs. Mary C. McNea and Miss Anna Lavendar.

The club will meet with Mrs. S. A. Barnes the afternoon of November 1st.

RED CROSS GIRLS FEED THOUSANDS OF DOUGHBOYS

Since the armistice, twenty-five canteens, operated by Red Cross Chapters in Idaho, Oregon, and Washington have dispensed 23,379 gallons of coffee, and 224,236 dozen sandwiches, to soldiers, sailors, and marines en route. The hospitality of these canteens was accepted nine hundred thousand times, often by men who would have gone hungry but for the Red Cross service thus rendered. Figures show that these men, through the courtesy of the Red Cross, drank 8,497 gallons of iced drinks; used 6,663 bars of soap, and 37,713 paper towels; ate 57,491 chocolate bars, 16,629 pounds of candy, 14,754 dozen cookies, 74,913 dozen doughnuts, 9,488 dozen hot rolls; wrote 436,400 post cards furnished and stamped by the Red Cross; and to their own discomfort during a certain period, wore 12,250 influenza masks. All this, to say nothing of 22,956 full meals.

During this time 1847 sick men were aided by the canteen, seventy-nine of them being removed from trains as too sick to travel, and receiving immediate hospital attention.

Canteen work is nearly over, but the Red Cross still has vitally important work to do. Every membership in the Third Red Cross Roll Call will be a vote of confidence in the American Red Cross.

"It's a Long Way to Tipperary," but the Red Cross is there.

At the present time in the Northwestern Division alone—comprising Alaska, Idaho, Oregon and Washington—there are 750,868 Red Cross members. Alaska has 13,562; Idaho, 103,055; Oregon, 243,614; Washington, 390,637.
