"OVER THE HILL"

An inch of snow fell last night and this morning—just enough to dress the ground in a mantle of white.

Miss Doris Barnes of Weston was a guest of Athena relatives this week, specially called for attention from the plumber.

Miss Carrie Sharp, who is in government service at Bremerton, Washington, is here for a Thanksgiving holiday visit at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sharp.

Mrs. W. P. Littlejohn and daughter Areta attended a family reunion last Sunday at the home of her brother, Abe Melstrom, in Pendleton, where twenty-eight relatives were seated at the dinner table.

A new heating plant of commodious proportions is being installed in the basement of Watts & Rogers' new store. The plant has sufficient heating capacity to warm the lower and upper floors of the entire building.

Mr. and Mrs. F. S. LeGrow and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph B. McEwen spent the week end in Portland, where the gentlemen attended the stock show. Mrs. McEwen made a short trip to Newberg to visit her parents.

Fire Thursday morning destroyed the awning on one of the windows on the east side of the First National Bank building. Sparks from furnace chimney caused the blaze, which also charred the window casing to some extent.

Mrs. W. R. Taylor and daughter Lucille, who accompanied Mr. Taylor to Portland last week, spent Thanksgiving at the home of Mrs. Taylor's sister, Miss Elbe Smith, in Corvallis. Mr. Taylor returned from Portland Monday.

Miss Doris Thompson has the distinction of being the only girl who enjoyed a ride in the aeroplane last Sunday. The young lady describes the sensation of sailing through the air as a very pleasing one, and says she would not take anything for the experience.

Dogs broke into a corral on the Brotherton place Tuesday night and killed 25 sheep belonging to H. A. Barrett. Others of these valuable animals were wounded by the dogs, which evidently found it easy to get through or over the web-wire fence in which the sheep were enclosed.

One of the most successful gatherings ever held at the High school building was that of last Friday evening, when the opening night of the newly organized Parent-Teachers' Circle took place. Fully one hundred patrons of the school were present and participated in the sociability.

An interesting session of the Sunshine Club was held last Thursday, with Mrs. Fred Gross as hostess at her home on Fifth street. The most important business was that of voting to give on December 17, at the home of Mrs. Charles Gerking, an "old-fashion dress party." The next regular meeting of the club will be at the home of Mrs. Charles Gerking next Thursday, when arrangements for the party will be perfected.

Sunday, J. W. Smith of Milton brought his Curtiss airplane to Athena and a number of people "went up" and experienced the thrilling sensation of flying in the aerial vehicle. No stunts were attempted by the aviator—just straightaway speed fully satisfying his passengers. One exception was noted, however. With Dean Dudley as his fare the airman dipped the nose of his machine to the crowd, with the result that Dean acknowledged he was aware of the fact that the plane was "bowing," alright.

Ed Kilgore, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. William Kilgore, died at the home of his parents yesterday morning, after a short illness. Pneumonia was the cause of death. Mr. Kilgore until recently resided in Idaho, where last winter he survived a serious attack of influenza, and his recent illness is attributed to that. He leaves a little son and daughter by his first wife, and is survived by his present wife and two step-children and by his father, mother and two brothers.

The Tum-a-lum Lumber Company, local fuel dealers, have received instructions from the railroad administration to refuse deliveries of coal to anyone having on hand one week's supply. It is understood the primary reason for the order is that conservation of coal in cars now in possession of the government must be observed to the utmost, and that it is necessary to place further restrictions on deliveries to retail dealers and their deliveries to customers.

A horse ridden by Miss Dollie Banister shied into an auto truck Friday afternoon, with the result that Miss Banister sustained a lacerated wound on one of her limbs. The truck was loaded with heavy timbers which extended over the sides of the vehicle. In attempting to pass where there was a ditch by the roadside, the horse instead of taking the ditch brushed the rider against the timbers. Dr. Sharp dressed the wound.

The Eastern Star Club was entertained Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. F. B. Boyd on Fifth street. Fourteen ladies were present. Miss Doris Barnes of Weston had charge of the entertainment of the guests, and the hostess was assisted in serving lunch by Mrs. F. B. Radtke. The club's next hostess will be Mrs. H. A. Barrett, on the second Tuesday in December.

Word was received Saturday of the critical illness of Mrs. Warren Raymond at North Yakima. Her brother and two sisters—Arthur Coppock, Mrs. W. O. Read and Miss Mattie Coppock—left Sunday and are at present at her bedside. Little hope is given for her recovery, as a slight paralytic stroke followed a long spell of illness.

Mrs. J. C. Martin and son James are down from their home near Roundup, Montana, on a business visit. Mrs. Martin reports that four weeks of snow have already been experienced there, although the ground was bare when they left home. Mr. Martin has a large stock ranch eight miles from Roundup.

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Foss left Tuesday for Spokane, where they spent Thanksgiving with Miss Alyc Foss and Mrs. Nellie Taggart, sisters of Mr. Foss. From Spokane they will go to Moro, Sherman county, to visit at the L. J. Foss home, and before returning may go to California.

For the second time since construction began on the Athena-Pendleton section of the State Highway, fire interrupted production at the "hot stuff" plant when a blaze Monday, shortly before noon, destroyed the top part of the structure.

Miss May Taylor of Eugene was in the city this week in the interests of the Girls' Junior College, an institution in connection with the Eugene Bible University.

Spud Ground Wanted

I would like to lease some spud ground in the Weston neighborhood for several seasons—cash or shares.

Dr. and Mrs. N. P. Bennet partook of Thanksgiving turkey with friends at Hermiston.

"Pody" Duncan has gone to Portland to follow garage work again during the winter.

Miss Ruth Proebstel came up from Pendleton to spend Sunday with relatives and friends.

Dr. F. D. Watts spent the week-end in Spokane attending to important business matters.

D. E. Garret writes that he is much pleased with his new location at Washtucna, Wash.

Mrs. Christina Beeler has been appointed administratrix of the estate of the late John J. Beeler.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Fisk have gone to Idaho to spend the Thanksgiving season with Father and Mother Fisk.

Miss Vida Greer, who is attending Whitman College, spent the week-end with her parnts, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Greer.

Mrs. Minnie Walker came over from Helix Saturday to witness the Thanksgiving Market staged in Memorial Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Kinnear were in from their Couze creek farm Tuesday evening to attend the "movie" at Memorial hall.

Miss Edna Hollenbeck is a guest for the Thanksgiving season of her sister, Mrs. John Carleton Brooks, at Toppenish, Washington.

The Milton road crew is moving to Weston, and will occupy quarters in the Saling brick at the corner of Main and Water streets.

Mrs. R. W. Lieuallen and children returned Thursday from a visit with her mother, Mrs. R. W. Brown, and other relatives at Walla Walla.

Charles May is playing host to his mother and father, who arrived last week from Oregon City to enjoy an old-fashioned visit with their boy.

Lewis Gilliland succeeded in raising some very fine turkeys at his place on Pine creek, and has sold them for the Thanksgiving market at a satisfactory price.

James Harris has been operated upon for appendicitis a second time at Tacoma. It is feared that his condition is so serious as to preclude recovery.

The W. L. Rayborn family left Saturday morning for their ranch on Weston mountain to celebrate the national feast day amid the familiar surroundings of their farm home.

Weston's rising generation is producing some clever cartoonists. The work of Lester Hodgson and Maynard Jones in humorous pictorial sketches is causing considerable comment.

A number of volunteer locust trees in the Normal Heights section were transplanted to the cemetery last week under the supervision of Sexton W. H. Gould. They will henceforth beautify the City of the Dead.

The following Sunday visitors were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Beamer: Mr. and Mrs. Jesse York, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Beamer, Mr. and Mrs. John Mayberry, Mr. and Mrs. Chris Thoey.

Services each Sunday at the Methodist Church as follows: Sunday school at 10 a. m.; preaching at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m.; Epworth League at 6:30 p. m. Prayer meeting Thursday at 7:30 p. m. All are invited to attend all of these services. A. J. Starmer, pastor.

Mesdames C. H. Smith and Robert Proudft motored over from Athena Saturday afternoon to inspect the various booths comprising the Thanksgiving market held at Memorial hall. The ladies were well supplied with cash and made generous purchases of delicacies and staple articles.

Weston Mountain spud men have been taking advantage of the good weather to dig and market their crop. The yield has not been up to standard, averaging around 40 sacks to the acre, but at prevailing prices the humble spud is fattening the bank accounts of not a few mountain growers.

Mrs. C. C. Chase of Wallula, Wash., visited friends in Weston during the week while on her return from Pendleton, where she attended the celebration of the 25th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Jones. Mrs. Jones was formerly Miss Etta McDaniel of Weston. Mrs. Chase was accompanied on the trip by her two sons.
