Ford roadster for sale. Liberty Auto Co.

See us for bob-sleds. Watts & Rogers, Athens.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Hodgson of La Crosse are visiting in Weston.

Mrs. W. E. Driskell has been quite ill the past week, but is improving rapidly.

J. M. Wroe, A. C. Gould and John Hyatt were recent visitors at Burbank, Wash.

C. M. Schneider and family left Thursday for their new home near Washtucna, Washington.

Mrs. Cora Billings of Walla Walla is spending a few days at the home of her sister, Mrs. Ernest Ross.

Lowell Hyatt is here from La Crosse, Washington, looking the old town over to see if it is still all here.

Mrs. J. M. Banister is bemoaning the loss of a diamond solitaire which dropped from her ring some time during Tuesday.

W. H. Booher is feeding a large number of China pheasants and bobwhites in the barn-yard on his ranch south of town.

Apples for sale—extra good culls, good keepers, any amount; 1/4-mile east of Cobb station on the Interurban. B. F. Haley, Freewater, Or.

Miss Esther Williams, who is attending Mills College, plans to arrive in Weston Sunday to share in the Yuletide festivities at the J. Harl Williams home.

Mrs. R. G. Saling came home from Portland Sunday for a holiday visit with her family. Mrs. Saling has been taking lessons in both voice and piano at Portland.

After recovering from smallpox, Bobby Graham was threatened this week with appendicitis. While very serious the first of the week, his condition has since improved.

Rev. A. J. Starmer has bought a new Ford touring car from O. A. Adams of the Liberty Auto Co. Mr. Starmer has driven his old Ford no less than one hundred thousand miles.

Miss Thelma Anderson is expected to arrive from Homestead, Oregon, Monday to pass the holiday vacation at her mother's home in this city. Miss Anderson is a member of Homestead's school faculty.

Basket mountain is temporarily losing population. Clarond Rhea and family have moved to the Umapipe farm traded by Sam Key to Tom Gould. Floyd Fox and William Warfield have moved their families to Freewater for the winter.

Mrs. Leon Lundell has returned from a visit with relatives at Milton. During her sojourn in the neighboring city Mrs. Lundell underwent an operation for removal of tonsils and adenoids, from which she is recovering satisfactorily.

The district convention of the Knights of Pythias has been postponed until Monday, December 22, cause of unfavorable weather. It will be held in the I. O. O. F. instead of the Eagle-Woodman hall.

Weston Mountain thermometers registered twelve degrees below zero Friday morning. Robert Hopkins sustained a serious loss in the freezing of 500 sacks of potatoes. I. C. Hopkins and Tom Booher also lost a quantity of tubers in the same way.

A "little palace on wheels" is an apt description of the Light Four Overland sedan bought by Dr. Watts from the local agent; Dr. Kennard, as a Christmas present for his son Worth. It is a beautiful car, elegantly appointed and finished in automobile blue.

Asked about the cattle situation, J. P. Lieuallen, president of the stockmen's association, reports it as very satisfactory. Stock came out of the mountains in good shape and is so far doing well on winter pasture in the stubble fields. Fortunately for the stock interests, the severe cold snap came early in the season.

Delayed by the snowdrifts, J. E. Jones did not get in with the mountain mail Monday until eight o'clock. At one place he was an hour in carrying his government mules over crusted drifts for a distance of one-quarter of a mile. Tamarack church, about ten miles east of Weston, is now the farthest point on Carrier Jones' route, and there he encountered 18 inches of snow.

Rev. W. S. Payne returned home Monday from an extended period of evangelistic work in behalf of the Methodist Episcopal Church. At Buena, Washington, he conducted a fortnight's revival that resulted in 104 conversions. He was at Grace Church, Walla Walla, for five days, and there 35 conversions were his reward. Cold weather interfered with his meetings at Selah, Washington. He goes to Toppenish January 11.

The Christmas Bazaar held Saturday afternoon and evening at Memorial Hall under the auspices of the Woman's Society of the M. E. Church, South, was a decided success notwithstanding snow and extreme cold weather. Mrs. J. H. Price presided over the fancy work booth, Mrs. E. M. Smith and Mrs. A. J. Starmer were in charge of the cooked food display, and Mesdames Will Price and Charles Price superintended the serving of the appetizing supper. Miss Edna Hollenbeck's Sunday school class and the Campfire Girls also had booths with ample supply of dainty and novel "gifties". The proceeds amounted to about $75.

Herman Staggs, senior at Philomath College, has returned home for the Christmas holidays. He says that Philomath was wholly unprepared for the severe cold, which reached a minimum there of 18 degrees below zero with two feet of snow. In a region 100 miles south of Portland and 40 miles from the coast, this sort of weather was unprecedented. Water pipes are not buried deep at Philomath and bursted all over town, while the populace shivered in warm-weather houses.

The fiercest winter weather in years in this section—some say the coldest ever known—broke Tuesday with a warm and welcome chinook. It first visited the mountains, and then swept down upon the lowlands, dissipating a prolonged cold snap. The lowest temperature was reached Friday night, when the official record was 22 degrees below zero. Ukiah, in the south end of the county, reported an estimated minimum of 52 degrees below, the bulb of mercury having frozen at 48 below.

Miss Stasia Walsh will hold no more classes in Home Hygiene and Care of the Sick until after January 5. Cold weather is given as the reason for postponement.

Mrs. Barnes is S. A. C. Hostess

A delightfully informal meeting of the Saturday Afternoon Club was held at the home of Mrs. W. A. Barnes December 13. Owing to severe weather conditions many members were unable to attend, although seven responded to roll call. Program numbers were as follows:

Paper—Oban, Entrance to the Highlands—Mrs. Ellsworth Woods.

Paper—Inverness, Capital of the Highlands—Mrs. F. D. Watts.

Paper—Aberdeen, the Granite City—Mrs. L. R. Van Winkle.

An hour of social chat followed, during which time light refreshments were served by Mrs. Joseph Wurzer and the hostess.

Mrs. R. Morrison will entertain the club at her home the afternoon of December 27.

Star and Masonic Elections

Crescent Chapter No. 47, Order of the Eastern Star, elected officers as follows at a recent meeting:

Norah Watts, worthy matron; C. E. Fisk, worthy patron; Catherine Smith, associate matron; S. A. Barnes, treasurer; Alice Price, secretary; Gladys Smith, conductress; Mamie Barnes, associate conductress.

Weston Lodge No. 65, A. F. & A. M., has chosen officers as follows: Joe Hodgson, worshipful master; Clark Wood, senior warden; C. E. Fisk, junior warden; L. B. Davis, secretary; S. A. Barnes, treasurer.

A joint installation is planned for Friday, December 26.

"SAVE AND PAY UP"

Reports from Washington state that Christmas shoppers are spending $265,000,000 a day on luxuries. For the shopping days of December this would approximate three and one-half billion dollars.

The Government views such squandering of money as a serious menace to our economic and social stability, and appeals to the people to give War Savings Stamps and Treasury Savings Certificates as Christmas presents.
