Richmond—Blomgren

At five o'clock on Wednesday afternoon, March twenty-fourth, a pretty, but simple wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Richmond, 71 Park street, Walla Walla, when their daughter, Nellie Bernice, became the bride of Mr. Ernest L. Blomgren of Seattle. The living rooms were prettily decorated in potted plants and bouquets of daffodils.

Proceeding the ceremony Miss Ruth Woodruff sang "At Dawning."

To the strains of the wedding march from Lohengren, the bridal couple approached the improvised altar, unattended. The Rev. M. E. Bollen D. D., pastor of the White Temple Baptist church was the officiating minister, and the ring service was used.

The bride wore a beautiful gown of white tricolette, richly embroidered and carried a bouquet of white carnations.

After the ceremony dainty refreshments were served. Only immediate relatives and intimate friends of the families were present.

Mrs. Blomgren is well known locally, having been for several years one of the leading contralto soloists of the city. She is a graduate of Whitman college of the class of 1914 and received her degree in music from the same institution in 1918. She spent last summer in Seattle as a voice student of Edmund J. Myers of New York City.

Mr. Blomgren is the son of Joseph Blomgren of Weston, Oregon. He received his business education at Northwestern, Spokane, and Wilson's Business college, Seattle. He enlisted in the U. S. army on April 10, 1917, where he served until July 1919, having spent twenty months in France. Since his discharge he has been in the employ of the Smelter Steel Co. of Seattle.

Mr. and Mrs. Blomgren left for a short wedding trip, after which they will be at home at the State line, where Mr. Blomgren has recently acquired farming interests.

Saturday Afternoon Club

The March 20th meeting of the Saturday Afternoon club was held in the social room at Memorial hall, Mesdames Ellsworth Woods and Leon Lundell being hostesses for the affair. As each member's name was called she contributed a dish-towel to be added to the kitchen furnishings.

Following the business session, an interesting program consisting of the following numbers, was given:

Piano Solo—Mrs. F. D. Watts.
Paper, Donegal—Mrs. Joseph Hodgson.

Reading, Legend of the Four Swans—Mrs. S. A. Barnes.

Phonograph selections.

During the social hour an appetizing collation was served by the hostesses.

Memorial Hall Annual Election

We hope every subscriber, whether a $10 member or not, will be present at Memorial Hall March 29, 1920, at 7:30 p. m., for the election of Board of Directors for the coming year and such other business as may properly be taken up at this time.

F. D. WATTS, President.
MRS. H. GOODWIN, Secretary.

JAMMED!

"Jammed" doesn't half describe it. I've been in the sales' business a long time, but really and truly I've never seen such a crowd, such a thrifty bunch of bargain-seekers. They just simply pushed and shoved, pulled and hauled. They carried it away in armloads. I actually saw a man going up the back alley with a wheelbarrow full, and the best part of it all was that everyone I talked to as they were leaving the sale said: "I am coming back tomorrow." If you were among the unfortunate ones who for some reason could not attend the sale the first few days, for pity's sake get down there Saturday. I am banking on you and will be disappointed if you are not there.

G. T. GREGSON.

Successful? Yes Why?

Because, in the first place, we have given the people everything promised in our advertising; and the fact of this selling event coming as it does in the very heart of the season, and the utter disregard for rising wholesale prices, the very timeliness of the event itself, is it any wonder that the buying public stands aghast at our wonderful methods of merchandising? And the beauty of it is, it will get better as it goes along.

J'ever Chase a Turkey?

We're going to turn a whole flock loose in front of the store Saturday morning at nine o'clock. The catcher is the keeper. Really, you can't explain it very well in writing, but I'll guarantee you never saw anything like this for a fun-maker; and besides, you may get a fine fat turkey for Sunday dinner.

It's a Free-For-All---No One Barred

Remember, It's Saturday Morning at 9

Extra Specials

Every little while during this sale there is something extra special pulled. Keep your eye on that man Gregson, as you can't tell what he will do next. That will mean dollars to you. Aside from the turkey chase, there is going to be another extra Saturday morning at nine o'clock. Come in Friday and we will tell you about it. Then be here Saturday at nine.

Open Evenings

For the benefit of those who are busy and unable to attend the sale during the day, we are staying open evenings, and so far the crowds have been as great as during the day. Come on down and spend the evening with us. It will be worth your while to see the display if you don't buy a dollar's worth. Music n'everything.
