SUMMONS

In the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon for Umatilla County.

Birdia Logan, Plaintiff, vs. Robert Logan, Jr., Defendant.

To Robert Logan, Jr., the above named defendant:

In the Name of the State of Oregon: You are hereby summoned and required to appear and answer the complaint on file in the above entitled suit on or before six weeks from the date of the first publication of this summons, to-wit, on or before the 16th day of July, 1920; and for want of such answer, the plaintiff will apply to the court for the relief demanded in the said complaint, to-wit, for a decree that the bonds of matrimony and marriage contract heretofore existing between the said plaintiff and the said defendant be forever dissolved and that the said plaintiff, Birdia Logan, be granted an absolute divorce from the said defendant, Robert Logan, Jr., and for such other relief as it to the court seems equitable.

This summons is served upon you by publication in the Weston Leader, a weekly newspaper of general circulation, for six consecutive weeks beginning with the issue of the 4th day of June, 1920, to and including the issue of the 16th day of July, 1920, pursuant to order for said publication made, dated and entered in the above entitled court and cause on the 1st day of June, A. D. 1920, by the Hon. Gilbert W. Phelps, Judge of the said court.

Dated at Pendleton, Oregon, this 21st day of June, 1920.

FRIDAY, JUNE 4, 1920

Entered at the postoffice at Weston, Oregon as second-class mail matter.

This frank utterance from Up-to-The-Times Magazine applies to more places than the Garden City: "Before Walla Wallans attempt to discuss at length or get wildly excited this year over national politics it might do them no harm if they should first try to pick up a little information about political matters in their own city, county and state. It is a question today if over 50 percent of the people of Walla Walla know, or care to know, whether or not their city is governed by the commission plan or aldermanic plan. An election today in Walla Walla nicking taxpayers $100,000 more or less a year would not create much of a stir. Indeed, it is a question if as many as 15 percent of the voters would take enough interest in the measure to vote one way or the other. What the rank and file of the people of this country do not know about their own politics and government is really amazing; and their lethargy and lack of half-way intelligent interest in such matters is little short of astounding. Under such conditions it is no surprise to those who think a bit that the agitator and quack find the political field always a ripe one for their nefarious activities. If each citizen would attend to his political duties in patriotic fashion a big end of the political evils in this country would soon disappear, or be reduced to the minimum."

It is quite evident that the cost of a presidential primary campaign is out of all proportion to the value of its influence on the sovereign voter, who almost invariably has his mind made up from his pre-campaign reading of current and not campaign literature. The result would have been very little different, we fancy, if all the presidential candidates' boosters had kept their money in their pockets. We would like some day to see an election held without all this fuss and feathers, this flood of talk, this avalanche of publicity.

If there are no buyers at high prices there will be sellers at lower prices. This fact is made apparent by the wave of price cutting in commercial centers throughout the United States that has followed a lull in the flood of indiscriminate and reckless buying. Except as to essential foodstuffs and indispensable articles of clothing, the American people can protect themselves against the profiteer. They simply do not need to pay his prices for the many things they do not have to buy.

The democratic donkey isn't twins, that it is going to try to follow both Wilson and Bryan at the San Francisco convention. We predict that less attention will be paid to what these opposing leaders regard as vital, and more to what the donkey itself regards as expedient.

A recent writer remarks: "No man, I think, can remain long silent under the stars, with the brooding, mysterious night around about him, without feeling poignantly how little he understands anything, how inconsequential his actions are, how feeble his judgments."

Perhaps that Hungarian seeress who so confidently predicts what sort of a man the next president of the United States will be is not a seeress at all, but merely the pest in Budapest.

Spokane is the only city in the 100,000 class that so far shows a loss of population. It could still part from a joblot of mining stock brokers without irreparable loss of prestige.

A Birthday Surprise

M. W. Pedersen was the surprised and highly gratified guest of honor at a birthday party given Saturday at his home on the McGrew place. His 38th year was thus auspiciously ushered in. The dinner table was pleasingly decorated with ferns and sweet peas, and candles with silken shades in silver candlesticks cast a soft radiance over the festal board. The place cards were unique and attracted unusual attention, while novel birthday presents enhanced the prevailing spirit of merriment. A victrola concert followed the feast. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Newt O'Harra, Mr. and Mrs. P. C. McCausland, Mr. and Mrs. Albert O'Harra, Mrs. R. A. Jones of Portland, mother of Mrs. Pedersen; Miss Eliza Morrison, Mr. Lester O'Harra, Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Pedersen.

Closing Up the Gap

The hardsurfacing of the State Highway from Athena to Pendleton was completed Tuesday evening, and the Warren Construction company is now centering its forces on the work of grading and hardsurfacing the Athena-Weston section.

The highway between these two towns is now closed, travel being diverted from Athena north, up Fifth street, and from Weston via the brick yard north, to the county road near the O.W. station, thence west and south to Athena.
