

Special Mid-Summer Price Reductions DURING JULY

A GOOD WILL DRIVE THAT MEANS BIG SAVINGS FOR THRIFTY BUYERS

All through the month of July we are going to offer some very special values on high quality merchandise—goods that you can and do use every day. The Price Reductions are remarkable, in view of the fact that we cannot replace these goods today at the same prices that we are offering them for. Throughout the store, selections have been made of those articles that you will want most at this time of year. These goods have been selected and underpriced to please you, as we know of no better way to retain Goodwill than to offer reliable merchandise at prices that mean great savings over today's regular market quotations. Every Department in this Big Store will have special items on sale that will appeal to you from a money-saving standpoint as well as from the Quality side. It means first class goods at genuine reductions—reductions that will put money in your purse.

BREVITIES

Geo. Carmichael, well known as a pioneer farmer of the Weston neighborhood, is reported to be improving at the Good Samaritan hospital in Portland after an operation for ulceration and adhesions of the bowels.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hyatt are visiting in Weston and vicinity from La Crosse, Wash.

Vernon O'Harra's knife slipped while he was cutting off the limb of a tree the other day, and the blade cut a deep gash in his left biceps. Two stitches were required to close the wound.

Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Adams "left between two suns" about one o'clock Sunday morning on a Ford excursion for one week to their former home in Salem.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Gould left Sunday on their annual camping trip which will keep them away from town until September 1. The first part of the vacation period will be spent at Bingham Springs. Later they will join the contingent recreating at Camp McDougal.

F. T. Harbour and family returned Monday from a camping trip to Meacham creek and the Umatilla river. Mr. Harbour combined business with pleasure by winding up the county assessment for his territory.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Key returned Monday from Portland, where Mrs. Key sustained an operation for goitre that resulted in her complete recovery.

A daughter was born Monday afternoon to Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bergvin at their home on the reservation.

L. B. Davis took a couple of days off last week and accompanied a commercial man on a trip to his old "stamping ground" around Lehman and Hidayay springs.

Lester Hodgson has so far recovered as to be able to come home from the Walla Walla hospital. He looks as cheerful as though surgical operations were a joke.

George Culley, an old timer of Weston, was back last week for a few days and may again cast in his lot with this community.

Misses Irene Banister and Esther Williams extended delightful hospitality Friday evening when they entertained a number of young people at the home of Miss Banister in honor of Worth P. Watts, who is soon leaving Weston to reside elsewhere. The early evening hours were devoted to cards, after which a dainty three-course lunch was served by the hostesses. The honor guest then gave an impromptu talk which smote the heart strings of all who sat in the happy circle of his pleasing personality. The guest list included: Misses Hilda and Marvel McRae of Walla Walla, Vida Greer, Hazel Duncan, Anna Lavender, Vergie Key, Lola Key, Esther Davis, Vira Morrison, Hortense Baker, Dorothy Proebstel, Helen Johnson, Minnie Johnson, Mrs. Frank Smith, Mrs. Curran McFadden; Messrs. Lowell Duncan, William VanWinkle, Lewis VanWinkle, Eugene Smith, Worth Watts, Lyle Webb, Gail Williams, Derwin Hall, Carl Brandt, Rulon Smith and Raymond Banister.

Stephen and Afton McIntyre left Sunday for Bingham Springs, where they will remain until after the Fourth.

Miss Frank Harris Davis, who is spending the vacation with relatives in the Willamette valley, writes to a local friend: "How I miss the big hills around Weston! I do not feel the same down here in the valley. Wouldn't it be a calamity if I were to lose the forty pounds of flesh gained this winter past!"

W. L. Smock was in town Monday from his mountain farm.

Walter Gilmore, a diligent tiller of upland soil, was in town last Friday and was a dinner guest at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Ray Gordon.

I. C. Hopkins was calling upon local merchants Tuesday.

Swas-Te-Ka Campfire held an interesting session in the club room of Memorial hall Saturday afternoon.

Honors were awarded to Bertha Starmer, Blanche Thorsen, Kathleen Williams, Mrs. F. D. Watts, Mrs. Wil- Pedersen and Charlotte Hass. A pleasing program was presented, after which a lunch embodying sundry of the good things of life was served by Misses Thorsen and Hass.

John Boly of Elgin, Oregon, is visiting at the farm home of his niece, Mrs. Richard Morrison.

Mrs. John Walden came down from the mountain ranch Saturday for a day's shopping at local emporiums and to inform her friends of the beauty of rose-bordered woodland roads.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson H. Jones, Maynard and Audrey Jones arrived home Monday from their motoring trip to Portland and Seattle. They journeyed going over the Columbia River highway and returned via the beautiful Snoqualmie pass, and report a most delightful scenic trip. Mr. and Mrs. Jones visited relatives in Portland and Seattle. Mr. and Mrs. Smith attended, respectively, the grand lodge of Masons and the grand chapter of the Eastern Star at Portland. At Seattle they visited Mrs. Smith's brother, and also found and visited eight cousins of Mr. Smith whom he did not know were there. Three of them, the Fish Bros., own and conduct one of the largest poultry enterprises in the Northwest. The pilgrims found gasoline a scarce article indeed, and would never have gotten through but for the help of relatives and friends.

Elder Ebey of Fruitland, Idaho, conducted services Saturday and Sunday at the Church of the Brethren. Together with Mr. and Mrs. Ulerly of Reed and Hawley mountain, Elder Ebey was entertained at dinner Sunday by Mrs. Susan Tucker.

Mr. and Mrs. William Driskell, Mrs. Bertha Sowers and Miss Evelyn Sowers spent the week-end in Free-water as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Fetter.

Mrs. M. W. Pedersen and mother, Mrs. Jones, are in Pendleton this week visiting with relatives and friends.

Miss Vera Blinn delivered two very instructive addresses at the United Brethren church last Wednesday. Following the afternoon talk, an informal reception was given in honor of Miss Blinn by the ladies of the church. An appetizing lunch was served and a period of good fellowship enjoyed by all present.

Mrs. Minnie Walker motored over from Helix last week to visit with relatives and look upon the familiar scenes of her old home town.

J. R. English left Tuesday on his return to government surveying duty in California. John arises to remark that he wants his Weston friends to hunt him up and visit him when they go south, Jim McDaniel having been the only one so far who has taken the trouble. He can always be located through an inquiry at the U. S. surveyor general's office in San Francisco. He says he will not be back again until the next pioneer picnic.

Miss Gertrude Van Winkle returned Tuesday from her Portland visit.

Roy Lieuellen and family returned Tuesday from Ione, where they visited the R. W. Browns. They found the Morrow county crop outlook good, Mr. Brown having a 30-bushel yield in prospect.

George A. Hartman, cashier of The First National Bank of Pendleton, and Mrs. Hartman have returned from an excursion of four months in the Orient.

An Enjoyable Event

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Williams entertained the board of directors of the Weston Mercantile company and a few other friends at their home last Thursday evening in honor of Dr. and Mrs. F. D. Watts, who are leaving Weston in a short time to reside in Athena. Guests were welcomed with an individual ease and comfort and the cordial hospitality which always make parties at the Williams home delightful affairs. Original methods of entertainment kept everyone in a merry mood until midnight, when a delicious four course supper abounding in "joy-of-eating" foods was served by the Misses Esther Williams and Anna Lavender. Mr. Williams acted as toastmaster and called upon Mrs. Lilian Fredericks, Mrs. F. D. Watts, Mrs. Wil- liams, Mrs. H. Goodwin, Sim J. Pedersen and Charlotte Hass. A brief talks. All responded in character which a lunch embodying sundry of the good things of life was served by Misses Thorsen and Hass.

The beautiful floral decorations, the handsome gowns worn by the ladies present and the atmosphere of friendliness prevailing all contributed to make the affair a delightful social event.
