BREVITIES

Cash for chickens. J. R. Reynolds.

Mountain strawberries in these parts grow to be large as well as delicious, but Harry Beathe brought down some the other day and left them at the bank that were a bit larger than merely large and would make a good "bait" for a Brobdignagian. They measure from two to no less than three inches across.

Iley Winn and son Marvin are looking after business matters in connection with the Winona ranch this week.

During the electric storm last Friday a grain fire was started by lightning from a wire fence between the Banister and Saling fields below town. An alarm call for help was sent up town, but before many volunteers had reached the scene the fire was out. Several shocks of hay were destroyed.

The Athena-Weston section of the state highway is now hardsurfaced to the John Banister farm house, with the exception of a couple of fills, which are being left to settle before hardsurfacing. The Athena-Weston road is now open for travel, eliminating the detour north and east from Athena.

Five threshing outfits are reported to be in operation in the region of lower Dry creek. J. N. York was down that way the other day and says that wheat on the old Sam Beamer place, now owned by Mr. Brewer, is making 26 bushels to the acre and testing No. 1. This is a better yield than usual off the same ground.

During the past week an occasional cricket has added his lonesome note to nature's orchestra which furnishes humble music throughout drowsy summer evenings. There is a hint of autumn in his tone, as though he foretold the end of summer joys yet scarce begun.

Clay Smith came in recently from southern Idaho, and is at the Selmer Thompson place on the mountain.

Mrs. L. M. Funk and Miss Virginia Funk of Walla Walla are sojourning at Bingham Springs and will later go to Cold Spring camp.

It's Very Fine to Know

That harvest will soon be upon us and that it will be SOME HARVEST.

That those who have been away camping are glad to get back.

That already fall goods are on the way.

That the style and quality will please the most exacting.

That the new "Born" samples are here for men's special order suits.

That the quality looks like good old days before the war.

That the price is lower and we are assured deliveries will be satisfactory.

That for the girls the accordeon pleating is the thing for fall.

That we will have this done for you. We also have the material for these beautiful garments.

That the auto camping grounds need more lights and signs for the convenience of the scores of people who use them.

That we are selling pure country lard in the grocery.

That a ten-pound pail costs you only $3.00, a five-pound pail only $1.50.

That if you will bring your own pail we will fill it for you at 25c per pound.

That the foxtail should be cut from the vacant lot; also from the parking in front of your home. If you don't do this, you may have a fire.

That you should assist the water superintendent in his endeavor to conserve the city water supply, that no shortage occur.

That our grocery is full of good things to eat, fresh from the market and garden.

That the grass in the City Park was not cut last week.
